ALMA MATER

In Tennessee's fair Eastern mountains Reared against the sky Proudly stands our Alma Mater As the years go by.

Forward ever be our watchword Conquer and prevail Hail to thee our Alma Mater Milligan, All hail!

Cherished by our sons and daughters Memories sweet shall throng Round our hearts, our Alma Mater As we sing this song.

Forward ever be our watchword Conquer and prevail Hail to thee, our Alma Mater Milligan, all hail!

FOREWORD

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty, and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, has never received the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in every branch of liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

EARLY HISTORY

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century.

HISTORY OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek flowing just beyond, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the War between the States this School was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character left its impress upon the future history of the College. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter county in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian Culture, a clean heart, and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robt. Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood he had met, and therefore named the College, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world is written, not in books or upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the College has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS THE CAMPUS

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—all constitute an unusual scene of grand beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural ampitheatre overlooking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. Here are found the tennis courts and the fine baseball diamond. No better field could be desired for all outdoor college sports. The campus has been enlarged and now extends to the Memphis-Bristol pike. A new concrete bridge and new road to the east of the campus are under construction. These improvements will add greatly not only to the beauty of the campus and also to the convenience of approach.

WATER SUPPLY

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

NEW ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. The first building erected here was very modest, but judged from the work it has accompolished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet. There are really four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive entrance. The east and west entrances were gained through magnificant colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at the approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The class rooms, office rooms, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

NEW BOYS' DORMITORY

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, overlooking the entire college campus, is the splendid Boys' Dormitory. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valleys on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. The view from this porch is inspiring. To the left of Buffalo Mountain there is a quiet, beautiful valley, presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from vision in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

This building is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Provisions in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences are ample. The building is equipped with the finest type of modern electric lighting. Each room is provided with a built-in clothes press. The rooms are furnished with the very best of modern enameled beds and comfortable mattresses throughout. The chairs and tables are also in keeping.

HARDIN HALL

This handsome Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a splendid panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with rooms for Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, rooms for young ladies on the upper floors, and the Domestic Science Department in the well-lighted basement. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and reconstructed. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed; and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

A modern eight-room bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's home.

GYMNASIUM

A gymnasium will be under construction soon and ready for use about the middle of December. It will be a two story building with all modern equipments. A large playing floor and swimming pool will be among the special features.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

HEALTHFULNESS OF LOCATION

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and South-western Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand, seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchel, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the sea breeze. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities, would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and The managevisitors have always expressed satisfaction. ment of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all. Out of current funds, apart from money received from students for board, the College administration furnishes heat, light and transportation. This fact, together with rigid economy on the part of the management, enables the teachers and students of Milligan College to enjoy most excellent board at a very low figure. The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission of the faculty.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

PROXIMITY TO JOHNSON CITY

Milligan College is only fifteen minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city; and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter county.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus line running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the College enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a fifteen-minute car ride from the business section.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C. C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

GENERAL INFORMATION

STANDARDIZATION OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

Milligan College has been working toward complete standardization for the past five years, and now is able to state with pleasure that the last requirements will be met beginning with the September, 1923, Semester.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AND GOVERNMENT

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environments of the College are exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the College and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Sunday School, and Sunday morning service. Students who are unwilling to thus place themselves in a Christian atmosphere need not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the College to enforce religious activities but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

Social relationship may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the College to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straightforward and business-like attitude must be maintained.

CALLING HOURS

The young women of the College may receive calls from the young men once each week, on Sunday afternoon from three to five. On each evening of the week from six to sixthirty, the young men may be invited to the parlors of the Girls' Home for games and a general social pastime, not primarily intended as a calling hour, but shall be known as the Conference Hour, but always at the discretion of the Dean of Women. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

DAILY PROGRAM

Rising bell rings at 6:00 (Sunday, 6:45). Breakfast, 6:30 (Sunday, 7:15). First class bell, 7:25. Chapel, 9:50 to 10:15. Noon 12:00 to 1:00. Class hours follow until 2:50. Supper, 5:30 o'clock.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. To take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishing are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings. A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

USE OF TOBACCO

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of twenty will be admitted to the College or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the Ministerial Course of Study. It is also the policy of the College to prohibit the use of tobacco about the College buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether. Cardplaying and profanity are also forbidden at Milligan College.

QUESTIONS OF ECONOMY

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in College, and it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF HELP

The College will use twenty students for different forms of work in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive from 10 to 20 cents per hour. Those receiving such employment must carry passing grades in class room work and in honorable conduct. No student who uses tobacco in any form will be employed in any way in the College. Permission to be absent from College will be given once during the semester and then only after a suitable substitute has been provided. Young men and women seeking aid should send their applications to the President early in the year.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG MINISTERS

Young men preparing for the ministry will find a number of churches within easy reach of Milligan College. Many of these churches depend upon students for supply. Those best qualified are able thus to obtain practical experience in the care of churches as well as the means of defraying a part of or all college expenses. No student will be privileged to preach whose class room work is not well done and whose conduct is questioned.

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS

Attendance is required upon examination, in all courses. By vote of the Faculty an examination may be taken at another than the regular time upon the payment of a fee of one dollar.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by grades between A plus and C minus, the latter being the lowest passing grade. D indicates failure. A conditioned student will be given an opportunity during the following semester to remove the condition and receive credit; but to one who has failed, such an opportunity will not be granted.

If a student does not secure a passing grade in at least one-half of the work for which he is enrolled in any one semester, or two-thirds of his work for any one year, unless his failure is due to causes beyond his control, he thereby forfeits his right to enroll for the succeeding semester. Also if a student is irregular in attendance, he forfeits his right to continue as a student of the College.

NUMBER OF RECITATIONS PER WEEK

Each student is expected to carry sixteen hours of work per week. Permission to carry more may be granted by our Faculty to students who show ability to do more than the average amount of work.

TEXT BOOKS

Text-books can be purchased at less than dealers' prices from the college book-store. Terms are strictly cash. Books can often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

MONDAY HOLIDAY

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday.

CLASS ROOM SLOGAN

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for cutting classes; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worthwhile results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

LIBRARY

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added. One thousand dollars has been appropriated and is being used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The new library quarters on the second floor of the Administration Building, comprising two spacious rooms, with consultation and Faculty reading room adjoined, afford a very delightful place for study and research. The courteous and efficient librarian, always present to help students in finding the information desired, is a valuable asset to the school. Additional funds have been appropriated to raise the library to standard requirements.

LABORATORIES

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology will receive additional equipment at once to enable them to meet all requirements, thus placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

PARENTS AND STUDENTS

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and will be strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at college.

No student will be excused either to leave his or her duty before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy or visit any store or eating-place unless such is registered and approved by State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Business places open on Sunday will not be patronized by either Students or Faculty.

either by Faculty or his own volition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the College.

Students irregular upon College or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the College altogether.

Students from a distance will reside in only such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid first of semester in advance and no refund will be made except in case of prolonged illness. An additional charge of 20% will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to make their enrollment during opening days of semester.

Students entering later than October 15th or February 15th will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than October 15th or February 15th will not be given the full semester's credit for work done.

The coming of visitors will not release the student from any school duty whatever.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

Permission to be absent from College may be secured once during semester.

ABSENCE FROM CLASSES

Milligan College makes no provisions for absence from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled. However, absences are classified under three heads as follows:

- (1) Absence due to the sickness of the student. A student absent from a recitation on account of illness can be excused by the registrar upon presentation of physician's certificate or written order from the Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the missed work made up according to conditions.
- (2) Absence caused by severe illness or death of a near relative of the student or to selection as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity such as inter-collegiate athletic contest or an inter-collegiate debate. In such cases the student can be excused upon the presentation of a written statement endorsed by his or her Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the work made up according to conditions.

(3) All absences not coming under (1) and (2) remain unexcused until the student makes up the work to the full satisfaction of the instructor. In the event the work is not made up to the full satisfaction of the instructor or that it is not made up promptly the instructor will either lower the grade or reduce the credit hours of the student or if in his judgment it seems wise he may do both.

EXPENSES

The topic, "Expense," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

Itemized expense of a semester, of eighteen weeks:

College tuition$32,00
Sub-College tuition 30.00
Music 30.00
Art 25,00
Activity fee—Athletics and Lyceum 10.00
Physics laboratory fee 2.50
Chemistry fee 4.00
Board per month 15.00
Rooms for girls per semester (heat, light, hot and cold water) 22.50
Rooms for boys per semester (heat and light) 22.50
Electric fees 2.50
Guarantee deposit for keys and room damage 5.00

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pillow cases, towels, napkins, and extra blankets.

Girls rooming alone will be charged from $2.00 to $3.00 extra per month.

HARDIN HALL

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS LITERARY ORGANIZATIONS

The literary organizations contribute quite as much to the student development as do the strictly academic studies. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in team work, and for the study and discussion of vital questions and problems.

The American Literary Society is an organization for the young men. This organization has been a live feature of student life in the College for many years. The Athenian Literary Society was organized among the young men at the beginning of last year. The Athenian affords a worthy rival for the American and divides the College honors equally with her elder sister society. Among the young women of the College there are two organizations: the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society; each organization does a character of work very helpful to those participating. Within the first month of the College year, the societies select questions, and choose speakers for the annual inter-society debates, which are given in the following December. These debates are also preliminary to the annual Inter-Collegiate debates, which are features of the spring semester.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefitted by the Music Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found: A band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent and taste can find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who own musical instruments should not fail to bring them.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Mission Band; The Student Volunteer Band; The Girls' Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for Religious Training.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All Inter-Collegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Appalachia Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Article four of the constitution of the "Appalachia Athletic Conference" is here inserted:

"Article 4—Requirements for Members of Teams for Inter-Collegiate Contests.

"Section 1—All members of competing teams must be bona fide students in regular attendance, taking at least the minimum amount of work required.

"Section 2-All players in Inter-Collegiate games must have at least a passing grade in each subject.

"Section 3—No member of any competing team shall receive any remuneration on account of his athletic ability.

"Section 4—No student shall be allowed to play in any Inter-Collegiate contest who has enrolled later than October 15th and February 15th of the basis enrolled later than October 15th and February 15th of the basis enrolled later than 15th of the basis enrolle ruary 15th, after the beginning of the term semester.

"Section 5—In order that the above Section may be enforced, the Deans of the two schools about to meet in contest shall send to each other a list of the names of the players eligible for contest. This list shall be mailed in time to reach its destination at least two days before the contest."

This article expresses well the spirit of all Milligan College athletic organizations. Those who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable gentlemen; second of all, they must be earnest students, and third and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the College games is in charge.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TYPE OF STUDENT DESIRED

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There Page Twenty-six will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them letters of recommendation. Students who fail in fifty per cent of their work need not apply for entrance. Those desiring advance standing, claiming credit from other schools must furnish credentials properly endorsed.

GRADING SYSTEM AND QUALITY POINTS

The passing grade shall be indicated by the following letters: "A," "A minus," "B," "B plus," "B minus," "C plus," and "C minus," "D plus" shall indicate a condition with a privilege of making up work, and "D" a failure.

The values of these letters are as nearly as can be stated as follows: "A" represents the best in the following qualities: Application, thoroughness, natural ability and originality.

"A minus" slightly below the best in one or more of these qualities. "B plus" represents a high measure of diligence, application, and thoroughness, without showing distinct ability and insight.
"B minus" ordinary ability, without any distinctive effort at diligence and application.

"C plus" represents fair work, but irregular sometimes of high quality, but not uniform.

"C" represents mediocre work for any general reason.

"C minus" represents barely passing work.

"D plus" work conditioned for any reason.

"D" indicates failure.

IN QUALITY POINTS, PER CREDIT HOUR

"B minus" two points. "A" carries six points. "C plus" one point.
"C" none. "A minus" five points. "B plus" four points. "C minus" none. "B" three points.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES OF STUDY COLLEGE COURSES

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

ENGLISH I

First Semester.—Review of Grammar. Theme-work based on text of Rhetoric and Composition. Weekly training in oral and written composition and self-expression. Current events and brief themes on current topics. College journalism begun. (Two sections). Mr. Rooker.

Second Semester—Continued drill in theme-writing, oral expression, note-taking and college journalism, alternating with debating. Rhetoric and composition continued. Modern English Prose read and interpreted. (Two sections). Mr. Rooker.

ENGLISH II

First Semester—Winchester's Principles of Literary Criticism. Page's Chief American Poets. Theme-writing, especially sketches on the poets of America. Interpretation of poetry based on principles of Literary Criticism. Mr. Poage.

Second Semester—American Literary Masters. Foerster's Chief American Prose-writers. The chief emphasis is placed on the life, personality and literary achievements of Irving, Bryant, Cooper, Poe, Holmes, Hawthorne, Prescott, Emerson, Longfellow, Lowell, Whittier, Parkman, Curtis, Thoreau and Whitman. Mr. Poage.

ENGLISH III

First Semester—Pre-Shakespearean drama; Lodge, Greene, Marlowe, etc., Critical study of three dramas of Shakespeare—one comedy, one tragedy, one chronicle play. Lectures on the growth and development of the drama. Careful study of Woodbridge's "The Drama: Its Law and Technique," Frequent brief reports and one comprehensive report each semester. Mr. Rooker.

Second Semester—Shakespeare; A rapid reading course covering the complete works of Shakespeare, with the exception of those studied in the first semester. Shakespeare compared with the modern drama. Semester theme. "Law and Technique" continued. Mr. Rooker.

ENGLISH IV

- First Semester—The Romantic Poets--Scott, Southey, Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley and Keats, Byron and Wordsworth especially studied. Mr. Poage.
- Second Semester—The Victorian Poets—Tennyson and Browning. A brief survey of the minor Victorian poets. Frequent themes required including special semester themes. Mr. Poage. (Not offered in 1923-24).

ENGLISH V

- First Semester—Text: "English Words and Their Back-ground," by McKnight. Reference Works: "Words and Their Ways in English Speech," by Greenough and Kitt-redge and "Trench on Words." This is a study of words combined with theme-writing and the constant use of dictionary. Mr. Poage.
- Second Semester—Advanced Composition. Text: Barrett Wendell's "English Composition." Reference works: "What Can Literature do for me?" by C. A. Smith, Gardiner's "Forms of Prose Literature," Perry's "A Study of Prose Fiction," and Clayton Hamilton's "A Manual of the Art of Fiction." A theme course applying principles learned in the text. Mr. Poage.

ENGLISH VI

- First Semester—Early English Literature leading up to Spenser. The earliest English prose and poetry is studied in translation. This is followed by a detailed study of Spenser's "Shepherd's Calendar." Mr. Poage.
- Second Semester—Modern Drama. Clarke's "Continental Drama of Today" is the text. "Aspects of modern Drama" by Chandler, is used as a reference work. Ibsen is especially studied and compared with later dramatists. As many plays as possible will be read and reports will be required. (Not offered in 1924-25), Mr. Poage.

SPANISH

SPANISH I

Course for Beginners. Grammar, composition and translation. Reading of simple texts. Five hours per week.

SPANISH II

Continuation of grammar and composition. Translation of Spanish American texts. Spanish American and Castilian pronunciations distinguished. Spanish American History particularly stressed.

SPANISH III

Grammar and composition reviewed and more difficult constructions stressed. Readings from Spanish authors. Commercial Spanish.

FRENCH

FRENCH I

First Semester.—Part I of Fraser and Squair's Grammar; conjugation of the regular and more common irregular verbs; special stress on pronunciation; reading of about 100 pages of simple French; sight-reading regularly; class-room conversation and writing from dictation.

Second Semester.—Review of Part I of the Grammar with special assignments from Part II; drill in elementary composition; reading of from 300 to 400 pages of French text with considerable sight-reading; memorizing of French proverbs and poems; writing from dictation.

FRENCH II

Advanced grammar based on Fraser and Squair, Part II, in connection with drill composition; original composition based on portions of the French text and occasional short themes upon topics selected from the reading; extensive reading, prepared and at sight, from modern French prose writers; conversational drill.

FRENCH III

First Semester.—History of French Literature supplemented by copious reading from French lyrical poets of the nineteenth century; Hugo's Les Miserables. Second Semester.—A study of the French short story with rapid and extensive reading from Merimee, Maupassant, Daudet, Balzac, Coope, About, Gautier, Theuriet, Zola, Musset, Halevy, Bazin, Flaubert. Emphasis is placed upon the work of DeMaupassant.

FRENCH IV

First Semester.—A study of the classic drama of the seventeenth century based on the drama of Corneille, Racine and Moliere. Special emphasis is placed upon Moliere.

Second Semester.—A study of the later French dramatists based on the dramas of Hugo, Rostand, and Maeterlinck. In connection with the work of both semesters, collateral reading is done on the history of the French drama, collateral assignments are made in Woodbridge's "The Drama: Its Law and Its Technique," and on the part of each student a critical study is required of some play not read in the class room, such study being presented in the form of an essay.

GERMAN

GERMAN I

Beginner's course in German. Drill in grammar, composition, conversation and translation. Reading of such texts as "Hoher als die Kirche," Storm's "Immensee" and the like. Five hours per week. Mr. Poage.

GERMAN II

Continuation of grammar and conversation. Translation and construction stressed. Schiller's "Maria Stuart," Goethe's "Faust" and Lessing's "Minna von Barnhelm." Thorough drill in grammar. (Not offered in 1923-24). Mr. Poage.

GERMAN III

Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell" or Die Jungfrau von Orleans." Freytag's "Die Journalisten." German Grammar and composition and construction stressed. Mr. Poage.

GREEK

GREEK I

First Semester.—Beginner's Course in Greek. Drill in forms, vocabulary and syntax. Preparation for reading the Anabasis.

Second Semester.—Beginner's course is completed and the first book of the Anabasis is read.

GREEK II

- First Semester.—Plato's Apology, and Crito, and selections from the Phaedo. The career, teachings and influence of Socrates. Prose composition.
- Second Semester.—Greek Oratory. Lysias' Orations. De-Mosthenes' Phillippics. Jebb's History of Greek Literature.

GREEK III

First Semester.—Homer's Odyssey, Books V-VIII.

Second Semester.—Greek Tragedy. One play each by Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides. Growth and development of tragedy. The Attic theatre.

LATIN

LATIN I

Authors of the Augustan Age. First Semester.—Cicero's De Senectute and DeAmicitia, by Kelsey.

Second Semester.—Horace. Selections from the Odes, Books I-III, the Satires and the Epistles. Wilkins' History of Roman Literature.

LATIN II

Terence's "Adelphoe," edited by Wm. P. Cowles.

Second Semester.—Juvenal's Satires, and the Epistles of Pliny the Younger will be read, throwing a light on the manners and private life of Rome during the Empire.

LATIN III

First Semester.—Roman Comedy. Selected plays by Plautus and Terence.

Second Semester.—Roman Philosophy. Cicero's Tusculan Disputations and de Offiis. Selected passages from Lucretius' De Natura Rerum.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS PHYSICS

I. Elementary Physics.—A course designed for those who have not had Physics previously. It will dwell particularly upon the application of physical principles in every day life.

First Semester. Four hours recitation, two hours laboratory.

- II. Elementary Physics.—A continuation of Physics I. Second Semester. Four hours recitation, two hours laboratory.
- III. General College Physics.—Lectures, recitations and laboratory. This course will cover very thoroughly the fundamental principles of Mechanics, Heat, and Sound. Students will perform in the laboratory the standard experiments necessary for a complete understanding of the subject.

First Semester. Four hours recitations and lectures; two hours laboratory.

IV. General College Physics.—A continuation of Physics III. It will cover the subject of Light and Electricity.

Second Semester. Three hours recitations and lectures. Four hours laboratory. Opportunity will be given for construction of motors, generators, working models of machines and construction of practical physical apparatus.

V. Elementary Mechanics.—A course intended for students who have taken Physics III and IV, Mathematics II (A) and II (B). Introductory to Engineering Science.

First Semester. One hour recitation or lecture; six hours laboratory and problems.

VI. Elementary Astronomy.—A course introductory to general astronomy. Open to students presenting Mathematics II (A).

Second Semester. One hour recitation or lecture; six hours laboratory and problems.

CHEMISTRY

I. College General Chemistry.—Lectures, Recitations, and laboratory work. The elements and their compounds are studied in such a manner as to furnish a good foundation for future work. The theoretical side of the subject is given considerable attention. The elementary principles of Physical Chemistry are introduced. The laboratory work requires several in-organic preparations in addition to general work. Students having had a satisfactory High School course are admitted along with students who have had Course I. Mc-Pherson and Henderson, General In-organic Chemistry.

First Semester.—Three hours recitations, four hours laboratory. Second Semester. Continuation of first semester.

II. Organic Chemistry.—A course designed for those wishing to take a Pre-Medical course and for others who wish to continue the study of chemistry. All of the leading types of organic compounds are studied, with their organic formulae, properties, and economic value. Emphasis is laid on the preparation and purification of the more important compounds. Prerequisites Chemistry I.

III. Analytical Chemistry.

First Semester: Qualitative Analysis. This work will consist of the identification of all common metallic irons in the several groups, and identification of the acid radicals. One hour lecture; ten hours laboratory. Hours may be arranged.

Second Semester: Quantitative Analysis. The work of this semester will be the usual determinations employed in both gravimetric and volumetric analysis. One hour recitations. Ten hours laboratory. Hours may be arranged.

BIOLOGY AND GEOLOGY

Biology I. Zoology.—Lectures and readings on anatomy, physiology, and ecology of invertebrate and vertebrate phyla, considerable attention being paid to comparative anatomy. Laboratory work on representative types of each phyla. Economic importance of various types, especially emphasized. Lectures two hours a week. Laboratory four hours a week. Credit one unit.

Biology II. College Botany.—A course dealing with morphology, physiology and ecology of plants primarily. A systematic study is made of the algae, fungi, mosses and liverworts, ferns, and flowering plants, considering their relations to each other in the development of plant life, and their ecological relations. Much laboratory work coupled with the common plants, and the factors of their environment. Elementary botany not required but desirable as a preparation. Text, Bergen & Davis' "Principles of Botany." Credit one unit.

MATHEMATICS

MATHEMATICS I (B)

College Algebra.—General review of exponents, quadratic equations and problems, properties of equations, inditerminate coefficients, binominal theorem, logarithms, permutation and combinations, series. Four hours per week. (First semester).

MATHEMATICS II (A)

Plane Trigonometry.—This course includes the development of the general formulas of Trigonometry, the theory and use of logarithms, the solution of practical problems. Text, Wells' Trigonometry. (Second semester).

MATHEMATICS II (B)

Analytical Geometry.—Loci and their equations, the straight line, construction of graphs, solution of formulas, the circle, different systems of coordinates, transformation of coordinates, the parabola and the ellipse. Four hours per week. (First semester).

MATHEMATICS III (A)

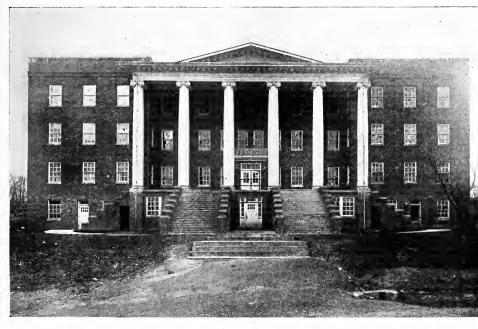

Surveying.—The use and adjustment of instruments, original survey with compass and transit, resurveys, allowing for change in variation, errors and their distribution, leveling for profile and contours, etc. Plats made to scale. Four hours per week. (Second semester).

MATHEMATICS III (B)

Spherical Trigonometry—Derivations of formulas and the solution of the right and oblique spherical triangles. Text, Wells' Spherical Trigonometry. (First semester.)

MATHEMATICS IV (A)

Differential Calculus.—The principles and formulas of differential calculus, with application to such problems as development of series, maxima, and minima, tangents, etc. (Second semester.)

BOYS' DORMITORY

MATHEMATICS IV (B)

Integral Calculus.—The integral is studied from the twofold standpoint of anti-differentiation and the process of summation. After developing standard formulas of integration a large number and variety of exercises are solved. (First semester.)

History of Mathematics.—This course attempts, in a brief way, to trace the growth and development of the science of Mathematics through the centuries down to the present time, showing that while it is still the most exact of all the sciences, still it is not the stale dead thing that it is commonly supposed to be, but a living, growing science, vitally, connected with the progress of modern times. (Second semester.)

PHILOSOPHY I-A

A thorough and comprehensive course in Elementary Logic, dealing with the important stages in the development of Logic; a careful study of the Laws of Thought with special emphasis upon the Inductive Process in its genetic relation to the unification of all knowledge; a Text Book Course with extensive supplementary work. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week. Credit value, ½ unit.

PHILOSOPHY I-B

General Psychology.—A Lecture Course with Pillsbury's Essentials of Psychology as a guide, using James, Angell, Tihener and other texts for reference and weekly discussions. Psychology is studied not merely as a science of the mind, but as the science of human behavior, the purpose being to understand human actions and to direct all the Psychic Forces to the pupil wisely. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week, credit value ½ unit—and is a prerequisite to courses in Education.

PHILOSOPHY II

Ethics.—A study of the moral ideal in its historical and practical setting. The purpose of this course is first to trace in broad outline the history of actual moral practices among mankind in ancient, medieval and modern times; second, to bring out the distinctive measures of moral action and to secure an insight into the leading principles underlying it. The leading systems of Ethics will be studied for the purpose of gaining an appreciation of the general development and different types of theories of mortality. The course is positively constructive in every particular and intended to aid the student in getting the correct grip upon the vital relations of life. The course is a lecture course using Seth's Ethics as a guide running thirty-six weeks, four hours per week, credit value, one unit.

PHILOSOPHY III

A careful study of the history of thought and the part which Philosophy has played in civilization. The course will present in lecture form an account of Philosophical Speculation from the Greeks to the present time, touching particularly the Ancient Philosophies from Heraclitus to Neo-Platonism, and modern Philosophy in its evolutionary aspects from Descartes including Herbert, Spencer, Eucken, and others. Much attention is given to the problems and theories of modern times and the view-point of social and economic significance. The course runs thirty-six weeks, four hours per week, credit value one unit.

EDUCATION

EDUCATION I

Text Book.—Monroe's Brief Course in History of Education, with extended course of collateral reading, lectures, and class-room discussions. The object of this course is to study the development of the educational ideal in connection with the conditions in which it had its origin and amid which it grew. Special attention is given to the systems of education in Greece and Rome, in Europe during the Middle Ages, the Renaissance and the Reformation, and in Modern Germany, France, England and America. Physical environment, social, industrial and political conditions, traditions, customs, and religion have had their influence in determining racial development, one phase of which has found its expression during the different periods in the educational systems of the several nations. These systems are analyzed as revealing epochal and national ideals, the writing of individuals being studied for their contribution to and the interpretation of these systems. The course runs for thirty-six weeks, four hours per week, credit value, one unit.

EDUCATION II-A

A substantial course in applied Psychology. A text is used for part of the time; the other part of the course consistsin extensive reading in the best and most modern works of Pedagogy and Educational Psychology; Education is treated as a science; special attention is given to the human intellect in all its functions, powers, etc.; the training of the emotions including practical views of aesthetics; a very practical treatment of the functions of the will, and dealing finally with fundamental processes of Religion and Spiritual growth. This course has particular value for prospective teachers, ministers and those having in any way to do with the public mind. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week, credit ½ unit.

EDUCATION II-B

A thorough course in the Fundamentals of child study including nature, scope, and problems of child-life as presented in the actual life of the day. Special study of the instincts, of heredity, of individuality, of abnormality, of subnormality. The course encourages observation outline, and examines reports, test, and records, for the best and latest facts upon which to build methods for procedure in all forms and grades of school work. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week, credit value, ½ unit.

EDUCATION III-A

Introduction of the Philosophy of Education. Results of investigation in Psychology, Biology, Neurology, Anthropology, Ethnology, and Sociology will be interpreted in their relation to Education. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week, credit value ½ unit.

EDUCATION III-B

Administration.—A study of National, State, and City systems; public finance and education; school buildings and equipment. The supervision and employment of teachers. The relation among school, home, and society. The educational systems and policies of Southern States are considered in detail. Eighteen weeks, four hours per week. Credit value ½ unit.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

HISTORY I-MODERN EUROPEON HISTORY 1500-1815

A survey of the origin and foundations of the European Nations with some attention to racial and geographic factors. The course deals with the rise of the national monarchies and their course up to and including the French Revolution and the period of Napoleon, concluding with the final settlement of the congress of Vienna. Reading and discussions. First semester. Four hours.

HISTORY II-MODERN EUROPEON HISTORY SINCE 1815

A study of the development of modern European states, with particular attention to the social, economic, racial and geographical background of the World War. A brief outline of the Great War with special attention given to the present conditions of Europe and the question of reorganization and reconstruction. Wide reading and reports. Second semester. Four hours.

HISTORY III—AMERICAN HISTORY TO 1783

This course is devoted to the study of the initial efforts, with their progress, in the settlement of the North American Colonies; the ideals, social and political that led to the war of the American Revolution; the beginning of such ideals in the struggles of that war. First semester. Four hours.

HISTORY IV—AMERICAN HISTORY FROM 1783 TO THE PRESENT TIME

The making of American nationality by the welding of the colonies into a "government by the people, for the people and of the people"; the social, economical and political progress of our country to our own times. Second semester. Four hours.

POLITICAL SCIENCE I—POLITICAL SCIENCE

An introduction to the theory of Political Science, comprising a study of the origin, nature, function and organization of the state. Readings, reports and discussions. First semester. Four hours.

POLITICAL SCIENCE II—AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

An advanced, detailed study of the American System of Government, Federal, State and Local, including the organization and influence of political parties. American foreign relations will also be studied. Second semester. Four hours.

SOCIOLOGY AND ECONOMICS

SOCIOLOGY I—INTRODUCTORY SOCIOLOGY

This course deals with the history of the development of Social Science, its achievements and the growth of social institutions. A study of the best principles and scientific methods as applied to the modern social problem. Textbook, readings and discussions. First semester. Four hours.

SOCIOLOGY II—APPLIED SOCIOLOGY

A study of modern social problems as applied to the principles of Sociology. Especial attention will be given to the current social problems of the South. The city; the country; the negro; the immigrant; the liquor problem; crime and vice; poverty and pauperism; the home, church and state. Extensive reading and reports. Second semester. Four hours.

ECONOMICS I—ELEMENTARY ECONOMICS

The whole field of economics is treated, giving the student the fundamental principles of economic science and a knowledge of the application of these principles to present day economic problems. Readings, reports and discussions. First semester. Four hours.

ECONOMICS II-HOME ECONOMICS

This course is a continuation of Economics I. It is designed to give the student an elementary knowledge of some of the problems of modern economic life. Also a special discussion of topics dealing with the economic development of the Southern States. Wide reading and reports. Second semester. Four hours.

MUSIC

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in the highest degree and at the same time to develop his taste in accordance with true tradition of the art. This language which expresses more than words, which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The Music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of Art.

COURSE IN INSTRUCTION

It has not been deemed advisable to adopt any particular set of studies to be used arbitrarily, but rather to suit the needs of the individual pupil. A general outline of the plan of study may, however, be given.

PIANOFORTE

First Year.—This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc.

Second Year.—Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bahm, Lange, and modern composers.

Third Year.—Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bash. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers.

Fourth Year.—Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschorn, Bash, Preludes and Fugues, Cramer, Octave, Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelsshon and others.

THEORETICAL COURSE

MUSIC HISTORY

Among the advantages offered are the course in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department and other teachers. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned.

HARMONY

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the text-books employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke.

THEORY

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory.

FREE ADVANTAGES

In addition to the lessons of the regular course the students of the Musical Department have free access to classes in Harmony, History of Music, chorus practice, orchestra drill, and recitals. The student's recitals are considered indispensable advantages to a liberal education in music.

DIPLOMAS

Pupils who have successfully completed the full course as outlined together with a year or more of Harmony, Theory of Music, History of Music, and a memorized recital, will be granted a diploma from the Music Department.

DOMESTIC ART

DOMESTIC ART I

Course includes hand sewing; use and care of sewing machines; interpretation and use of commercial patterns; planning, construction and care of typical undergarments. Study of simple outer garments of wash materials. Study of textiles; uses and costs of standard materials; simple tests for indentifying fibers.

DOMESTIC ART II

Course includes the study of how to plan garments suited to the individual, use and income. A thorough knowledge of and to develop skill in the drafting of foundation patterns to different measurements; to give experience in testing out these drafts in inexpensive materials; and to teach students to design more complicated patterns from these foundation drafts. Principal drafts made are shirt waist, middy blouse and other foundation patterns.

DOMESTIC ART III

This course includes the principles involved in handling wool and silk materials. The patterns used for constructive work are adapted from drafted patterns previously made. Students registering for this course are required to have a tight-fitting lining. Topics: padding form to fit the tight-fitted lining; making patterns; construction of a wool one piece dress or suit and a silk street or afternoon dress; suitable decorative stitches; appropriate accessories; adaptibility of line color, fabric, decoration and draping to different types of individuals.

PRESIDENTIAL STEPS

THE DEPARTMENT OF SACRED LITERATURE ANNOUNCEMENT

The aim of the Department of Sacred Literature is to supply its share of the cultural value of a College Course. It must supply so far as it can the technical instruction that is usually found in a seminary. The course it offers is of equal strength with the regular classical or philosophical courses. It is not of equal strength in Mathematics, Science and English. In lieu of that other technical disciplines are offered, such as are suited to the equipment of a minister of the gospel.

GENERAL BIBLE

As its name indicates this course, in a general way, covers the entire Bible from Genesis to Revelation. The first semester is devoted to the O. T.; and the second to the N. T.

Required of all Sub-College students.

Value, one credit—Daily throughout the year. Professor Harman.

NEW TESTAMENT HISTORY

I. THE LIFE OF CHRIST.

The Four Gospels are harmonized. All difficult passages carefully explained. Points of doctrine considered. The periods, dates, and events of Christ's ministry carefully noted. During the semester each student, under the direction of the teacher, shall carefully prepare a "Student's Life of Christ" consisting of not less than 15,000 words.

Value, one-half credit. Daily, fall semester. Professor

II. THE LIFE OF PAUL.

A thorough historical and exegetical study of Acts of Apostles. The Conversion of Saul, his missionary journies, his conflict with the Judaizers and his ultimate triumph. Careful attention is given to his epistles as to their occasion and purpose together with the place of writing of same. A "Student's Life of Paul," prepared by each member of the class, under the direction of the teacher, and consisting of not less than 15,000 words is required.

Value: One-half Credit. Daily, spring semester. Professor Harman.

HOMILETICS

How to build and deliver a sermon. Careful attention is given to importance, selection, and treatment of texts. The place of argument and the refutation as well as kinds of sermons and how to build them systematically and logically is fully considered. Sermon outlines required. All students' sermons reviewed by the teacher before permitting them to be preached. Occasional lectures on pulpit manners and daily walk and life of the minister.

Value: One-half Credit. Fall Semester. Professor Harman.

N. T. GREEK

The student will read the Gospel of Mark together with other selections from the N. T., including Acts and several portions of Paul's Epistles. Careful attention given to forms including a rapid review of first year grammar. Some exegetical work is done together with occasional lectures by the teacher on the ancient manuscripts.

Value: One Credit. Daily throughout the year. Professor Harman.

CHURCH HISTORY

The rise, progress and development of the Christian Church from the days of its founding until the present time. The study will group itself around the nine periods of church history as outlined in Fisher's Text. Open to Juniors and Seniors only.

Not offered in 1923-1924.

Value: One Credit. Daily throughout the year. Professor Harman.

RESTORATION DOCTRINE

The great doctrine of the Restoration Movement of the Nineteenth Century will be carefully and critically examined. Among other subjects the following will be considered: Predestination and Election, Inspiration, Faith, Repentance, Baptism, and the Holy Spirit. All students preparing to preach the simple N. T. plan should take this course.

Value: One-half Credit. Fall Semester, daily. Professor

HEBREW PROPHECY

The rise and development of Hebrew prophecy as set forth in the O. T. carefully examined. The place of the prophet in the economy of God together with his message for the time in which he lived and its future content. The date, authorship and content of several books from both the minor and major prophets will be sympathetically considered.

Value: One-half Credit. Daily, Spring semester. Professor Harman.

APOLOGETICS

A thorough restatement of the grounds of Christian belief. In this course, after an examination of the various beliefs such as Pantheism, Materialism, Agnosticism, Evolution, etc., Christianity is set forth as a distinct order of facts culminating in the proofs of the resurrection and the evidence of Christian Experience and History.

Value: One-half Credit. Daily, Spring semester. Professor Harman.

ENGLISH EXEGESIS

The Four Great Epistles of Paul together with Hebrews will be carefully and sympathetically examined and faithfully explained. The date, occasion and purpose of each epistle will be considered—Lectures given—Library assignments made—Each student will be required to outline all of the above Epistles.

Value: One Credit. Daily, throughout the year. Professor Harman.

MILLIGAN BIBLE INSTITUTE MAURICE BERTRAND INGLE, DEAN

Milligan Bible Institute is a special school of training for both undergraduates and graduates. Its object is to educate, direct, encourage, maintain and send forth capable and competent Christian workers for every phase of Christian service.

It offers special training in languages, ancient and modern; in the Bible, both English and the original languages; in doctrine both elementary and advanced; in Church History, especially the work of the Restoration movement.

To its students both the College Courses outlined and its own specialized and advanced work is offered.

It's work covers not only the elementary work done in most colleges, but also advanced work such as is done in the best seminaries.

For complete information, including description of all courses offered, together with entrance requirements, etc., write the Dean.

INSTITUTE COURSES OPEN 1923-24

- 1. Old Testament History.
- Bible Doctrine I.
 Bible Doctrine II.
- 4. New Testament Greek II.

5. Hebrew I.

6. History of the Restoration Movement.

7. History of Missions.

8. New Testament Greek I.

These courses are open to both College and Institute Students.

SUB-COLLEGE WORK

Milligan College, in keeping with the general movement, on the part of Senior colleges in Tennessee, and due to the increase in number and efficiency in the High Schools, has abandoned the Department of the Academy or High School as such. But will maintain a Department of Sub-College work in which students will be permitted to remove College Entrance Conditions, and to finish up delinquent High School courses. This Department will be entirely separate from the College work in teaching-staff, records, discipline, etc. Eight Sub-College courses preparatory to College entrance will be offered for the benefit of those who have not completed their Academy or High School work. These courses will be offered as follows: Two courses in English, two courses in Science, two courses in a foreign Language, one course in Mathematics, and one course in History, thus, students from three year High Schools and students whose work in High School has been somewhat irregular may have the opportunity, under most favorable conditions, to remove their delinquencies and to complete their entrance requirements, while, at the same time they are learning the ways of college life and are receiving the benefit of college activities.

POINTS OF INTEREST TO YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, etc., otherwise mentioned in the catalog, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed room slippers, laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, raincoat, overshoes, walking shoes with military heel, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except with the approval of parents and the school management. Such permissions will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 4. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain special permission from parents.
 - 5. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 6. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.

- 7. Young women are under special regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions before the students enter or after they leave the school.
- 8. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 9. Graduates from all departments will wear voile or organdy white dresses, or material equally inexpensive.
- 10. All evening dresses must have approximately high necks and elbow sleeves. No evening dresses may be worn until approved by the Dean of Women.

POINTS OF INTEREST TO YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkin.
- 2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Patrons are urged not to ask for more than two visits a semester, except under special circumstances; in which case special arrangements must be made with the faculty.
- 3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 4. No young man can be absent from the village without special permission from the Dean of Men.
- 5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.
- 7. Young men must exercise special care in keeping their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.
- 8. Each occupant of a room in boys' dormitory will deposit with the Bursar at the opening of the school year, a fee of one dollar as a guaranty for the return of keys.
- 9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.
- 10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged, and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus.
- 13. A boy who is sufficiently ill to have his meals served in his room, will pay 10 cents extra for each meal so served.

FOREWORD

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty, and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, has never received the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in every branch of liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Early History

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century.

History of Milligan College

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek flowing just beyond, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the War between the States this School was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character left its impress upon the future history of the College. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian Culture, a clean heart, and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robt. Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood he had met, and therefore named the College, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world is written, not in books or upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the College has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

The Campus

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—all constitute an unusual scene of grand beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre overlooking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. Here are found the tennis courts and the fine baseball diamond. No better field could be desired for all outdoor college sports. The campus has been enlarged and now extends to the Memphis-Bristol pike.

Water Supply

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

Administration Building

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. first building erected here was very modest, but judged from the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet. There are really four fronts. facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive en-The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at the approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. class rooms, office rooms, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

Men's Dormitory

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, overlooking the entire college campus, is the splendid Men's Dormitory. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valleys on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. The view from this porch is inspiring. To the left of Buffalo Mountain there is a quiet, beautiful valley, presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from vision in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

This building is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Provisions in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences are ample. The building is equipped with the finest type of modern electric lighting. Each room is provided with a built-in clothes press. The rooms are furnished with the very best of modern enameled beds and comfortable mattresses throughout. The chairs and tables are also in keeping.

Hardin Hall

This handsome Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a splendid panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with rooms for Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, rooms for young ladies on the upper floors, and the Domestic Science Department in the well-lighted basement. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and reconstructed. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed; and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

President's Home

A modern eight-room bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's home.

Gymnasium

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has, during the current fiscal year, erected a large and commodious gymnasium. In variety of departments and diversified opportunities for physical culture the building is quite an institution within itself. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has an unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures too numerous to mention.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and kept at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further comprises a pair of new Brunswick Bowling Alleys installed, with all the latest advantages. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, rest room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of living quarters, conveniently arranged, and provided with all modern living quarters, conveniently arranged, and provided with all modern comforts together with a dormitory department. The living quarters are intended for the accommodation of members of the faculty, including the physical director, and the dormitory department is intended to care for the over-flow from the boys' dormitory.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, and the other outdoor sports such as track and tennis are to be added, swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

Healthfulness of Location

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand, seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchel, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the sea breeze. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities, would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

Boarding Department

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission of the faculty.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Proximity to Johnson City

Milligan College is only fifteen minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city; and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter county.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus line running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the College enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a fifteen-minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

GENERAL INFORMATION

Standards of Conduct and Government

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environments of the College are exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

College Regulations

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

Religious Life

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the College and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Sunday School, and Sunday morning service. Students who are unwilling to thus place themselves in a Christian atmosphere need not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the College to enforce religious activities but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

Social Relations

Social relationship may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the College to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straightforward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

Daily Program

Rising bell rings at 6:00 (Sunday, 6:45). Breakfast, 6:30 (Sunday, 7:15). First class bell, 7:20. Chapel, 9:20 to 9:45. Noon, 11:45 to 12:55. Class hours follow until 2:55. Supper, 5:30 o'clock.

Property Rights

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishing are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings. A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

Use of Tobacco

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of twenty will be admitted to the College or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the Ministerial Course of Study. It is also the policy of the College to prohibit the use of tobacco about the College buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether. Cardplaying and profanity are also forbidden at Milligan College.

Questions of Economy

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in College, and it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

Opportunities for Self Help

The College will use twenty students for different forms of work in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive from 20 to 25 cents per hour. Those receiving such employment must carry passing grades in class room work and in honorable conduct, and must do their work satisfactorily. No student who uses tobacco in any form will be employed in any way in the College. Permission to be absent from College will be given once during the semester and then only after a suitable substitute has been provided. Young men and women seeking aid should send their applications to the President early in the year.

Opportunities for Young Ministers

Young men preparing for the ministry will find a number of churches within easy reach of Milligan College. Many of these churches depend upon students for supply. Those best qualified are able thus to obtain practical experience in the care of churches as well as the means of defraying a part of or all college expenses. No student will be privileged to preach whose class room work is not well done and whose conduct is questioned.

Examinations and Reports

Attendance is required upon examination, in all courses. By vote of the Faculty an examination may be taken at another than the regular time upon the payment of a fee of one dollar.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by grades between A and D, the latter being the lowest passing grade. E indicates failure. A conditioned student will be given an opportunity during the following semester to remove the condition and receive credit; but to one who has failed, such an opportunity will not be granted.

If a student does not secure a passing grade in at least one-half of the work for which he is enrolled in any one semester, or two-thirds of his work for any one year, unless his failure is due to causes beyond his control, he thereby forfeits his right to enroll for the succeeding semester. Also if a student is irregular in attendance, he forfeits his right to continue as a student of the College.

Number of Recitations Per Week

Each student is expected to carry sixteen hours of work per week. Permission to carry more may be granted by the Faculty to students who show ability to do more than the average amount of work.

Text Books

Text-books can be purchased at less than dealers' prices from the college book-store. Terms are strictly cash. Books can often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

Monday Holiday

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday.

Class Room Slogan

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for cutting classes; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worthwhile results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

Library

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added. One thousand dollars has been appropriated and is being used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The new library quarters on the second floor of the Administration Building, comprising two spacious rooms, with consultation and Faculty reading room adjoined, afford a very delightful place for study and research. The courteous and efficient librarian, always present to help students in finding the information desired, is a valuable asset to the school. Additional funds have been appropriated to raise the library to standard requirements.

Laboratories

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and will be strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at college.

No student will be excused either to leave his or her duty before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy or visit any store or eating-place unless such is registered and approved by State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Business places open on Sunday will not be patronized by either Students or Faculty.

The student whose connection with the College is severed either by Faculty or his own volition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the College.

Students irregular upon College or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the College altogether.

Students from a distance will reside in only such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid first of the semester in advance and no refund will be made except in case of prolonged illness. An additional charge of 20% will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to register during opening day of the semester.

A charge of one dollar per day for registration after opening day.

Students entering later than October 15 or February 15 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than October 15 or February 15 will not be given the full semester's credit for work done.

The coming of visitors will not release the student from any school duty whatever.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

Permission to be absent from College may be secured once during semester.

Absence From Classes

Milligan College makes no provisions for absence from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled. However, absences are classified under three heads as follows:

(1) Absence due to the sickness of the student. A student absent from a recitation on account of illness can be excused by the registrar upon presentation of physician's certificate or written order from the Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the missed work made up according to conditions.

- (2) Absence caused by severe illness or death of a near relative of the student or to selection as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity such as inter-collegiate athletic contest or an inter-collegiate debate. In such cases the student may be excused upon the presentation of a written statement endorsed by his or her Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the work made up according to conditions.
- (3) All absences not coming under (1) and (2) remain unexcused until the student makes up the work to the full satisfaction of the instructor. In the event the work is not made up to the full satisfaction of the instructor or that it is not made up promptly the instructor will either lower the grade or reduce the credit hours of the student or if in his judgment it seems wise he may do both.

Expenses

The topic, "Expense," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

Itemized expense of a semester, of eighteen weeks:

remized expense of a semester, of eighteen weeks	•
College tuition	32.00
Sub-College tuition	30.00
Music	30.00
Art	25.00
Activity fee—Athletics and Lyceum	10.00
Physics laboratory fee	2.50
Chemistry fee	4.00
Board per month	15.00
Rooms for girls per semester (heat, light, hot and cold water)	22.50
Rooms for boys per semester (heat and light)	22.50
Electric fees	2.50
Guarantee deposit for keys and room damage	5.00

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pillow cases, towels, napkins, and extra blankets.

Girls rooming alone will be charged from $2.00 to $3.00 extra per month.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Literary Organizations

The literary organizations contribute quite as much to the student development as do the strictly academic studies. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in team work, and for the study and discussion of vital questions and problems.

The American Literary Society is an organization for the young men. This organization has been a live feature of student life in the College for many years. The Athenian Literary Society was organized among the young men at the beginning of last year. The Athenian affords a worthy rival for the American and divides the College honors equally with her elder sister society. Among the young women of the College there are two organizations: the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society; each organization does a character of work very helpful to those participating. Within the first month of the College year, the societies select questions, and choose speakers for the annual Inter-society debates, which are given in the following December. These debates are also preliminary to the annual Inter-Collegiate debates, which are features of the Spring semester.

Musical Organizations

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found: A band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent and taste can find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who own musical instruments should not fail to bring them.

Religious Organizations

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Mission Band; The Student Volunteer Band; The Girl's Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for Religious Training.

Athletic Organizations

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All Inter-Collegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Appalachia Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Milligan College makes it a definite policy to live up to the spirit and purpose of strictly amateur sportsmanship; and has no patience with the violation of a principle by dodging behind some technicality. Milligan College also holds that no athletic program in a college can be justified as an end in itself. Only in so far as athletic sports contribute to the values of loyalty, honesty, fair-dealing, and true manhood, is the college administration interested. It is believed that this cardinal point constitutes the crux of the much discussed athletic problem.

Consequently all persons who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable, gentlemen; second of all, they must be earnest students, and third and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the College games is in charge.

THE COLLEGE

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

Type of Student Desired

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them letters of recommendation. Students who fail in fifty per cent of their work need not apply for entrance. Those desiring advanced standing, claiming credit from other schools must furnish credentials properly endorsed.

Requirements for College Entrance

The unit employed in measuring work for College entrance is the equivalent of five recitations per week, throughout the school year. A course in English, for example, which recites five times per week during the year, will count as one unit. At least sixteen units are required for admission without condition. The sixteen units must include the following:

English	3	units
Foreign Languages	.2	units
History		unit
Mathematics
Science		units
Electives
PICCUIVED	U 7%	umus

Entrance Requirements by Departments

- English 3 units minimum; 4 units maximum.
 - 1 unit Grammar and Composition.
 - 2 units of literature to comprise ten classics, carefully read in class, and four classics studied in class.
- Languages: 2 units minimum; Latin, French, Greek, Spanish, or German.
- History: 1 unit required from following: Ancient History, Medieval History, Advanced American History and Civics.

Mathematics: 21/2 units minimum; 31/2 maximum. Following require	ed:
Algebra1½ units
Geometry1 unit
Following elective:
Solid Geometry
Trigonometry unit
Science: 1 unit laboratory science, required from following:
Chemistry1 unit
Physics1 unit
Biology1 unit
Maximum credits allowed—4 units.

Electives—Bible, 1 unit maximum; Music, 1 unit maximum; Gymnasium, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Science, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Art, 1 unit maximum; Manual Training, 1 unit maximum. Typewriting, ½ unit for five hours per week; Shorthand, ¼ unit for 5 hours per week; Bookkeeping, 1 unit for 10 hours work per week; Mechanical Drawing, 1 unit maximum.

Entrance by Examination

In case students cannot satisfy by credentials, examination will be required.

Conditioned Entrance

Students presenting not less than fifteen units will be admitted to the Freshman Class on the condition that they begin at once to make up the work in which they are deficient. Such work must be completed before the Sophomore year. Conditioned students may secure tutors, approved by the Faculty, to assist in making up the work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION AND DEGREES

Classical Course—A. B. Degree

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the A. B. degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- 1. Ancient Languages—Twelve hours of either College Latin or College Greek.
- 2. Chemistry—Six hours of Chemistry I.
- 3. Education—Six hours of Education.
- 4. English-Twenty-four hours of English including English I.
- 5. History and Political Science-Six hours.
- 6. Mathematics—Six hours of College Algebra and Trigonometry.
- 7. Modern Languages—Twelve hours of a modern language, other than the language offered as entrance requirements.
- 8. Philosophy and Psychology—Twelve hours of Philosophy, including Psychology and Logic.
- 9. Physics-Six hours of Physics I.
- 10. Sacred Literature—Six hours of General Bible.
 - 11. Sociology and Economics—Six hours.

Electives—Twenty-six hours of work in any departments in which the courses count as college credit.

Scientific Course—B. S. Degree

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the B. S. Degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- 6. Modern Languages—Twelve hours of a modern language other than the language offered as entrance requirements.
- 3. English—Eighteen hours of English, including English I.
- 7. Philosophy and Psychology—Six hours of Psychology and Logic.
- 2. Education—Six hours of Education.

- 8. *Physics-Six hours of Physics I.
- 1. *Chemistry—Six hours of Chemistry I.
- 4. History and Political Science—Six hours.
- 10. Sociology and Economics-Six hours.
- 5. Mathematics—Twelve hours of Mathematics, including College Algebra and Trigonometry.
- 9. Sacred Literature—Six hours of General Bible.
- Electives—Twenty-six hours of work in any departments in which the courses count as college credits.
- *Forty-two hours of Science and Mathematics are required for the B. S. Degree. At least twenty-four hours of the fortytwo must be in science. At least twelve hours of the fortytwo must be in Mathematics. Six hours of the forty-two may be taken either in Science or in Mathematics.

Ministerial Course—A. B. Degree

To obtain the Ministerial A. B. Degree, one must have the regular requirements for the classical A. B. degree, on condition that he chooses at least eighteen hours of Bible from the twenty-six hours of electives.

Thesis

A thesis of five thousand words or more is required of each candidate for a degree. This thesis must be accepted by a professor in whose department it is written, and a type-written copy of it must be presented to the library before the degree is conferred.

Physical Training

Every sudent must take two hours of Physical Training each semester.

Laboratories

In all laboratory courses, two hours of work in a laboratory count as one hour of credit.

Grading System

The passing grade shall be indicated by the following letters:—A, B, C, and D. E shall indicate a condition, and F shall indicate failure.

Pre-Medical Department

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical school.

These requirements include the regular sixteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours. It is probable that beginning January 1, 1925 these requirements will be raised to three college years and ninety semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this department will be accepted by all affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry I.

Biology I.
Mathematics I.

French I or German I.

English I.

Organic Chemistry

Physics I.

Qualitative Analysis IIA.

French II or German II.

Quantitative Analysis, Biology II (A. and B.), and Psychology are recommended as electives, although not required.

Students desiring entrance to this department must present the following High School Units:

English, 3 units.

Some Foreign Language, 2 units.

Algebra and Plane Geometry, 21/2 units.

History, 1 unit.

Science, 2 units.

Electives, 5½ units.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES OF STUDY

DEPARTMENT OF ANCIENT LANGUAGES

GREEK

Greek I

A. White's Beginner's Greek, and one book of the Anabasis of Xenophen are completed the first year. Great care is taken to lay the foundation very thoroughly. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Greek I-A. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Wright.

Greek II

A. Anabasis. Homer. During this semester, the Anabasis is completed. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. The Iliad of Homer is read during the second semester. Prose composition is carried as a collateral study throughout the year. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

Greek III

A. Memorabilia. New Testament. Rapid translations, but at the same time great accuracy is kept in view. Frequent lectures are given on Greek Mythology, Architecture and Sculpture. Eighteen weeks. Three Hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Greek III-A. Eighteen weeks.

Three hours. Professor Wright.

Greek IV

A. Plato's Apology. Demosthenes' De Corona. These and other books are offered to those desiring to take a more advanced course. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Greek IV-A. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

Greek V

- A. Review of the Moods and Tenses of Greek as found in the New Testament. Acts of Apostles is read. Each student makes for himself a commentary upon which he reports at each session of the class. The reports are discussed with supplemental lectures. Open to students completing Greek I. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.
- B. A continuation of Greek V-A. Other selected portions of the New Testament are studied in the same manner. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

LATIN

Latin I

A. Cicero. Four Orations Against Cataline. The Poet Archias. Prose Composition is taken as a collateral study. Lectures on Roman History (Cicero and his times). Open to students offering two entrance units in Latin. Students offering three units cannot take this course. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Latin I-A. Eighteen weeks.

Five hours. Professor Wright.

Latin II

A. Vergil's Aeneid. A study of Latin Prosody. Roman Mythology. Collateral reading on the history and literature of the Augustan Age. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Latin II-A. Eighteen weeks.

Three hours. Professor Wright.

Latin III

A. Cicero and Tacitus. De Senectute and De Amicitia are read during the first semester. Constant reference to English word building on Latin roots. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. Germania and Agricola of Tacitus are read, and word building continued. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

Latin IV

A. Horace and other authors. Selections from the Odes, Satires, and Epistles, and either the De Providentia of Seneca, or the De Nautra Deorum of Cicero. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Latin IV-A. Eighteen weeks.

Two hours. Professor Wright.

Note: For the present, students who have had no Latin, and desire to get a working knowledge of it, may be accommodated under a special teacher. For these, classes will be organized in Beginner's Latin and in Caesar.

SEIMITIC LANGUAGES

HEBREW

Hebrew I

A. For beginners. Study of the laws of the language, and familiarizing the student with the terms and forms.

Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

B. Continuation of the work of the first semester. Reading and analysis of the Book of Jonah. Study of accents. Additional readings from the Book of Genesis. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

Hebrew II

A. Advanced Hebrew. Selected readings from the Hebrew prophets. Special exegetical work. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

B. The Pentateuch—selected portions. Critical, historical and religious significance. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

Biology I

- A. Zoology: Lectures and readings on anatomy, physiology and ecology of types from the different phyla, considerable attention being paid to the life processes and economic importance of each group. Laboratory work on representative types of each phyla. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Six hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.
- B. Botany: A systematic study is made of the algae, fungi, mosses, liverworts, ferns and flowering plants, considering their relations to each other, and development. Much laboratory work on the common plants and their environment. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Six hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours). Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

Biology II

- A. Comparative Anatomy: A systematic and comparative study is made of the leading types of the vertebrates. Each system is dissected and studied in its relation to the development of the animal world. Primarily a Pre-Medical course. Eighteen weeks. One hour lecture. Four hours laboratory. (Credit—three hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.
- B. Embryology: Lectures and readings on the embryology of the vertebrates. Laboratory work consists of the embryology of the chick and pig. A Pre-Medical course. Pre-requisite Biology I-A. Eighteen weeks. One hour lecture. Four hours laboratory. (Credit—three hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Chemistry I

A. General Chemistry: The fundamental principles and phenomena of inorganic, organic and physical chemistry, and the foundation of analytical chemistry. Most of the time is given to the study of the elements and inorganic compounds. The practical side as well as the theoretical side of the subject is given considerable attention. McPherson and Henderson: General Inorganic Chemistry. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Eighteen weeks. Three hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours.) Professor Hill and assistant.

B. A continuation of Chemistry I-A. Laboratory fee, $5.00. Eighteen weeks. Three hours lectures. Four hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours). Professor Hill and Assistant.

Chemistry II

A. Qualitative Analysis: This work will consist of the identification of all common metallic ions and of the acid radicals. Some work on alloys will be given. A number of unknowns are required. Pre-requisite, Chemistry I. Eighteen weeks. One hour lecture. Nine hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

B. Quantitative Analysis: The work of this semester will be the usual determinations employed in Gravimetris and Volumetric analysis. Analysis of a number of compounds required. Pre-requisite, Chemistry I, and II-A. Eighteen weeks. One hour lecture. Nine hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

Chemistry III

A. Organic Chemistry: A course designed for those wishing to take Pre-Medical work and for others who wish to continue the study of Chemistry. The properties, preparation and structure of the leading types of compounds are studied. Emphasis is laid on the preparation and purification of the more important compounds. Pre-requisite Chemistry I. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Six hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours). Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

B. A continuation of Chemistry III-A. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Six hours laboratory. (Credit—five hours.) Professor Cochrane and Assistant.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION Education I

A. Monroe's Brief Course in the History of Education is used, with extended collateral readings, lectures, and class room discussions. The object of the course is to get in broad outline the development of the educational ideal in connection with the conditions in which it had its origin, and amid which it grew. Special attention is given to the educational systems in both Europe and America. These systems are analyzed as revealing epochal and national ideals, the writings of individuals being studied for their contribution to and their interpretation of these systems. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Boyd.

B. The Philosophy of Education. A continuation of the historic point of view, and the genetic approach to educational problems. The socialized recitation. The values of a balanced curriculum. The meaning of mental age, adjustment, pedagogical ethics, etc. Eighteen weeks. Three hours.

Professor Boyd.

Education II

A. Rural Life and Education. The social characteristics and social advantages and disadvantages of the rural community are studied with the aid of rural life surveys. Text: Vogt: Rural Sociology. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Lappin.

B. Rural school management and administration, including a study of the small school in the open country, and the modern high school in small centers of population form the subject matter of the course. Text: Bagley: Classroom Management; Johnson and others. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Lappin.

Education III

A. The Teaching of English in High School. The texts and methods for teaching literature and composition in high school and college. Study of a text book on methods, and references for readings in others. Extensive study of literature for use in the junior high school. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Rooker.

B. The Teaching of English. Extensive study of literature for use in the senior high school. References to texts in methods. Reports from journals dealing with the teaching of English in high school and college. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Rooker.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

English I

- A. Review of grammar and composition. Theme-work based on text of rhetoric and composition. Oral and written composition and self-expression. Current events and brief themes on current topics selected from periodicals. Practice in writing short stories, poems, essays, briefs, and debates. College journalism begun. Required of all Freshmen. - B. Continuation of course A, with special study of the influence of political parties. Text: Brooks: Political Parties and Electoral Problems. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Lappin.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics I

- A. A thorough and comprehensive course in Trigonometry, including the definition of functions, the development of general formulae, the theory and use of logarithms, the solution of right and oblique triangles. The text book work is extensively supplemented with practical problems. Eighteen weeks. Five Hours. Professor Hyder.
- B. College Algebra. General review of exponents, quadratics equations and problems, properties of equations, indeterminate coefficients, binominal theorem, permutation and combination, series. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics II

A. Analytic Geometry. Loci and their equations, the straight line, construction of graphs, solution of formulae, the circle, different systems of co-ordinates, transformation of co-ordinates, the parabola and the ellipse. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

B. Differential Calculus. The principles and formulae, with application to such problems as development of series, maxima and minima, tangents, and many practical problems.

Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics III

A. Integral Calculus. The integral is studied from the two-fold standpoint of anti-differentiation and the process of summation. After developing standard formulae of integration a large number and variety of practical problems are solved. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Prof. Hyder.

B. The Teaching of Mathematics. A critical study of teaching mathematics, especial attention is given to the problems of secondary schools, the purpose and value of the study of mathematics, the curriculum, the texts, methods and modes. Particular attention is given to the teaching of Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry. This course includes text book work with extensive collateral reading. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Hyder.

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES

FRENCH

French I

- A. Part I of Fraser and Squair's Grammar; conjugation of the regular and more common irregular verbs; special stress on pronunciation; reading of about 100 pages of simple French; sight-reading regularly, class-room conversation and writing from dictation. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.
- B. Review of part I of the Grammar with special assignments from Part II; drill in elementary composition; reading from 300 to 400 pages of French text with considerable sight-reading; memorizing of French proverbs and poems; writing from dictation. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.

French II

A. Advanced grammar based on Fraser and Squair, Part II, in connection with drill composition; original composition based on portions of the French text and occasional short themes upon topics selected from the reading. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.

B. Extensive reading, prepared and at sight, from modern French prose writers; conversational drill. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.

French III

A. History of French Literature supplemented by copious reading from French lyrical poets of the nineteenth century; Hugo's Les Miserables. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Rooker.

B. A study of the French short story with rapid and extensive reading from Merimee, Maupassant, Daudet, Balzac, Coope, About, Gautier, Theuriet, Zola, Musset, Halevy, Bazin, Flaubert. Emphasis is placed upon the work of Maupassant. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Rooker.

French IV

- A. A study of the classic drama of the seventeenth century based on the drama of Corneille, Racine and Moliere. Special emphasis is placed upon Moliere. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.
- B. A study of the later French dramatists based on the dramas of Hugo, Rostand, and Maeterlinck. In connection with the work of both semesters, collateral reading is done on the history of the French drama, collateral assignments are made in Woodbridge's "The Drama: Its Law and Its Technique," and on the part of each student a critical study is required of some play not read in the class room, such study being presented in the form of an essay. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Rooker.

GERMAN

German I

A. Beginner's course in German. Drill in Grammar, composition, conversation and translation. Reading of such texts as "Hoher als die Kirche." Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Poage.

B. A continuation of German I-A. Eighteen weeks.

Three hours. Professor Poage.

German II

A. Continuation of grammar and conversation. Translation and construction stressed. Storm's "Immensee," Baumbach's "Marchen und Gedichte." Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Poage.

B. A continuation of German II-A. Eighteen weeks.

Three hours. Professor Poage.

German III

A. Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell" or "Maria Stuart." Lessing's "Minna von Barnhelm," or Schiller's "Die Jungfrau von Orleans." German grammar and composition and construction stressed. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Poage. (Not offered in 1924-25.)

B. A continuation of German III-A. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Poage. (Not offered in 1924-25.)

SPANISH

Spanish I

- A. Beginner's course in Spanish, based on Crawford's Grammar. Conjugation of the regular and irregular verbs. Castilian and American pronunciation stressed with special reference to the sounds as used in Spanish America. Simple reading. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.
- B. Continuation of grammar—syntax. Reading of not less than 200 pages of elementary Spanish texts. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

Spanish II

A. Advanced grammar and composition based on the Spanish Academy grammar. Reading of Spanish-American literature. Composition daily based on text of reading. Not less than 200 pages of reading. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

B. Continuation of reading and composition. Spanish-American literature. Rapid reading of various texts with much practice in sight reading. Not less than 200 pages of reading. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

Spanish III

A. European Spanish Literature, with grammar and composition. Grammar based on the text of the Academy and Bello-Cuervo. Reading of not less than 200 pages of Spanish classics. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

B. European Spanish literature, with grammar and composition. Reading of modern Spanish works—not less than 200 pages, with much sight work. Eighteen weeks.

Three hours. Professor Ingle.

A. Spanish Business Correspondence and general letter writing. Reading and review of various authors, with essays descriptive. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

B. Iberian Philology. Comparison of Spanish and Portuguese. Reading of Portuguese and Spanish texts with grammar. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

Physics I

- A. General Physics. The fundamental principles of mechanics, sound, and heat are treated. Classroom instruction is given by text-book, recitation, problems, and experimental demonstration. In the laboratory each student performs experiments upon which written reports are required at the end of each week. Pre-requisite, a knowledge of solid geometry and of the trigonometry of the right triangle. Four hours recitation, two hours laboratory. Fee, $2.50. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Hill and Assistant.
- B. General Physics. A continuation of Physics I-A, covering the elements of electricity and magnetism, and light. Three hours recitation, four hours laboratory. Fee, $2.50. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Hill and Assistant.

Physics II

- A. Elementary Mechanics. An introductory course to engineering science, open to students who have taken Physics I, Mathematics II-A, B. One hour recitation, four hours laboratory. Fee, $2.50. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hill
- B. Descriptive Astronomy. A cultural course, general in its nature, illustrated by globes, charts, and lantern slides. The principal constellations are learned. Fee, $2.50. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hill.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY

Psychology I

A. Introductory Psychology. A lecture course using a Text as the student's guide. The course provides a general view of the science laying especial emphasis upon the broad facts and laws of the thought process. Psychology is also studied as the science of human behavior, the purpose being to understand human actions, and to direct all the psychic forces of the pupil wisely.

This course is open to students of Freshman and Sophomore standing and is pre-requisite to all other courses in Psychology and Education. Eighteen weeks. Three hours.

Professor Boyd.

B. A continuation of course A with extended reference work, about eight weeks of the semester is devoted to a comprehensive study of Formal Logic, dealing with the thought process in connection to important stages of development. SPECIAL DEPARTMENTS

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Miss Adams

I. Shorthand

Gregg Shorthand, the standard Shorthand system of America is used. Gregg Shorthand is easy to learn, easy to read, easy to write, and is superior in speed possibilities. Texts: Gregg Shorthand Manual. Gregg Speed Studies.

II. Typewriting

The Rational Typewriting System, a thoroughly graded and progressive course of lessons is taught. Text: Rational Typewriting, Revised Edition.

III. Dictation, Spelling, and Correspondence

In addition to the above named courses, classes are offered in Dictation, Spelling, and Business Correspondence.

Note: Beginning classes are offered both during the first and second semesters. All classes are met by special arrangement.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in the highest degree and at the same time to develop his taste in accordance with true tradition of the art. This language which expresses more than words, which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique, and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The Music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of Art.

Course in Instruction.

It has not been deemed advisable to adopt any particular set of studies to be used arbitrarily, but rather to suit the needs of the individual pupil. A general outline of the plan of study may, however, be given.

Pianoforte

First Year. This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc.

Second Year. Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bohm, Lange, and modern composers.

Third Year. Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bach. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers.

Fourth Year. Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschorn, Bach, Preludes and Fugues, Cramer, Octave Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelssohn and others.

THEORETICAL COURSE

Music History

Among the advantages offered are the course in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department and other teachers. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned.

Harmony

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the text-books employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke.

Theory

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory.

Free Advantages

In addition to the lessons of the regular course the students of the Musical Department have free access to classes in Harmony, History of Music, chorus practice, orchestra drill, and recitals. The student's recitals are considered indispensable advantages to a liberal education in music.

Diplomas

Pupils who have successfully completed the full course as outlined together with a year or more of Harmony, Theory of Music, History of Music, and a memorized recital, will be granted a diploma from the Music Department.

DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC ART

Miss Richardson

Domestic Art I

Course includes hand sewing; use and care of sewing machines; interpretation and use of commercial patterns; planning, construction and care of typical undergarments, Study of simple outer garments of wash materials. Study of textiles; uses and costs of standard materials; simple tests for identifying fibers.

Domestic Art II

Course includes the study of how to plan garments suited to the individual use and income. A thorough knowledge of and to develop skill in the drafting of foundation patterns to different measurements; to give experience in testing out these drafts in inexpensive materials; and to teach students to design more complicated patterns from these foundation drafts. Principal drafts made are shirt waist, middy blouse and other foundation patterns.

Domestic Art III

This course includes the principles involved in handling wool and silk materials. The patterns used for constructive work are adapted from drafted patterns previously made. Students registering for this course are required to have a tight-fitting lining. Topics: padding form to fit the tight-fitted lining; making patterns; construction of a wool one piece dress or suit and a silk street or afternoon dress; suitable decorative stitches; appropriate accessories; adaptability of line color, fabric, decoration and draping to different types of individuals.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. James T. Edwards

Physical Education

Beginning with the fiscal year of 1924-25, Milligan College will offer a complete program of physical education. This program will be required of all students for the full four years on the basis of a minimum of two periods a week. The physical education program will be divided into gymnasium work, swimming, and Varsity Athletics.

Any branch of varsity athletics constitutes an elective for the regular physical education work during such time as the student is actually a member of the varsity squad. In the event a student is for any reason, discontinued from the varsity squad, or the particular sport in which he is interested ends its season, he will thereupon return to regular physical education work. Students engaged in actual physical work around the institution may be exempt from the physical courses by arrangement with the deans of the college and the physical director.

The gymnasium courses will consist of such things as marching, calisthenics, apparatus work, group games and setting up exercises. Mass athletics are encouraged on the outside during suitable weather. Promotion and graduation will require the proper units in physical education except for electives and those who are physically unfit, this to be determined by medical examination.

DEPARTMENT OF DRAMATIC ART

Miss Hart

Expression is the manifestation of mental activity; the outward sign of life and spirit.

The character of expression is determined by the impression which precedes it. "From within outward," is the law of nature upon which true education rests and the expressive art is necessary to complete the educational process.

The aim of Expression is to stimulate the imagination and power of creative thinking, to cultivate the habit of self-confidence and the ability for leadership and through harmonious training of the mind, voice and body to develop forceful and creative personalities. To train the student to become a true and living interpreter of the finest in literature as adapted to the platform, the stage, and the class room, and to enable him to express self with simplicity, security and force.

I. Preliminary

Dr. S. S. Curry's Text Books, Foundations of Expression and Classics. These books furnish a practical means of studying and training the mind, of stimulating and awakening the faculties, and the study of the mind in creating and assimilating ideas by true interpretation through the living voice.

II. Voice Training

Physiology of Voice. The study and practice of right conditions for the right production of pure tone. (Resonance and Flexibility of Voice and Tone Color.)

III. Body Training and Harmonic Work

Two methods are used for the development of the physical organism: the organic method which aims to secure proportion and normal adjustment of all parts of the body; the harmonic method which develops the body for expression. Relaxing and reorganizing movements—Ease and Freedom.

IV. Public Speaking

Delivery is the expression of the human body through the human organisms. Text book work, extemporaneous speaking and group discussion. Repertoire; study and interpretation of Drama; Pantomimic Expression; Pantomimic Training and Character Study; Coaching of Plays.

SUB-COLLEGE WORK

Milligan College, in keeping with the general movement, on the part of Senior colleges in Tennessee, and due to the increase in number and efficiency in the High Schools, has abandoned the Department of the Academy or High School as such. A Department of Sub-College work in which students will be permitted to remove College Entrance Conditions, and to finish up delinquent High School courses will be maintained. This Department will be entirely separate from the College work in teaching-staff, records, discipline, etc. Four or five Sub-College courses preparatory to College entrance will be offered for the benefit of those who have not completed their Academy or High School work. These courses will be as follows: Courses in English, courses in Science, courses in a foreign Language, a course in Mathematics, and one in History: thus, students from three year High Schools and students whose work in High School has been somewhat irregular may have the opportunity, under most favorable conditions, to remove their delinquencies and to complete their entrance requirements, while, at the same time they are learning the ways of college life and are receiving the benefit of college activities.

SPECIAL

POINTS OF INTEREST TO YOUNG WOMEN

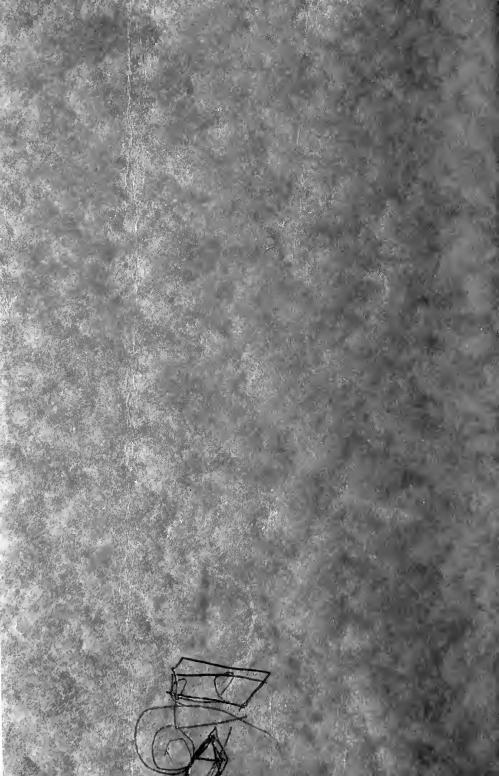

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, etc., otherwise mentioned in the catalog, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed room slippers, laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, rain-coat, overshoes, walking shoes with military heel, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except with the approval of parents and the school management. Such permissions will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 4. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain special permission from parents.
- 5. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 6. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.
- 7. Young women are under special regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions before the students enter or after they leave the school.
- 8. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 9. Graduates from all departments will wear voile or organdy white dresses, or material equally inexpensive.
- 10. All evening dresses must have approximately high necks and sleeves. No evening dresses may be worn until approved by the Dean of Women.

POINTS OF INTEREST TO

YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkin.
- 2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Patrons are urged not to ask for more than two visits a semester, except under special circumstances; in which case special arrangements must be made with the faculty.
- 3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 4. No young man may be absent from the village without special permission from the Dean of Men.
- 5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.
- 7. Young men must exercise special care in keeping their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.
- 8. Each occupant of a room in boys' dormitory will deposit with the Bursar at the opening of the school year, a fee of one dollar as a guaranty for the return of keys.
- 9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.
- 10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged, and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus.
- 11. A boy who is sufficiently ill to have his meals served in his room, will pay 10 cents extra for each meal so served.

FOREWORD

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty, and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, has never received the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in every branch of liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Early History

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century.

History of Milligan College

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek flowing just beyond, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the War between the States this School was given the name of Buffalo Institute. and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character left its impress upon the future history of the College. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian Culture, a clean heart, and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robt. Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood he had met, and therefore named the College, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world is written, not in books or upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the College has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

The Campus

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the graceful driveways, with clumps of shrubbery on either side, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—altogether constitute an unusual scene of imposing beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre overlooking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. No more beautiful scene can be found and no better field for outdoor sports could be desired. Plans are now being made to construct a standard one-quarter mile running track and to equip the natural amphitheatre with modern stadium facilities. Not alone as an athletic field is this part of the campus unsurpassed but from the point of view of scenic beauty it is little short of a perpetual delight.

Water Supply

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

Administration Building

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. first building erected here was very modest, but judged from the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive. brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. building is 80 feet by 125 feet. There are really four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive en-The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at the approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. class rooms, office rooms, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

Men's Dormitory

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, overlooking the entire college campus, is the splendid Men's Dormitory. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valleys on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. The view from this porch is inspiring. To the left of Buffalo Mountain there is a quiet, beautiful valley, presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from vision in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

This building is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Provisions in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences are ample. The building is equipped with the finest type of modern electric lighting. Each room is provided with a built-in clothes press. The rooms are furnished with the very best of modern enameled beds and comfortable mattresses throughout.

The chairs and tables are also in keeping.

Hardin Hall

This handsome Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a suplendid panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with rooms for Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, rooms for young ladies on the upper floors, and the Domestic Science Department in the well-lighted basement. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and reconstructed. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed; and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

President's Home

A modern eight-room bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's home.

Gymnasium

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has, recently, erected a large and commodious gymnasium. In variety of departments and diversified opportunities for physical culture the building is quite an institution within itself. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has an unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures too numerous to mention.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and kept at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further comprises a pair of new Brunswick Bowling Alleys installed, with all the latest advantages. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, rest room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of modern living quarters, conveniently arranged, and provided with all modern comforts together with a dormitory department. The living quarters are intended for the accommodation of members of the faculty, including the physical director, and the dormitory department is intended to care for the over-flow from the boys' dormitory.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, and the other outdoor sports such as track and tennis are to be added, swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

Healthfulness of Location

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superbhealthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand, seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchel, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the sea breeze. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities, would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

Boarding Department

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission of the faculty.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Proximity to Johnson City

Milligan College is only ten minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city; and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter County.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus line running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the College enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a ten minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Standards of Conduct and Government

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environments of the College are exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

College Regulations

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

Religious Life

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the College and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Sunday School, and Sunday morning Students who are unwilling to thus place themselves in a Christian atmosphere need not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the College to enforce religious activities but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life,

Social Relations

Social relationship may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the College to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straightforward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

Daily Program

Rising bell rings at 6:00 (Sunday, 6:45). Breakfast, 6:30 (Sunday, 7:15). First class bell, 7:20. Chapel, 9:20 to 9:45. Noon, 11:45 to 12:55. Class hours follow until 2:55. Supper, 5:30 o'clock.

Property Rights

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishing are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings. A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

Use of Tobacco

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of twenty will be admitted to the College or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the Ministerial Course of Study. It is also the policy of the College to prohibit the use of tobacco about the College buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether. Cardplaying and profanity are also forbidden at Milligan College.

Questions of Economy

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in College, and it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

Opportunities for Self Help

The College will use students for all the different forms of work, in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive compensation according to their efficiency, all work being graded, A, B, C, and D.

Those doing their work very well, and more than is required, will be graded A, and receive thirty cents per hour. Those doing their work acceptably, without supervision, will be graded B, and receive twenty-five cents per hour. Those doing their work well, only under supervision, will be graded C, and receive twenty cents per hour. Those doing their work poorly and under frequent supervision will be graded D, and will receive fifteen cents per hour.

The positions of office helpers, firing, waiting tables, and washing dishes, will not be rated by the hour, and will only be given to grade A and B students. Students receiving grades of C and D will not be given any additional aid by gifts or notes. Students will only be permitted to work one half of their college expenses. In the event that the student is not able to pay the other half of his expenses, some generous individual may be found who is willing to provide for this amount, or the College may receive a note without interest for one year, with proper security.

There are no teaching positions open, and those receiving employment will not be permitted to use tobacco and will be expected to maintain passing grades. All students applying for aid should furnish recommendations from their teachers, or resident pastor. All financial arrangements must be made with the President. All students employed by the College are especially obligated to conform to the policies of the College cheerfully and encourage others to do so.

Opportunities for Young Ministers

Young men preparing for the ministry will find a number of churches within easy reach of Milligan College. Many of these churches depend upon students for supply. Those best qualified are able thus to obtain practical experience in the care of churches as well as the means of defraying a part of or all college expenses. No student will be privileged to preach whose class room work is not well done and whose conduct is questioned.

Special Scholarships

Milligan College maintains a special "Scholarship" equal in value to one-half actual College expenses less all fees, for the honor graduate of every Standard Class A High School. This "Scholarship," is offered with two objects in view:

First-To stimulate and encourage better work in the High Schools.

Second—To secure a selected type of students for the College.

Since the student body of Milligan College is limited in number, it is desirable by this means to maintain the highest possible personnel. Students who hold this "Scholarship," must maintain an average grade of not lower than B.

General Scholarships

A number of generous individuals offer Scholarships, varying in value, for the purpose of aiding young men and women who are wholly or in part dependent upon their own exertions in securing an education. It is not expected, however, that students whose expenses can be paid by parents, or through other sources, will apply for such aid.

Students who are beneficiaries of such "Scholarships" may be called upon to perform, in return, such service for the College as will not seriously interfere with their studies. And in addition are expected to maintain good average grades in their studies.

Examinations and Reports

Attendance is required upon examination in all courses. By vote of the Faculty an examination may be taken at another than the regular time upon the payment of a fee of one dollar.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by grades between A and D, the latter being the lowest passing grade. E indicates condition, F indicates failure. A conditioned student will be given an opportunity during the following semester to remove the condition and receive credit; but to one who has failed, such an opportunity will not be granted.

If a student does not secure a passing grade in at least one-half of the work for which he is enrolled in any one semester, or two-thirds of his work for any one year, unless his failure is due to causes beyond his control, he thereby forfeits his right to enroll for the succeeding semester. Also, if a student is irregular in attendance, he forfeits his right to continue as a student of the College.

Number of Recitations Per Week

Each student is expected to carry sixteen hours of work per week. Permission to carry more may be granted by the Faculty to students who show ability to do more than the average amount of work.

Textbooks

Textbooks may be purchased at less than dealers' prices from the college bookstore. Terms are strictly cash. Books may often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

Monday Holiday

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday.

Class Room Slogan

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for cutting classes; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worthwhile results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND DEBATE

Debates

Every year Milligan College has about four or five intercollegiate debates. In these debates training in argumentation is given to about twenty men. In 1925-26 there will also be debates for women.

Oratorical Contests

Milligan College is a member of the East Tennessee Oratorical Association and always sends a representative to compete for the honors and prizes of that organization. During the year 1925-1926 there will be a contest for men and also one for women.

Oratorical Contest for Men

There are offered prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to the best orations prepared and delivered by young men of the College.

Crouch Oratorical Contest

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, of Johnson City, Tenn., offers prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to the best orations prepared and delivered by young women of the college.

Lucas Reading Contest

Miss Annie Lee Lucas, of East Radford, Va., offers prizes of ten dollars and five dollars for the two best readings given by young women of the college.

Essay Contest

Major R. Nelson Campbell, of Johnson City, offers a prize of twenty dollars for the best essay written by a student of Milligan College on the subject, "How to Make a Greater Johnson City."

Library

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added to the library. One thousand dollars has been set aside as an annual appropriation to be used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The collection includes practically all of the leading publications of the day. The new library quarters on the second floor of the administration building comprising two spacious rooms with large stack room adjoining afford a delightful and convenient place for study and research. The courteous and efficient librarian, always present to help students in finding the information desired, is a valuable asset to the school. The library constitutes the real work-shop of the institution during the day and in the evenings.

Laboratories

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and will be strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at college.

No student will be excused either to leave his or her duty before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy or visit any store or eating place unless such is registered and approved by State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Business places open on Sunday will not be patronized by either Students or Faculty.

The student whose connection with the College is severed either by Faculty or his own volition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the College.

Students irregular upon College or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the College altogether.

Students from a distance will reside in only such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid first of the semester in advance and no refund will be made except in case of prolonged illness. An additional charge of 20% will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to register during opening day of the semester and a charge of one dollar per day for registration after opening day. Students entering later than October 15 or February 15 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than October 15 or February 15 will not be given the full semester's credit for work done.

Young men and young women visiting students will be considered as subject to all college regulations.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

Permission to be absent from College may be secured once during semester.

Absence From Classes

Milligan College makes no provisions for absence from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled. However, absences are classified under three heads as follows:

- (1) Absence due to the sickness of the student. A student absent from a recitation on account of illness can be excused by the registrar upon presentation of physician's certificate or written order from the Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the missed work made up according to conditions.
- (2) Absence caused by severe illness or death of a near relative of the student or to selection as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity such as an inter-collegiate athletic contest or an inter-collegiate debate. In such cases the student may be excused upon the presentation of a written statement endorsed by his or her Dean. The instructor may arrange to have the work made up according to conditions.
- (3) All absences not coming under (1) and (2) remain unexcused until the student makes up the work to the full satisfaction of the instructor. In the event the work is not made up to the full satisfaction of the instructor or that it is not made up promptly the instructor will either lower the grade or reduce the credit hours of the student, or if in his judgment it seems wise he may do both.

Expenses

The topic, "Expense," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before a student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

Itemized expense of a semester of eighteen weeks:

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Literary Societies

The literary organizations contribute quite as much to the student development as do the strictly academic courses. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in teamwork, and for the study and discussion of vital problems. Not least among these organizations are the literary societies.

There are four well organized and efficient literary societies maintained by the student body of the College. These are the American Literary Society for young men, the Athenian Literary Society for young men, the Philomathean Literary Society for young women, and the Ossolian Literary Society for young women. Each of these societies has a room, or "home," which it has equipped by its own initiative and resources and in which great pride is main-Each of the above organizations does a character of work very helpful to those participating. Young men and women chosen for inter-collegiate oratorical contests, debates, etc., are first tried out and recommended to the faculty by the literary organizations. Every student entering Milligan College is encouraged to become an active member of one or the other of these organizations. These societies meet once each year in annual inter-society debate. inter-society debates are preliminary to the annual intercollegiate debates and are held not later than December of each year looking toward the schedule of inter-collegiate debates which come in the following Spring Semester.

Musical Organizations

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found a band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent and taste can find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who own musical instruments should not fail to bring them.

Religious Organizations

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Student Volunteer Band; The Girls Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for Religious Training.

Dramatic Club

For the cultivation of Dramatic Art and dramatic taste, as well as, for the discovery and development of whatever talent the student body may possess, a regular dramatic club is maintained among the students throughout the year under the direction and supervision of the teacher of Expression. This club is a very popular, as well as, a very valuable organization. At intervals during the year the members of this club render most pleasing programs in which all the fine arts are exhibited. This club holds bi-monthly meetings and is a most valuable asset to the development of the student body.

Latin Club

Not least among the organizations of Milligan College is its Latin Club. This club is under the sponsor-ship of the Head of the Latin Department and is intended to foster an interest in the ancient languages and to develop a much needed sense of appreciation for the wonderful artistic sense of the ancients, particularly the Greeks and Romans. This club of course has its social and pleasing features, and in addition, does a great deal of real work, looking toward the development of the aesthetic side of its members.

Athletic Organizations

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All inter-collegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Appalachia Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Milligan College makes it a definite policy to live up to the spirit and purpose of strictly amateur sportsmanship; and has no patience with the violation of a principle by dodging behind some technicality. Milligan College also holds that no athletic program in a college can be justified as an end in itself. Only in so far as athletic sports contribute to the values of loyalty, honesty, fair-dealing, and true manhood, is the college administration interested. It is believed that this cardinal point constitutes the crux of the much discussed athletic problem.

Consequently, all persons who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable, gentlemen; second of all, they must be earnest students, and third and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the College games is in charge.

Accredited List

At the recent meeting in the city of Memphis of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, Milligan College was placed on the Non-Membership Accredited List of this Association. Thus granting full teaching privileges, etc., to her graduates in all the territory over which the Association has jurisdiction. The Non-Membership feature is due only to the one item of insufficient endowment.

Forensic Club

The students have an organization known as the Forensic Club, consisting of inter-collegiate debaters and orators. The officers for the year 1925-1926 are: Kenneth Hart, President; Glen Pryor, Vice President; and W. G. Smallwood, Secretary.

The "M" Club

One of the recent organizations in Milligan College is known as the "M" Club. This club includes all who win the privilege of wearing the official "M" by virtue of athletic ability in any of the forms of athletics conducted in Milligan College. The club fosters clean and wholesome athletic principles and stands unflinchingly for real and meritorious sportsmanship. The "M" Club is one of the live clubs of the Institution.

THE COLLEGE

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

Type of Student Desired

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them letters of recommendation. Students who fail in fifty per cent of their work need not apply for entrance. Those desiring advanced standing, claiming credit from other schools must furnish credentials properly endorsed.

Requirements for College Entrance

The unit employed in measuring work for College entrance is the equivalent of five recitations per week, throughout the school year. A course in English, for example, which recites five times per week during the year, will count as one unit. At least sixteen units are required for admission without condition. The sixteen units must include the following:

English3	units
Foreign Languages	units
History	unit
Mathematics
Science2	units
Electives

Entrance Requirements by Departments

English: 3 units minimum; 4 units maximum.

1 unit Grammar and Composition.

2 units of literature to comprise ten classics, carefully read in class, and four classics studied in class.

Languages: 2 units minimum; Latin, French, Greek, Spanish, or German.

History: 1 unit required from following: Ancient History, Medieval History, Advanced American History and Civics.

Mathematics: 2½ units minimum; 3½ maximum. Following required:

Algebra 1½ units Geometry 1 unit

Following elective: Solid Geometry ½ Trigonometry ½
Science: 1 unit laboratory science, required from followi	ng:
J	unit unit
Biology1	unit

Maximum credits allowed—4 units.

Electives—Bible, 1 unit maximum; Music, 1 unit maximum; Gymnasium, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Science, 1 unit maximum; Do-ium, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Science, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Art, 1 unit maximum; Manual Training, 1 unit maximum. Typewriting, ½ unit for five hours per week; Shorthand, ¼ unit for 5 hours per week; Bookkeeping, 1 unit for 10 hours work per week; Mechanical Drawing, 1 unit maximum.

Entrance by Examination

In case students cannot satisfy by credentials, examination will be required.

Conditioned Entrance

Students presenting not less than fifteen units will be admitted to the Freshman Class on the condition that they begin at once to make up the work in which they are deficient. Such work must be completed before the Sophomore year. Conditioned students may secure tutors, approved by the Faculty, to assist in making up the work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION AND DEGREES

Classical Course—A. B. Degree

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the A. B. Degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- Ancient Languages—Twelve hours of either College Latin or College Greek.
- 2. Education—Six hours of Education.
- 3. English-Twenty-four hours of English, including English I.
- 4. History and Social Science—Twelve hours to be elected from the Department of History, Political Science, Sociology, and Economics.

- 5. Mathematics—Six hours in any two of the following: College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry.
- 6. Modern Language—Twelve hours of a modern language, other than the language offered as entrance requirements.
- 7. Philosophy and Psychology—Twelve hours of Philosophy, including Psychology and Logic.
- 8. Sacred Literature—Six hours of Bible.
- 9. Science—Sixteen hours, (eight hours to be elected from each of two departments).
- 10. Electives—Twenty-two hours of work in any department in which the courses count as college credit.
-  Total—A total of 128 hours are now required for graduation.
-  (Beginning with the class of 1928-1929 a total of 132 hours will be required for graduation.)

Scientific Course—B. S. Degree

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the B. S. degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- 1. Chemistry—Eight hours of Chemistry.
- 2. Education—Six hours of Education.
- 3. English-Eighteen hours of English, including English I.
- a. History and Social Science—Twelve hours to be elected from the Departments of History, Political Science, Sociology, and Economics.
- 5. Mathematics—Twelve hours of Mathematics including College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry.
- 6. Modern Languages—Twelve hours of a modern language, other than the language offered as entrance requirements.
- 7. Philosophy and Psychology—Six hours of Psychology and Logic.
- 8. Physics—Eight hours of Physics I.
- 9. Sacred Literature—Six hours of Bible.
- 10. Science or Mathematics, (in addition to requirements in specific departments)—Eighteen hours.
- 11. Electives—Twenty-two hours of work in any departments in which the courses count as college credit.
-  Total—A total of 128 hours are now required for graduation.
-  (Beginning with the class of 1928-1929 a total of 132 hours will be required for graduation.)

Ministerial Course—A. B. Degree

To obtain the Ministerial A. B. Degree, one must have the regular requirements for the classical A. B. degree, on condition that he chooses at least eighteen hours of Bible from the twenty-two hours of electives.

Thesis

A Thesis is required of each candidate for a degree. The subject and general outline of the Thesis must be submitted and approved at least one semester before the student's graduation. The Thesis must also be accepted by a professor in whose department it is written, and a typewritten copy of the same must be furnished the library.

Physical Training

Every student must take two hours of Physical Training each semester.

Laboratories

In all laboratory courses, two hours of work in a laboratory count as one hour of credit.

Requirements to Enter Different Classes

(Beginning with year 1925-1926)

To become a member of each class a student must have the following credits, and resident work:

- Freshman—15 H. S. Units. (If a student has a total of 15 units, but lacks two units in any department, he may make up those units during his Freshman and Sophomore years.)
- Sophomore—16 H. S. Units, and 26 Semester hours of College work, and 2 semesters of resident work.
- Junior-16 H. S. Units, and 54 Semester hours of College work, and 4 Semesters of resident work.
- Senior-16 H. S. Units, and 90 Semester hours of College work, and 6 Semesters of resident work.
- To graduate—16 H. S. Units, and 128 Semester hours of College work, and 8 Semesters of resident work.
- To graduate, (beginning with the class of 1928-1929), 16 H. S. Units and 132 Semester hours of College work, and 8 Semesters of resident work.

If a student does not make the required number of hours to become a member of a higher class, he remains a member of the lower class and is not put into the unclassified group.

The Bulletin is the official record of classification.

Grading System

The passing grade shall be indicated by the following letters:—A, B, C, and D. E shall indicate a condition, and F shall indicate failure.

Pre-Medical Department

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical school.

These requirements include the regular sixteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours. It is probable that beginning January 1, 1925 these requirements will be raised to three college years and ninety semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this department will be accepted by all affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry I.

Organic Chemistry.

Biology I.

Physics I.

Mathematics I.
French I or German I.

Qualitative Analysis IIA.

The alkala T

French II or German II.

English I.

Quantitative Analysis, Biology II (A. and B.), and Psychology are recommended as electives, although not required.

Students desiring entrance to this department must present the following High School Units:

English, 3 units.

Some Foreign Language, 2 units.

Algebra and Plane Geometry, 21/2 units.

History, 1 unit.

Science, 2 units.

Electives, 5½ units.

GREEK

Greek I

A. White's Beginner's Greek, and one book of the Anabasis of Xenophen are completed the first year. Great care is taken to lay the foundation very thoroughly. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Wright.

B. A continuation of Greek I-A. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Wright.

Greek II

A. Anabasis. Homer. During this semester, the Anabasis is completed. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. The Iliad of Homer is read during the second semester. Prose composition is carried as a collateral study throughout the year. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

B. Germania and Agricola of Tacitus are read, and word building continued. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Wright.

Latin IV

- A. Horace and other authors. Selections from the Odes, Satires, and Epistles, and either the De Providentia of Seneca, or the De Natura Deorum of Cicero. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Wright.
- B. A continuation of Latin IV-A. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Wright.

Note: For the present, students who have had no Latin, and desire to get a working knowledge of it, may be accommodated under a special teacher. For these, classes will be organized in Beginner's Latin and in Caesar.

SEMITIC LANGUAGES

HEBREW

Hebrew I

- A. For beginners. Study of the laws of the language, and familiarizing the student with the terms and forms. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.
- B. Continuation of the work of the first semester. Reading and analysis of the Book of Jonah. Study of accents. Additional readings from the Book of Genesis. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Ingle.

Hebrew II

- A. Advanced Hebrew. Selected readings from the Hebrew prophets. Special exegetical work. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.
- B. The Pentateuch—selected portions. Critical, historical, and religious significance. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

Biology I

- A. Zoology: Lectures and readings on anatomy, physiology and ecology of types from each phylum. Laboratory work on representative types from each phylum. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.
- B. Botany: A systematic study is made of the algae, fungi, mosses, liverworts, ferns and flowering plants. Much laboratory work on the common plants coupled with frequent field trips is done. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology II

Prerequisite Biology I-A.

Comparative Anatomy: A systematic and comparative study is made of the leading types of the verterbrates. Each system is dissected and studied in its relation to the development of the animal world. Primarily a pre-medical course. Eighteen weeks. One hour lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, three hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology III

Prerequisite Biology I-A or I-B.

Heredity: The principles of heredity and their application to the social questions of the day. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lectures. Credit, two hours. Professor Cochrane.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Chemistry I

A. General Chemistry. The fundamental principles and phenomena of inorganic, organic and physical chemistry, and the foundation of analytical chemistry. Most of the time is given to the study of the elements and inorganic compounds. The practical side as well as the theoretical side of the subject is given considerable attention. Mc-Pherson and Henderson: General Inorganic Chemistry. Two hours recitation and lecture, four hours laboratory. Fee, $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Eighteen weeks. Four hours. Professor Hill and Assistants.

B. General Chemistry. A continuation of Chemistry I-A. Two hours recitation and lecture, four hours laboratory. Fee, $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Eighteen weeks.

Four hours. Professor Hill and Assistants.

Chemistry II

A. Qualitative Analysis: Prerequisite Chem. I. This work will consist of the identification of all common metallic ions and of the acid radicals. Some work on alloys will be given. A number of unknowns are required. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.

B. Quantitative Analysis: Prerequisite Chem. I and Chem. II-A. The work of this semester will consist of the usual determinations employed in gravimetric and volumetric analysis. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory.

Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Chemistry III

A. Organic Chemistry: A course designed for those pursuing the pre-medical course and for others who may wish to continue the study of chemistry. The properties, preparation and structure of the leading types of compounds are studied. Emphasis is laid on the preparation and purification of a number of the most important compounds. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.

B. A continuation of Chem. III-A. Eighteen weeks. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Credit, four hours. Professor Cochrane.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Education I

- A. Introduction To Education,—especially adapted to those who have had no teacher training courses in high school. It will consider general problems of public education from the standpoint of both teacher and patron and will serve to orient the student to the subject of education generally. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.
- B. Observation and Practice Teaching,—Combining first hand experience lesson planning under supervision. Both laboratory and theory classes. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.

Education II

- A. General Methods of Teaching in Elementary Schools. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.
- B. General Methods of Teaching in High Schools. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.

Education III

- A. Problems of School Administration.—Dealing with the works of the school principal, superintendent, and school Board. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Briggs.
- B. Educational Tests and Measurements. A study of the statistical method as applied to education, for the acquiring of skill in the giving of the tests and also for the underlying principles of scientific measurements. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Briggs.

Education IV

A. History of Education. Covering in broad outline the development of educational ideals in the light of the times in which they appeared. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.

B. Philosophy of Education. Considers the aims and ideals of modern education and the problems-conditioning their achievement. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.

Education V

- A. Child Psychology. Applying to the school and the home. Psychology I, prerequisite. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.
- B. Adolescent Psychology. Applied to the school and the home. Psychology I, prerequisite. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Briggs.

Education VI

Methods of Teaching History. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Lappin.

Education VII

Methods of Teaching English. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Rooker.

Education VIII

Methods of Teaching Modern Languages. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Ingle.

Education IX

Methods of Teaching Mathematics. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Hyder.

Education X

Methods of Teaching Science. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Cochrane.

The courses in teaching of special subjects will be offered in the semester most convenient to the students. They are open to Juniors and Seniors only.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

English I

- A. Review of grammar and composition. Theme-work based on text of rhetoric and composition. Oral and written composition and self-expression. DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

Mathematics I

- A. A thorough and comprehensive course in Trigonometry, including the definition of functions, the development of general formulae, the theory and use of logarithms, the solution of right and oblique triangles. The text book work is extensively supplemented with practical problems. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Hyder.
- B. College Algebra. General review of exponents, quadratics, equations and problems, properties of equations, indeterminate coefficients, binominal theorem, permutation and combination, series. Eighteen weeks. Five hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics II

A. Analytic Geometry. Loci and their equations, the straight line, construction of graphs, solution of formulae, the circle, different systems of co-ordinates, transformation of co-ordinates, the parabola and the ellipse. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

B. Differential Calculus. The principles and formulae, with application to such problems as development of series, maxima and minima, tangents, and many practical problems.

Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics III

- A. Integral Calculus. The integral is studied from the two-fold standpoint of anti-differentiation and the process of summation. After developing standard formulae of integration a large number and variety of practical problems are solved. Eighteen weeks. Three hours. Professor Hyder.
- B. The Teaching of Mathematics. A critical study of teaching mathematics, especial attention is given to the problems of secondary schools, the purpose and value of the study of mathematics, the curriculum, the texts, methods, and modes. Particular attention is given to the teaching of Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry. This course includes text book work with extensive collateral reading. Eighteen weeks. Two hours. Professor Hyder.

DEPARTMENT OF FRENCH

French I

SPECIAL DEPARTMENTS

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Miss Adams

I. Bookkeeping

20th Century Bookkeeping is taught. The transactions in this system are identical with those in the business world. The student who has mastered the principles of 20th Century Bookkeeping and has completed the sets that accompany it need not hesitate to accept a position as bookkeeper in any office. Text: 20th Century Bookkeeping by James W. Baker.

II. Shorthand

Gregg Shorthand, the standard Shorthand system of America is used. Gregg Shorthand is easy to learn, easy to read, easy to write, and is superior in speed possibilities. Texts: Gregg Shorthand Manual, Graded Readings in Gregg Shorthand, Gregg Speed Studies and Dictation.

III. Typewriting

The Rational Typewriting System, a thoroughly graded and progressive course of lessons is taught. A Certificate of Proficiency is granted in Typewriting. Medals are also awarded. Tests for Certificate and Medals are given according to the "Underwood Expert Typing Tests and Awards." Text: Rational Typewriting, Revised Edition.

IV. Office Training

This course is open to all students who are enrolled in the Business Department. "Office Training" gives the knowledge and training that employers designate as "experience." Subjects discussed: The Business Letter; Applying for a Position; Office Routine; Mail; Forms of Remittances; Filing Systems; Office Appliances; Shipping; Business and Legal Papers; Telegrams; Business Ethics; etc. Text: Office Training for Stenographers by Rupert P. SoRelle.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in the highest degree and at the same time to develop his taste in accordance with true tradition of the art. This language which expresses more than works, which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique, and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The Music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of Art.

Course in Instruction

It has not been deemed advisable to adopt any particular set of studies to be used arbitrarily, but rather to suit the needs of the individual pupil. A general outline of the plan of study may, however, be given.

Pianoforte

First Year. This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc.

Second Year. Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bohm, Lange, and modern composers.

Third Year. Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bach. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers.

Fourth Year. Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschorn, Bach, Preludes and Fugues, Cramer, Octave Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelssohn and others.

THEORETICAL COURSE

Music History

Among the advantages offered are the courses in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department and other teachers. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned.

Harmony

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given a special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the text-books employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke.

Theory

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory.

Free Advantages

In addition to the lessons of the regular course the students of the Musical Department have free access to classes in Harmony, History of Music, chorus practice, orchestra drill, and recitals. The student's recitals are considered indispensable advantages to a liberal education in music.

Diplomas

Pupils who have successfully completed the full course as outlined together with a year or more of Harmony, Theory of Music, History of Music, and a memorized recital, will be granted a diploma from the Music Department.

DEPARTMENT OF HOME ECONOMICS

Miss Richardson

A thorough knowledge of and to develop skill in the drafting of foundation patterns to different measurements; to give experience in testing out these drafts in inexpensive materials; and to teach students to design more complicated patterns from these foundation drafts. Principal drafts made are shirt waist, middy blouse and other foundation patterns.

Domestic Art III

This course includes the principles involved in handling wool and silk materials. The patterns used for constructive work are adapted from drafted patterns previously made. Students registering for this course are required to have a tight-fitting lining. Topics: padding form to fit the tight-fitted lining; making patterns; construction of a wool one piece dress or suit and a silk street or afternoon dress; suitable decorative stitches; appropriate accessories; adaptability of line color, fabric, decoration and draping to different types of individuals.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION Mr. Edwards Miss Melton

Physical Education

Beginning with the fiscal year of 1924-25, Milligan College will offer a complete program of physical education. This program will be required of all students for the full four years on the basis of a minimum of two periods a week. The physical education program will be divided into gymnasium work, swimming, and Varsity Athletics.

Any branch of varsity athletics constitutes an elective for the regular physical education work during such time as the student is actually a member of the varsity squad. In the event a student is for any reason, discontinued from the varsity squad, or the particular sport in which he is interested ends its season, he will thereupon return to regular physical education work. Students engaged in actual physical work around the institution may be exempt from the physical courses by arrangement with the deans of the college and the Physical Director.

The gymnasium courses will consist of such things as marching, calisthenics, apparatus work, group games, and setting up exercises. Mass athletics are encouraged on the outside during suitable weather. Promotion and graduation will require the proper units in physical education except for electives and those who are physically unfit, this to be determined by medical examination.

DEPARTMENT OF DRAMATIC ART

Miss Hart

Expression is the manifestation of mental activity; the outward sign of life and spirit.

The character of expression is determined by the impression which precedes it. "From within outward," is the law of nature upon which true education rests and the expressive art is necessary to complete the educational process.

The aim of Expression is to stimulate the imagination and power of creative thinking, to cultivate the habit of self-confidence and the ability for leadership and through harmonious training of the mind, voice and body to develop forceful and creative personalities. To train the student to become a true and living interpreter of the finest in literature as adapted to the platform, the stage, and the class room, and to enable him to express self with simplicity, security and force.

I. Preliminary

Dr. S. S. Curry's Textbooks, Foundations of Expression and Classics. These books furnish a practical means of studying and training the mind, of stimulating and awakening the faculties, and the study of the mind in creating and assimilating ideas by true interpretation through the living voice.

II. Voice Training

Physiology of Voice. The study and practice of right conditions for the right production of pure tone. (Resonance and Flexibility of Voice and Tone Color.)

III. Body Training and Harmonic Work

Two methods are used for the development of the physical organism; the organic method which aims to secure proportion and normal adjustment of all parts of the body; the harmonic method which develops the body for expression. Relaxing and reorganizing movements—Ease and Freedom.

IV. Public Speaking

Delivery is the expression of the human body through the human organisms. Textbook work, extemporaneous speaking and group discussion. Repertoire; study and interpretation of Drama; Pantomimic Expression; Pantomimic Training and Character Study; Coaching of Plays.

SUB-COLLEGE WORK

Milligan College, in keeping with the general movement, on the part of Senior colleges in Tennessee, and due to the increase in number and efficiency in the High Schools, has abandoned the Department of the Academy or High School as such. A Department of Sub-College work in which students will be permitted to remove College Entrance Conditions, and to finish up delinquent High School courses will be maintained. This Department will be entirely separate from the College work in teaching-staff, records, discipline, Four or five Sub-College courses preparatory to College entrance will be offered for the benefit of those who have not completed their Academy or High School work. These courses will be as follows: Courses in English, courses in Science, courses in a foreign Language, a course in Mathematics, and one in History; thus, students from three year High Schools and students whose work in High School has been somewhat irregular may have the opportunity, under most favorable conditions, to remove their delinquencies and to complete their entrance requirements, while, at the same time they are learning the ways of college life and are receiving the benefit of college activities.

SPECIAL

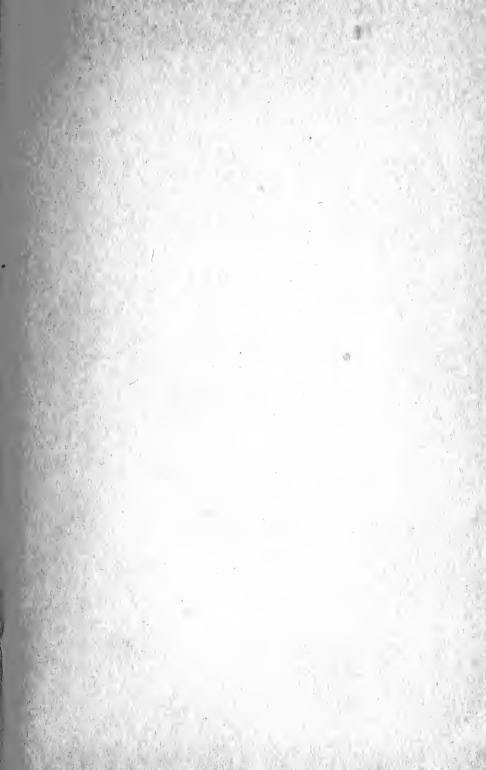

POINTS OF INTEREST TO YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, etc., otherwise mentioned in the catalog, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed room slippers, laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, walking shoes with military heel, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except with the approval of parents and the school management. Such permissions will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 4. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain special permission from parents.
 - 5. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 6. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.
- 7. Young women are under special regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions immediately before the students enter. Young women will not be allowed to remain at the college after the close of school.
- 8. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 9. Graduates from all departments will wear voile or organdy white dresses, or material equally inexpensive.
- 10. All evening dresses must have round or V-shaped necks and sleeves five inches in length from the shoulder line. No evening dresses may be worn until approved by the Dean of Women.

POINTS OF INTEREST TO YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkin.
- 2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Patrons are urged not to ask for more than one visit a semester, except under special circumstances; in which case special arrangements must be made with the faculty.
- 3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 4. No young man may be absent from the village without special permission from the Dean of Men.
- 5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirits and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.
- 7. Young men must exercise special care in keeping their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.
- 8. Each occupant of a room in boys' dormitory will deposit with the Bursar at the opening of the school year, a fee of one dollar as a guaranty for the return of keys.
- 9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.
- 10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged, and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus.
- 11. A boy who is sufficiently ill to have his meals served in his room, will pay 10 cents extra for each meal so served.
- 12. The interpretation of the above rules of absence will depend upon the student's class standing and will be applied accordingly. The upper classmen will have more freedom of choice with less regulation in this respect, than the lower classmen. Rules will apply rigidly to all persons entering college for the first time and to all persons of any class who in any way may abuse the privileges of their class rank.

Foreword

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, has never received the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in the liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

General Information

Historical Sketch

EARLY HISTORY

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century.

HISTORY OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history, not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the War between the States this School was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character gave its impress to the history of the College. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian Culture, a clean heart, and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robert Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood he had met, and therefore named the College, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world is written, not in books nor upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured during these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the College has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

Grounds And Buildings

THE CAMPUS

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the graceful driveways, with clumps of shrubbery on either side, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—altogether constitute an imposing scene of unusual beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre over-looking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. No more beautiful scene can be found and no better field for outdoor sports could be desired. A standard one-quarter mile running track has been constructed and the natural amphitheatre has been equipped with modern stadium facilities. As an athletic field this part of the campus is unsurpassed.

WATER SUPPLY

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. The first building erected here was very modest, but judged from the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet and presents four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive entrance. The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at the approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The class rooms, office rooms, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

LIBRARY

Students have access to a library of good books. New and upto-date books are being constantly added to the library. Two thousand dollars have been set aside as an annual appropriation to be used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The collection includes practically all of the leading publications of the day. The new library quarters on the second floor of the administration building comprising two spacious rooms, with a large stack room adjoining, afford a delightful and convenient place for study and research. The courteous and efficient librarian, always present to help students in finding the information desired, is a valuable asset to the school. The library constitutes a real work-shop of the institution during the day and in the evenings.

LABORATORIES

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry, and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

PARDEE HALL

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, and overlooking the entire college campus, stands Pardee Hall for men. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valleys on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. To the left of Buffalo Mountain lies a quiet, beautiful valley, presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from view in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

Pardee Hall is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Ample equipment is provided in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences. The building is equipped with the best type of modern electric lighting. Each room has a built-in clothes press modern enameled beds and comfortable mattresses throughout.

HARDIN HALL

This handsome Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a beautiful panorama. Hardin Hall is a threestory brick structure with rooms for Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, and rooms for young ladies on the upper floors. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and remodeled. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed, and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

À modern eight-room brick bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's Home.

J. O. CHEEK GYMNASIUM

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has recently erected a large and commodious gymnasium. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has an unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and kept at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further possesses a pair of new Brunswick Bowling Alleys. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of modern living quarters for members of the faculty and a limited dormitory space for men.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, and the other outdoor sports such as track and tennis are to be added, swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

Special Advantages

HEALTHFULNESS OF LOCATION

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchel, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the seashore. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities, would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

PROXIMITY TO JOHNSON CITY

Milligan College is only ten minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter County.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus lines running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the College enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a ten minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of being the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Students are not expected to bring guests to the college without permission.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

All applications for rooms must be accompanied by a deposit fee of $5.00 to insure the room being held for the applicant. This fee applies toward the first semester's expense. If the applicant decides not to enter Milligan College after August 1, this fee is not returnable. Application blanks furnished by the college on request.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, pillows, etc., otherwise mentioned in the bulletin page 38, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed-room slippers laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, walking shoes with military heels, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except with the approval of parents and the school management.
- 4. Such permission as mentioned in number three will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 5. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain special permission from parents.
- 6. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 7. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.

- 8. Young women are under special regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions immediately before the students enter. Young women will not be allowed to remain at the college after the close of school.
- 9. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 10. All evening dresses must have round or V-shaped necks, with sleeves five inches in length from the shoulder line. Dresses worn on all occasions must be approved by the Dean of Women.
- 11. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG MEN

1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkin.

2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Patrons are urged not to ask for more than one visit a semester, except under special circumstances in which case special arrangements must be made.

3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.

4. No young man may be absent from the village without special permission from the Dean of Men.

5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.

6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.

7. Young men must exercise special care in keeping their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.

8. Each occupant of a room in boys' dormitory will deposit with the Treasurer at the opening of the school year a fee of five dollars as a deposit for keys and room damage.

9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.

10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged, and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus. The use of liquor is prohibited on all occasions.

11. A boy who is sufficiently ill to have his meals served in his room, will pay 10 cents extra for each meal so served.

- 12. The interpretation of the above rules of absence will depend upon the student's class standing and will be applied accordingly. The upper classmen will have more freedom of choice with less regulation in this respect, than the lower classmen. Rules will apply rigidly to all persons entering college for the first time and to all persons of any class who in any way may abuse the privileges of their class rank.
- 13. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays.

Policies and Regulations

General Information

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AND GOVERNMENT

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environment of the College is exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the College and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Bible School, and Sunday morning service. Students who are unwilling thus to place themselves in a Christian atmosphere should not apply for admission to Milligan College. is not the desire of the college to enforce religious activities, but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

Social relationship may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the College to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straight-forward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive con-To take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishing are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings. A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

USE OF TOBACCO

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of eighteen will be admitted to the College or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the Ministerial Course of Study. It is also the policy of the College to prohibit the use of tobacco about the College buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether. Card-playing, profanity and liquor using are also forbidden at Milligan College.

QUESTIONS OF ECONOMY

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in College, and it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF HELP

The College will use students for all the different forms of work, in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive compensation according to their efficiency, all work being braded A, B, C and D.

Those doing their work very well, and more than is required, will be graded A, and receive thirty cents per hour. Those doing their work acceptably, without supervision, will be graded B, and receive twenty-five cents per hour. Those doing their work well, only under supervision, will be graded C, and receive twenty cents per hour. Those doing their work poorly and under frequent supervision will be graded D, and will receive fifteen cents per hour.

The positions of office helpers, firing, waiting tables, and washing dishes, will not be rated by the hour, and will only be given to grade A and B students. Students receiving average grades of C and D will not be given any additional aid by gifts or notes. Students will only be permitted to work one half of their college expenses. In the event that the student is not able to pay the other half of his expenses, some generous individual may be found who is willing to provide for this amount, or the College may receive a note without interest for one year with proper security.

There are no teaching positions open, and those receiving employment will not be permitted to use tobacco and will be expected to maintain an average grade of C. All students applying for aid should furnish recommendations from their teachers, or resident pastor. All financial arrangements must be made with the President. All students employed by the College are especially obligated to conform to the policies of the College cheerfully and encourage others to do so.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Milligan College offers exceptional advantages to students preparing for the Christian ministry. Extensive courses are offered in Biblical and related subjects. The Ministerial Association furnishes opportunity for practical development as well as helpful fellowship among the ministerial group. Numerous churches within easy reach of the college, many of which depend upon students for supply enable students not only to secure needed preaching experience, but also to defray a part of the college expenses. All student preaching is fostered by the Dean and Faculty of the Bible Department.

HONOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College maintains an honor "Scholarship" equal in value to one-half actual College expenses less all fees, for the honor graduate of every Standard Class A High School. This "Scholarship" is offered with two objects in view:

First-To stimulate and encourage better work in the High School.

Second—To secure a selected type of students for the College. Since the student body of Milligan College is limited in number, it is desirable by this means to maintain the highest possible personnel. Students who hold this "Scholarship" must manifest a high character and loyal College spirit as well as maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than B.

GENERAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships, of varying value, are provided by generous individuals for the purpose of aiding young men and women, who are in need of help to secure an education. All of these scholarships represent opportunities for self-help, and students, who are beneficiaries of such scholarships, will be called upon to perform in return such service for the college as will not seriously interfere with their studies. To retain the benefits of these scholarships, the beneficiaries must maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than C, and also perform their assigned scholarship work to the satisfaction of the college. (These scholarships may be used up to and including the Junior Year, but are not open to Seniors.)

MINISTERIAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College offers a Ministerial Service Scholarship to all worthy students preparing for the Christian Ministry, who need it. This scholarship is worth approximately one half of the student's actual expenses. The service, rendered in return for this kind of scholarship, will be with the churches located near Milligan College, and will be performed under the direction of the Dean of the Bible Department. Blanks to be used in applying for the Ministerial Service Scholarship may be secured upon request by addressing the President or Dean of the Bible Department, Milligan College, Tennessee.

CLASS ROOM SLOGAN

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for cutting classes; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending to Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worth-while results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Attendance is required at examinations in all courses. The faculty has ruled that an examination may be taken at another than the regular time, after the student secures permission from his or her Dean and pays the fee of one dollar to the College Treasurer. The receipt for the one dollar presented to the professor constitutes permission to hold the examination.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by the grades A, B, C, D, the last being the lowest passing grade. E indicates condition, F indicates failure. The passing grades signify the character of the student's work as follows: A is excellent; B is good; C is average; D is poor; E is incomplete in some respect, necessitating further work to secure a credit grade. F is definitely unsatisfactory so that the course must be repeated in class to receive credit.

A condition on work done the first semester of any year may be removed the second semester by the student making arrangements with the professor in charge, within two weeks after the beginning of the second semester according to one of the following plans: 1. By completing all necessary incomplete work within six weeks after the beginning of the semester. 2. By passing a satisfactory re-examination within six weeks after the beginning of the semester. 3. By doing superior work during the second semester sufficient to merit passing the work for both semesters. Any course receiving a grade of F must be repeated in class to receive credit.

CREDITS AND RE-ENROLLMENT

To safeguard Milligan College against non-studious matriculates and to stimulate students to a high grade of academic attainment, so that the student's membership in the college will be determined largely by his own efforts, the following statement governs in matters of re-enrollment.

1. All students securing at least twelve hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be unconditionally enrolled for the succeding semester.

2. All students securing from nine to eleven hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be provisionally enrolled for the succeeding semester. During this latter semester, however, they must secure at least twelve hours of collegiate credit or lose the privilege of further enrollment.

3. All students securing fewer than nine hours of collegiate credit during any one semester are thereby automatically dropped from the college.

NUMBER OF RECITATIONS PER WEEK

All regular students are required to carry a minimum of fifteen hours of academic work, (sixteen hours being the standard course).

Resident students specializing in the special departments will be required to carry a minimum of twelve hours of academic work.

Eighteen hours of academic credit is the maximum for any one semester.

In all laboratory courses, two hours in a laboratory count as one hour of credit.

ABSENCES FROM CLASSES

Milligan College makes provision for absences from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled upon the following bases:

1. Work for all absences must be done by the students to the satisfaction of the instructor.

- 2. Work made for an absence due to one of the following causes will be made up on the basis of one hundred per cent:
 - (1) The illness of a student.
 - (2) The severe illness or death of a near relative of a student.
 - (3) The student's being selected as a representative of the College in some extra-mural activity,—such as, an inter-collegiate debate or athletic contest.

In order for all the above-mentioned made up work to count full credit, the student must present to the instructor written permission from his or her Dean; but an excess of absences even for these causes will result in a reduction by the Classification Committee in the number of credit hours per semester.

3. Work for an absence not due to one of the above-mentioned causes will be made up on the basis of a reduction by the instructor in the daily grade and probably a reduction by the Classification Committee in the number of hours of credit for that semester.

No student is excused from collegiate attendance until the Commencement exercises close.

- Note—1. Teachers will report daily to the Deans the absentees from their classes by leaving reports at the sixth period in the Registrar's office.
 - 2. Teachers will also report the number of absentees from their classes with each report of grades, both for the six weeks periods and for the semesters.

TEXTBOOKS

Textbooks may be purchased at less than dealers' prices from the college bookstore. Terms are strictly cash. Books may often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

DAILY PROGRAM

Rising bell rings at 6:00 (Sunday, 7:00). Breakfast, 6:30 (Sunday, 7:30). First class bell, 7:35. Chapel, 9:35 to 10:00. Noon, 12:00 to 1:00. Class hours follow until 3:00. Supper 5:30 o'clock.

MONDAY HOLIDAY

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday.

Student Organizations

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The literary organizations contribute much to student development. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative for the development of co-operation in teamwork, and for the study and discussion of vital problems.

There are four well organized and efficient literary societies maintained by the student body of the College. American Literary Society and the Athenian Literary Society for young men; the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society for young women. These societies have halls which have been equipped by their own intiative, and in which great pride is maintained. The above organizations do a character of work very helpful to those participating. Young men and women chosen for inter-collegiate oratorical contests, debates, etc., are first tried out and recommended to the faculty by the literary organizations. All students entering Milligan College are encouraged to become active members in one or the other of the organizations. These societies meet once each year in inter-society debate. inter-society debates are preliminary to the annual inter-collegiate debates and are held not later than December looking toward the inter-collegiate debates which come in the Spring Semester.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found a band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who possess musical instruments should be certain to bring them.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Ministerial Association; The Student Volunteer Band; The Girls Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for Religious Training.

DRAMATIC CLUB

For the cultivation of Dramatic Art and dramatic taste, as well as, for the discovery and development of whatever talent the student body may possess, a regular dramatic club is maintained among the students throughout the year under the direction and supervision of the teacher of Expression. This club is a popular, as well as a valuable organization. At intervals during the year the members of this club render most pleasing programs in which fine artistic work is rendered. This club holds bi-monthly meetings and is a valuable asset to the development of the student body.

LATIN CLUB

Not least among the organizations of Milligan College is its Latin Club. This club is under the sponsor-ship of the Head of the Latin Department and is intended to foster an interest in the ancient languages and to develop a much needed sense of appreciation for the wonderful artistic sense of the ancients, particularly the Greeks and Romans. This club of course has its social and pleasing features, and in addition, does a great deal of real work, looking toward the development of the aesthetic taste of its members.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All intercollegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Appalachia Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Milligan College makes it a definite policy to live up to the spirit and purpose of strictly amateur sportsmanship and has no patience with the violation of a principle by dodging behind some technicality. Milligan College also holds that no athletic program in a college can be justified as an end in itself. Only in so far as athletic sports contribute to the values of loyalty, honesty, fairdealing, and true manhood, is the college administration interested. It is believed that this cardinal point constitutes the crux of the much discussed athletic problem.

Consequently, all persons who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable gentlemen; secondly, they must be earnest students; and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the college games is in charge.

FORENSIC CLUB

The students have an organization known as the Forensic Club, consisting of inter-collegiate debaters and orators.

THE "M" CLUB

One of the recent organizations in Milligan College is known as the "M" Club. This club includes all who win the privilege of wearing the official "M" by virtue of athletic ability in any of the forms of athletics conducted in Milligan College. The club fosters clean and wholesome athletic principles and stands unflinchingly for real and meritorious sportsmanship.

Student Activities

DEBATES

Every year Milligan College has some four or five inter-collegiate debates. In these debates training in argumentation is given to about twenty men and women.

LUCAS READING CONTEST

Miss Annie Lee Lucas, of East Radford, Va., offers prizes of ten dollars and five dollars for the best two readings given by young women of the college. This occurs early in December in the College Chapel.

CROUCH ORATORICAL CONTEST

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, of Johnson City, Tennessee, offers prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to best orations prepared and delivered by young men of the college. The date for this contest is February 22.

INTER-COLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Milligan College is a member of the East Tennessee Oratorical Association and always sends a representative to compete for the honors and prizes of that organization. This contest occurs early in April.

PUBLICATIONS

The students of Milligan College print two publications, one a bi-weekly and the other an annual. The former is known as The Stampede, and like all newspapers, it gives the news of the college for the information of both the student body and the friends of the college.

The Buffalo is the annual publication, serving the usual purpose of such publications, and makes an excellent souvenir of college days.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and is strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at college.

No student will be excused to leave his or her duty either before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy at or visit any store or eating place unless such is registered and approved by the State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Students and Faculty are strongly urged not to patronize business places open on Sunday.

The student whose connection with the College is severed either by Faculty or by his own volition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the College.

Students irregular upon College or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the College altogether.

Students from a distance will reside only in such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid the first of the semester in advance. An additional charge of 20 per cent will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to register during the opening day of the semester and a charge of one dollar per day will be made for registration after opening day. Students entering later than October 15 or February 15 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than September 22 or February 8 will be given reduced credit for work done.

Young men and young women visiting students will be considered as subject to all college regulations.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

EXPENSES

The topic, "Expense," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before a student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pillow cases, towels, napkins, and extra blankets.

Girls rooming alone will be charged from $2.00 to $3.00 extra per month.

The College

ACCREDITED LIST

At the 1924 meeting in the city of Memphis of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, Milligan College was made an approved Non-Member of this Association, thus granting full teaching privileges, etc., to her graduates in all the territory over which the Association has jurisdiction. The Non-Membership feature is due only to the one item of insufficient endowment.

CONDITIONED ENTRANCE

Students presenting not less than fifteen units will be admitted to the Freshman Class on the condition that they begin at once to make up the work in which they are deficient. Such work must be completed before the Sophomore year. Conditioned students may secure tutors, approved by the Faculty to assist in making up the work.

ENTRANCE WITH ADVANCED STANDING

Applicants for admission to Milligan College claiming credits earned elsewhere and desiring advanced standing must furnish credentials properly endorsed by the school last attended, including a statement of honorable dismissal.

MATRICULATION

Students are expected to matriculate during the regular matriculation days at the beginning of each semester. New students must first present to the Registrar their entrance credentials. Further steps to matriculation are:

1. The student must pay to the Treasurer of the College all tuition and other fees.

2. He must then fill out a registration card, submit a proposed course of study, and have it approved by his Dean (or her Dean) and by the President of the College.

3. A copy of the registration card and also a copy of the course card must be presented to the Registrar for filing.

4. No student may attend classes until he has met the abovementioned conditions.

This process of registration is required at the beginning of each semester.

Former students matriculating after the regular matriculation days must pay an additional fee of one dollar per day for the number of days that they are late.

Students matriculating later than two weeks after the first day of matriculation will not receive full credit in any course for that semester.

All changes in courses must be made during the first week of the semester.

Other details will be announced during the process of registration.

All students are required to have at least two classes (exclusive of laboratory work) every recitation day.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSE

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical college.

These requirements include the regular sixteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this course will be accepted by all affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry 11-12 English 11-12

Biology 11-12 Organic Chemistry 61-62

Mathematics 11-12 Physics 51-52

French 11-12 or German 11-12 Qualitative Analysis 51

French 51-52 or German 51-52

Quantitative Analysis, Biology 51-52, and Psychology are recommended as electives, although not required.

The Registrar's book is the official record of classification.

EXPLANATION

The courses in the following description are arranged in four groups according to the rank which they hold as being open to Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors or Seniors. Thus, courses numbered 1-50 are open to Freshman; courses 51-100 to Sophomores; courses 101-150 to Juniors; and courses 151-200 to Seniors. Courses carrying odd numbers are offered the first semester; those carrying even numbers, the second semester. Courses whose numbers are joined by hyphen (Eg. 11-12) represent a year's work and must be carried for both semesters. All courses not so numbered as complete in themselves and may be taken either semester independently of the other. All courses are open to students whose rank is indicated by the number of the course and also to students of higher rank. Students, however, are urged to choose courses in the year in which they are listed.

Department of Business Administration

THE DEPARTMENT AND ITS FUNCTIONS

A very large percentage of young men and women graduate from college without having in mind definitely the exact field of business or profession which they expect to enter. They are undecided as to the type of work they would like best or for which they are most fitted. Because of their lack of business experience they are unable to choose intelligently a particular industry or decide whether they should go into production, marketing, finance or some other branch of business. Statistics show that the frequency of change in positions among recent college graduates is great. For this reason a number of basic courses is given in this curriculum with the view of enabling a young student to choose his career by the time of graduation.

It is believed that the many underlying business principles which will be acquired through class-room discussion and the working out of actual business problems will enable the students to rise to executive business positions more rapidly than would otherwise be possible.

C. L. HORN GIFT

The soundness of the aims and principles of the department has been indicated by a gift from C. L. Horn, financier of New York City. The entire number of courses to be given in this department has been made possible by his generosity. The administration of the college, the head of this department and the student body of the college desire to express their gratitude to Mr. Horn for his sincere interest in business education and well being of the college youth.

THE NEED FOR TRAINING IN BUSINESS

In previous years a young man entering business who worked up from the bottom had an opportunity to observe and understand the scope of the business as a whole since he worked in intimate contact with the chief executives and with the business in its entirety. At present, owing to the magnitude and complexity of businesses the young employe has no such opportunity. He cannot, while engaged in routine duties of one job, become acquainted with the problems of finance, marketing, industrial management and the other broad phases of business administration. To become acquainted with these broader principles underlying business the young man must devote himself to the study of a curriculum such as the one provided by this department.

CURRICULUM OF THE DEPARTMENT

Business Administration 11-12.

Vocational Guidance:

The purpose of this course is to help students to choose, prepare for, enter into and make progress in occupations. Information will be given about the professions, commerce and industry in order to help in the choice of an occupation; giving opportunity to discover talents; advising in regard to promotion; changing jobs and advanced study after leaving school.

Consideration will be given to the conditions of employment, wages and future prospects of various occupations as well as a knowledge of the educational opportunities and requirements for efficiency in the occupations. Tues., Wed., Fri. Sixth period.

Three hours. Professor Eswine.

Business Administration 21-22.

Economic History:

The purpose of this course is to serve as a background for the more technical business administration subjects. The course outlines the economic history of the United States and Europe. Special attention will be given to the period since the Industrial Revolution. The following topics will be considered. The Industrial and Agrarian Revolution of England and the spread of this movement throughout the different parts of the civilized world; the development of banking, transportation and commerce.

This course is especially recommended for those who are expecting to take the more technical business subjects. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Eswine.

Business Administration 51-52.

Business Administration 51. Marketing:

The purpose of the marketing course is to familiarize the student with the methods of marketing merchandise. There are certain fundamental principles which apply to the distribution of goods from the producer to the consumer. These principles include: Consumers' buying habits and motives, types and methods of retail distribution, and methods of wholesale distribution. The method of marketing industrial goods will be given critical study.

Business Administration 52.

The second division of the course will consider sales management, brand, trade mark, advertising, sales correspondence and price policies.

The course will be conducted both by the use of text book and problem method. The marketing principles as outlined by Professor Copeland of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration will be followed in considerable detail. References to other Marketing Specialists will be given when advisable. Tues., Wed., Fri. Sixth period. Three hours. Professor Eswine.

Business Administration 61-62.

Labor Problems:

This course is offered with the view of familiarizing the student with the economic and social problems of the employer and employe. Topics included are history of unionism; policies of unions in regard to wages, machinery and production; labor legislation; problems of unemployment and plans for its prevention, such as unemployment insurance. The part which land, labor and capital play in production will be examined. Wed., Fri., Sat. Second period. Three hours. Professor Eswine.

Business Administration 101-102.

Organization and Financial Problems:

Business Administration 101—Banking and Finance:

The first half of this course is a general survey of the field of money and banking.

The course includes a study of the functions of money; coinage and legal tender; bimetallism; the single standard of money; credit and credit instruments; the silver movement; government paper money; price levels; the development of banking; the commercial bank; the savings bank; the trust company; the National Banking System; the Federal Reserve System; the relation of our banking and financial system to our industrial and business organization. Tues., Wed., Fri. Third period. Three hours. Professor Eswine. Business Administration 102.

Organization and Financial Problems:

The second part of the course is concerned with the organization and financial problems of business enterprises. The financial problems of large and small businesses are studied. The distinction between temporary and permanent borrowing and the limits to which temporary borrowing may be carried are each carefully examined. (This course is open to sophomores with the consent of the instructor). Tues., Wed., Fri. Third period. Three hours. Professor Eswine.

Business Administration 111-112.

General Course in Business Administration:

This course considers all the different phases of business administration. Attention will be given to problems of Labor, Marketing, Finance, etc.

This course is intended primarily for the purpose of meeting the needs of two distinct classes of students: First, those who are not contemplating taking the more advanced and specialized subjects of business administration but who desire a general knowledge of such subjects for their personal needs, and second, that class of students who are looking forward to a more intensive study of the specialized fields. For the second class of students this course will serve as a background. The course is highly recommended for both classes of students. Tues. Second period. One hour. Professor Eswine.

CHEMISTRY 11-12.

Chemistry 11. General Chemistry.: The fundamental principles and phenomena of inorganic, organic and physical chemistry, and the foundation of analytical chemistry. Most of the time is given to the study of the elements and inorganic compounds. The practical side as well as the theoretical side of the subject is given considerable attention. McPherson and Henderson: General Inorganic Chemistry. Two hours recitation and lecture, four hours laboratory. Fee, $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Sec. 1, Tues., Thur. Third period. Lab., Wed., Fri. Third and Fourth periods. Sec. 2, Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Lab., Tues., Thur. Fifth and Sixth periods. Four hours. Professor Means and Assistants.

Topics: Padding form to fit the tight-fitted lining; making patterns; construction of a wool one piece dress or suit and a silk street or afternoon dress; suitable decorative stitches; appropriate accessories; adaptability of line, color, fabric, decoration and draping to different types of individuals. Hours to be arranged. laboratory periods per week. Hours to be arranged.

Department of Music

SARAH HUGHES WHITE

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in accordance with true tradition of the art. Music which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique, and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The Music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of the Art.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses both in Piano and Voice offer a certificate or diploma upon the completion of the prescribed amount of work. The work for the diploma includes, in addition to that offered for the certificate, a public Senior Recital together with Music Analysis and advanced Musical History. Both certificate and diploma state expressly the amount of work done together with the proficiency attained.

To enroll for a certificate or diploma in the Music Department, the student must offer High School graduation with not fewer than sixteen units. To secure the certificate or diploma, collegiate studies must be carried in addition to the prescribed music courses including the classes in Theory. The collegiate courses include two full years or twelve credit hours in each of the following: English, Foreign Language, Psychology, Education and History. Students in Voice must also study Piano sufficiently to render moderately difficult accompaniment with facility.

PIANOFORTE

First Year. This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bohm, Lange, and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bach. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschorn, Bach, Preludes and Fugues, Cramer, Octave Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelssohn and others. Hours to be arranged.

Courses in Voice

Additional to the courses in Voice, the student has opportunity for development in the art of stage deportment, with training also in Cantata and Operetta, with chorus singing.

First Year. Diagnosis of Vocal faults, their correction with exercises in tone production; prose in singing; use of Sieber and Vaccai with a few simple songs. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Continuation of tone building and tone coloring; linking tone up with imagination. Use of Vaccai continued, with Concone and songs by Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, Mozart, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. From Lyric to Dramatic style. Use of Lutgen with simple operatic arias and oratorios. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Further development of singing style. French and Italian diction with modern songs and airs from operas and oratorios. Seniors will give a graduating recital either individually or jointly at the discretion of the Director. Hours to be arranged.

Courses in Theory

MUSIC HISTORY

Among the advantages offered are the courses in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned. Hours to be arranged.

HARMONY

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given a special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the textbooks employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke. Hours to be arranged.

THEORY

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory. Hours to be arranged.

RECOGNITION OF CREDIT

The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music gives full credit for work completed in Milligan College.

Department of Physical Education

JAMES T. EDWARDS FRANCES MELTON

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Beginning with the fiscal year of 1924-25, Milligan College has offered a complete program of physical education. This program is required of all students for the full four years on the basis of a minimum of two periods a week. The physical education program will be divided into gymnasium work, swimming, and varsity athletics. Those physically unfit will be determined by medical examination.

Any branch of varsity athletics constitutes an elective for the regular physical education work during such time as the student is actually a member of the varsity squad. In the event a student is for any reason, discontinued from the varsity squad, or the particular sport in which he is interested ends its season, he will thereupon return to regular physical education work. Students engaged in actual physical work around the institution may be exempt from the physical courses by arrangement with the Deans of the college and the Physical Director.

COURSES FOR YOUNG WOMEN

The gymnasium courses for the girls will consist of elementary and advanced marching, calisthenics, correctives, apparatus work, folk and aesthetic dancing, group games, and outdoor sports. Each girl will be subject to a physical examination upon entering school and a general health program will be followed throughout the year. Classes are as follows, conducted by Miss Melton:

Wed. and Fri. First period_____First year work Wed. and Fri. Second period_____First year work Tues and Thur. Third period__Second year work Tues. and Thur. Fourth period_Second year work Other classes may be arranged.

COURSES FOR MEN

The gymnasium courses will consist of such activities as marching, calisthenics, apparatus work, group games, and setting-up exercises. Mass athletics are encouraged on the outside during suitable weather. Conducted by Coach Edwards.

Foreword

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, does not receive the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in the liberal arts and also mantains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

Historical Sketch

EARLY HISTORY

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century.

HISTORY OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history, not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the war between the states this school was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character gave its impress to the history of the college. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian culture, a clean heart and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robert Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood that he had met, and therefore named the college, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world is written, not in books nor upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured during these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the college has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

Grounds And Buildings

THE CAMPUS

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the graceful driveways; with clumps of shrubbery on either side, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—altogether constitute an imposing scene of unusual beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre over-looking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. No more beautiful scene can be found and no better field for outdoor sports could be desired. A standard one-quarter mile running track has been constructed and the natural amphitheatre has been equipped with modern stadium facilities. As an athletic field this part of the campus is unsurpassed.

WATER SUPPLY

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. The first building erected here was very modest, but judged from the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet and presents four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive entrance. The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at an approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The class rooms, office rooms, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

LIBRARY

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added to the library. Two thousand dollars have been set aside as an annual appropriation to be used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The collection includes practically all of the leading publications of the day. The new library quarters on the second floor of the administration building comprising two spacious rooms, with a large stack room adjoining, afford a delightful and convenient place for study and research. The library constitutes a real work-shop of the institution during the day and in the evenings.

LABORATORIES

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

PARDEE HALL

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, and overlooking the entire college campus, stands Pardee Hall for men. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valleys on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. To the left of Buffalo Mountain lies a quiet, beautiful valley presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from view in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

Pardee Hall is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Ample equipment is provided in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences. The building is equipped with the best type of modern electric lighting. Each room has a built-in clothes press, modern enameled single beds and comfortable mattresses throughout.

HARDIN HALL

This commodious Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated so as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a beautiful panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with rooms for the Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, and rooms for young ladies on the upper floors. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and remodeled. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed, and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

A modern eight-room brick bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's Home.

J. O. CHEEK ACTIVITY BUILDING

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has recently erected a large and attractive gymnasium. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 200 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has an unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and kept at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further possesses a pair of new Brunswick Bowling Alleys. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of modern living quarters for members of the faculty and a limited dormitory space for men.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, together with other outdoor sprts such as track and tennis are to be added, also swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

Special Advantages

HEALTHFULNESS OF LOCATION

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchell, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the seashore. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

PROXIMITY TO JOHNSON CITY

Milligan College is only ten minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter County.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus lines running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the college enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a ten minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life.

It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of being the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Students are not expected to bring guests to the college without permission.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

All applications for rooms must be accompanied by a deposit fee of $5.00 to insure the room being held for the applicant. This fee applies toward the first semester's expense. If the applicant decides not to enter Milligan College after August 1, this fee is not returnable. Application blanks will be furnished by the college on request.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, pillows, etc., otherwise mentioned in the bulletin, page 38, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed-room slippers laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, walking shoes with military heels, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
 - 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
 - 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except with the approval of parents and the school management.
 - 4. Such permission as mentioned in number three will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 5. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain special permission from parents.
- 6. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 7. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.
- 8. Young women are under special regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions immediately before the students enter. Young women will not be allowed to remain at the college after the close of school.
- 9. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 10. All evening dresses must have round or V-shaped necks. Dresses worn on all occasions must be approved by the Dean of Women.
- 11. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkin.
- 2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Patrons are urged not to ask for more than one visit a semester, except under special circumstances in which case special arrangements must be made.
- 3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 4. No young man may be absent from the village without special permission from the Dean of Men.
- 5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.
- 7. Young men must exercise special care in keeping their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.
- 8. Each occupant of a room in boys' dormitory will deposit with the Treasurer at the opening of the school year a fee of five dollars as a deposit for keys and room damage.
- 9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.
- 10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus. The use of liquor is prohibited on all occasions.
- 11. The interpretation of the above rules of absence will depend upon the student's class standing and will be applied accordingly. The upper classmen will have more freedom of choice with less regulation in this respect, than the lower classmen. Rules will apply rigidly to all persons entering college for the first time and to all persons of any class who in any way may abuse the privileges of their class rank.
- 12. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays.

Policies and Regulations

General Information

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AND GOVERNMENT

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environment of the College is exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the college and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Bible School, and Sunday morning service. Students who are unwilling thus to place themselves in a Christian atmosphere should not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the college to enforce religious activities, but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

Social relationship may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the college to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straight-forward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new col-This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishings are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

USE OF TOBACCO

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of eighteen will be admitted to the college or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the ministerial course of study. It is also the policy of the college to prohibit the use of tobacco about the college buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether. Card-playing, profanity and liquor using are also forbidden at Milligan College.

QUESTIONS OF ECONOMY

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in college, and it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF HELP

The college will use students for all the different forms of work, in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive compensation according to their efficiency, and general value to the college.

There are no teaching positions open, and those receiving employment will not be permitted to use tobacco and will be expected to maintain an average grade of C. All students applying for aid should furnish recommendations from their teachers, or resident pastor. All financial arrangements must be made with the President. All students employed by the college are especially obligated to conform to the policies of the college cheerfully and encourage others to do so.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Milligan College offers exceptional advantages to students preparing for the Christian ministry. Extensive courses are offered in Biblical and related subjects. The Ministerial Association furnishes opportunity for practical development as well as helpful fellowship among the ministerial group. Numerous churches within easy reach of the college, many of which depend upon students for supply enable students not only to secure needed preaching experience, but also to defray a part of the college expenses. All student preaching is fostered by the Dean and Faculty of the Bible Department.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR TEACHERS

Milligan College offers to students and graduates work which will lead to the securing of Professional Certificates as follows:

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATES

High School. A permanent professional certificate will be issued to the applicant for the position of high school teacher who is a graduate of Milligan College and who has completed at least eighteen semester hours in education as prescribed by the State Commissioner and State Board of Education. Such certificates shall certify the subjects the holder is entitled to teach; and no applicant shall be licensed to teach any subject in which he or she has a credit of less than twelve semester hours.

Elementary. A permanent professional certificate will be issued to the applicant for the position of teacher in elementary schools who has completed a two-year curriculum for elementary teachers in Milligan College, and who has had at least twelve semester hours in education.

Two-year High School. A professional certificate valid for a period of four years will be issued to the applicant for the position of teacher in a two-year high school who has completed at least four semesters' work in Milligan College and who has had at least twelve semester hours in education.

Four year. A professional certificate valid for a period of four years will be issued to the applicant for the position of teacher in elementary schools who has completed at least two semesters' work in Milligan College and who has had at least six semester hours in methods and management of elementary schools.

HONOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College maintains an honor "Scholarship" equal in value to one-half actual college expenses less all fees, for the honor graduate of every Standard Class A High School. This "Scholarship" is offered with two objects in view:

First—To stimulate and encourage better work in the High School.

Second—to secure a select type of students for the college.

Since the student body of Milligan College is limited in number, it is desirable by this means to maintain the highest possible personnel. Students who hold this "Scholarship" must manifest a high character and loyal college spirit as well as maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than B. This scholarship ends with the Junior year.

GENERAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships, of varying value, are provided by generous individuals for the purpose of aiding young men and women, who are in need of help to secure an education. All of these scholarships represent opportunities for self-help, and students, who are beneficiaries of such scholarships, will be called upon to perform in return such service for the college as will not seriously interfere with their studies. To retain the benefits of these scholarships, the beneficiaries must maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than C, and also perform their assigned scholarship work to the satisfaction of the college. (These scholarships may be used up to and including the Junior Year, but are not open to Seniors.)

MINISTERIAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College offers to all worthy students, of sophomore rank or above, preparing for the Christian ministry who need it, a Ministerial Service Scholarship. This scholarship is worth approximately one half of the student's actual expenses. The service, rendered in return for this kind of scholarship, will be with the churches located near Milligan College, and will be performed under the direction of the Dean of the Bible Department. So far as appears advisable freshmen and special ministerial students will be helped in securing preaching appointments. Blanks to be used in applying for the Ministerial Service Scholarship may be secured upon request by addressing the President or Dean of the Bible Department, Milligan College, Tennessee.

CLASS ROOM SLOGAN

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for absences from classes except as stated on page 33; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending to Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worth-while results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Attendance is required at examinations in all courses. The faculty has ruled that an examination may be taken at another than the regular time, after the student secures permission from his or her Dean and pays the fee of one dollar to the College Treasurer. The receipt for the one dollar presented to the professor constitutes permission to hold the examination.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by the grades A, B, C, D, the last being the lowest passing grade. E indicates condition, F indicates failure. The passing grades signify the character of the student's work as follows; A is excellent; B is good; C is average; D is poor; E is incomplete in some respect, necessitating further work to secure a credit grade. F is definitely unsatisfactory so that the course must be repeated in class to receive credit.

A condition on work done the first semester of any year may be removed the second semester by the student making arrangements with the professor in charge, within two weeks after the beginning of the second semester according to one of the following plans:

1. By completing all necessary incomplete work within six weeks after the beginning of the semester.

2. By passing a satisfactory re-examination within six weeks after the beginning of the semester.

3. By doing superior work during the second semester sufficient to merit passing the work for both semesters. Any course receiving a grade of F must be repeated in class to receive credit.

CREDITS AND RE-ENROLLMENT

To safeguard Milligan College against non-studious matriculates and to stimulate students to a high grade of academic attainment, so that the student's membership in the college will be determined largely by his own efforts, the following statement governs in matters of re-enrollment.

- 1. All students securing at least twelve hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be unconditionally enrolled for the succeeding semester.
- 2 All students securing from nine to eleven hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be provisionally enrolled for the succeeding semester. During this latter semester, however, they must secure at least twelve hours of collegiate credit or lose the privilege of further enrollment.
- 3. All students securing fewer than nine hours of collegiate credit during any one semester are thereby automatically dropped from the college.

NUMBER OF RECITATIONS PER WEEK

All regular students are required to carry a minimum of fifteen hours of academic work, (sixteen hours being the standard course).

Resident students specializing in the special departments will be required to carry a minimum of twelve hours of academic work.

Eighteen hours of academic credit is the maximum for any one semester.

ABSENCES FROM CLASSES

Milligan College makes provision for absences from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled upon the following bases:

- 1. Work for all absences must be done by the students to the satisfaction of the instructor.
- 2. Work done for an absence due to one of the following causes will be made upon the basis of one hundred per cent:
 - (1) The illness of a student.
 - (2) The severe illness or death of a near relative of a student.
- (3) The student's being selected as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity,—such as an inter-collegiate debate or athletic contest.

In order for all the above-mentioned made up work to count full credit, the student must present to the instructor written permission from his or her Dean; but an excess of absences even for these causes will result in a reduction by the Classification Committee in the number of credit hours per semester.

3. Work for an absence not due to one of the above-mentioned causes will be made up on the basis of a reduction by the instructor in the daily grade and probably a reduction by the Classification Committee in the number of hours of credit for that semester.

No student is excused from collegiate attendance until the Commencement exercises close.

- Note—1. Teachers will report daily to the Deans the absentees from their classes by leaving reports at the sixth period in the Dean's office.
 - 2. Teachers will also report the number of absentees from their classes with each report of grades, both for the nine weeks periods and for the semesters.

TEXTBOOKS

Textbooks may be purchased at less than dealers' prices from the college bookstore. Terms are strictly cash. Books may often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

DAILY PROGRAM

Rising bell rings at 6:00 (Sunday, 7:00). Breakfast, 6:30 (Sunday, 7,30). First class bell, 7:35. Chapel, 9:35 to 10:00. Noon, 12:00 to 1:00. Class hours follow until 3:00. Supper 5:30 o'clock.

MONDAY HOLIDAY

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday

Student Organizations

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The literary organizations contribute much to student development. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in teamwork, and for the study and discussion of vital problems.

There are four well organized and efficient literary societies maintained by the student body of the college. These are the American Literary Society and the Athenian Literary Society for young men; the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society for young women. These societies have halls which have been equipped by their own initiative, and in which great pride is maintained. The above organizations do a character of work very helpful to those participating. Young men and women chosen for inter-collegiate oratorical contests, debates, etc., are first tried out and recommended to the faculty by the literary organizations. All students entering Milligan College are encouraged to become active members in one or the other of the organizations. These societies meet once each year in inter-society debate. The inter-society debates are preliminary to the annual inter-collegiate debates and are held not later than December looking toward the inter-collegiate debates which come in the Spring Semester.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found a band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who possess musical instruments should be certain to bring them.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Ministerial Association; The Student Volunteer Band; The Girls Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for religious training. The College Prayer Room, devoted to the spiritual uplift of the student body, furnishes a quiet place not only for meditation and prayer, but also for the meetings of the Ministerial Association and Missionary Volunteer Band.

DRAMATIC CLUB

For the cultivation of Dramatic Art and dramatic taste, as well as, for the discovery and development of whatever talent the student body may possess, a regular dramatic club is maintained among the students throughout the year under the direction and supervision of the teacher of Expression. This club is a popular, as well as a valuable organization. At intervals during the year the members of this club render most pleasing programs. This club holds bi-monthly meetings and is a valuable asset to the development of the student body.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club, under the sponsor-ship of the Head of the Latin Department is intended to foster an interest in the ancient languages and to develop a much needed appreciation of the wonderful artistic sense of the ancients, particularly the Greeks and Romans. This club of course has its social and pleasing features, and in addition, does a great deal of real work, looking toward the development of the aesthetic taste of its members.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All inter-collegiate athletic activities confrom strictly to the requirements of the "Smoky Mountain Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Milligan College makes it a definite policy to live up to the spirit and purpose of strictly amateur sportsmanship and has no patience with the violation of a principle by dodging behind some technicality. Milligan College also holds that no athletic program in a college can be justified as an end in itself. Only in so far as athletic sports contribute to the values of loyalty, honesty, fair-dealing and true manhood, is the college administration interested. It is believed that this cardinal point constitutes the crux of the much discussed athletic problem.

Mass athletics are fostered and encouraged. Class tournaments are held in both major and minor sports.

Consequently, all persons who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable gentlemen; secondly, they must be earnest students; and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the college games is in charge.

THE "M" CLUB

One of the recent organizations in Milligan College is known as the "M" Club. This club includes all who win the privilege of wearing the official "M" by virtue of athletic ability in any of the forms of athletics conducted in Milligan College. The club fosters clean and wholesome athletic principles and stands unflinchingly for real and meritorious sportsmanship.

FORENSIC CLUB

The students of Milligan College maintain an organization known as the Forensic Club. This club constitutes one of the most active and valuable factors in the life of the men of the college. This club trains during the year more than twenty-five debaters and orators. The club also sponsors some fifteen inter-collegiate debates and oratorical contests. Through the efforts of this club, Milligan College now holds membership in the Tennessee Oratorical League. The club maintains a virile interest in public speaking and general Forensic accomplishments.

Student Activities

DEBATES

Every year Milligan College has some four or five inter-collegiate debates. In these debates training in argumentation is given to about twenty men and women.

LUCAS READING CONTEST

Miss Annie Lee Lucas, of East Radford, Va., offers prizes of ten dollars and five dollars for the two best readings given by young women of the college. This occurs early in December in the College Chapel.

CROUCH ORATORICAL CONTEST

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, of Johnson City, Tennessee, offers prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to best orations prepared and delivered by young men of the college. The date for this contest is February 22.

INTER-COLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Milligan College is a member of the East Tennessee Oratorical Association and always sends a representative to compete for the honors and prizes of that organization. This contest occurs early in April.

PUBLICATIONS

The students of Milligan College print two publications, one a monthly and the other an annual. The former is known as The Stampede, and like all newspapers, it gives the news of the college for the information of both the student body and the friends of the college.

The Buffalo is the annual publication, serving the usual purpose of such publications, and makes an excellent souvenir of college days.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and is strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at the college.

No student will be excused to leave his or her duty either before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy at or visit any store or eating place unless such is registered and approved by the State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Students and Faculty are strongly urged not to patronize business places open on Sunday.

The student whose connection with the college is severed either by Faculty or by his own violition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the college.

Students irregular upon College or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the College altogether.

Students from a distance will reside only in such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid the first of the semester in advance. An additional charge of 20 per cent will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to register during the opening day of the semester and a charge of one dollar per day will be made for registration after opening day.

Students entering later than September 27 or February 8 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than September 27 or February 8 will be given reduced credit for work done.

Young men and young women visiting students will be considered as subject to all college regulations.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

EXPENSES

The topic, "Expenses," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before a student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pillow cases, towels, napkins, and extra blankets.

Girls rooming alone will be charged from $2.00 to $3.00 extra per month.

Typewriting	10.00

REFUND

No money paid for tuition or room will be refunded after the first week. In case of extreme illness, a due bill for the unused amount will be issued which entitles the student to its use in a subsequent semester. In no case will the matriculation fee be refunded.

The College

ACCREDITED LIST

At the 1924 meeting in the city of Memphis of the Assocition of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, Milligan College was made an approved Non-Member of this Association, thus granting full teaching privileges, etc., to her graduates in all the territory over which the Association has jurisdiction. The Non-Membership feature will be cleared as soon as endowment is secured.

unit

TYPE OF STUDENT DESIRED

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them letter of recommendation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR COLLEGE ENTRANCE

The unit employed in measuring work for College entrance is the equivalent of five recitations per week, throughout the school year. A course in English, for example, which recites five times per week during the year, will count as one unit. At least sixteen units are required for admission without condition. The sixteen units must include the following:

The transfer of the transfer o
English	,	units
Foreign Languages2		units
History1
Mathematics
Science 2	:	units
Electives	1/2	units

SPECIFIC ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS BY DEPARTMENTS

DEPARTMENTS

Maximum credits allowed-4 units.

Electives: Bible, 1 unit maximum; Music, 1 unit maximum; Gymnasium, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Science, 1 unit maximum; Domestic Art, 1 unit maximum; Manual Training, 1 unit maximum; Typewriting, ½ unit for five hours per week; Shorthand, 1 unit for five hours per week; Bookkeeping, 1 unit for ten hours per week; Mechanical Drawing, 1 unit maximum.

ENTRANCE BY EXAMINATION

In case students cannot satisfy by credentials, examination will be required.

CONDITIONED ENTRANCE

Students presenting not less than fifteen units will be admitted to the Freshman Class on the condition that they begin at once to make up the work in which they are deficient. Such work must be completed before the Sophomore year. Conditioned students may secure tutors, approved by the Faculty to assist in making up the work.

ENTRANCE WITH ADVANCED STANDING

Applicants for admission to Milligan College claiming credits earned elsewhere and desiring advanced standing must furnish credentials properly endorsed by the school last attended, including a statement of honorable dismissal.

MATRICULATION

The first day of each semester is matriculation day when all students will make arrangements for entering classes. New students must first present to the Registrar their entrance credentials and when advanced standing is desired also certified credentials from the college last attended. Further steps to matriculation are:

- 1. Students must secure and fill out in full with the help of one of the Advisory Professors a registration card.
- 2. This card when complete must be submitted to his Dean (or her Dean) and to the President of the college for their approval.
- 3. The students must pay to the Treasurer of the college all tuition and other fees.
- 4 Students must leave a copy of the registration card and also of the course card with the Registrar for filing.

5. No student may attend classes until these conditions have been met.

Former students matriculating after the regular matriculation days must pay an additional fee of one dollar per day for the number of days that they are late.

Students matriculating later than two weeks after the first day of matriculation will not receive full credit in any course for that semester.

All changes in courses must be made during the first week of the semester.

All students are required to have at least two classes (exclusive of laboratory work) every recitation day.

Other details will be announced during the process of registration.

PRE-REGISTRATION

The first school week in April students will secure from the Registrar a pre-registration blank, fill it out indicating courses to be pursued the following year, together with other information necessary to aid students in the arrangement of courses so as meet without conflict the requirements for graduation.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSE

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical college.

These requirements include the regular sixteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this course will be accepted by all affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry 11-12 English 11-12

Biology 11-12 Organic Chemistry 61-62 Mathematics 11-12 Physics 51-52

French 11-12 or German 11-12 Qualitative Analysis 51

French 51-52 or German 51-52

Quantitative Analysis, Biology 51-52, and Psychology are recommended as electives, although not required.

Requirements For Graduation and Degrees

CLASSICAL COURSE—A. B. DEGREE

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- 1. Ancient Languages—12 hours of either College Latin or College Greek.
 - 2. Education-6 hours of Education.
 - 3. English-18 hours of English, including English 11-12.
- 4. History and Social Science—12 hours to be selected from the Department of History, Political Science, Sociology, and Economics.
- 5. Mathematics—6 hours in any two of the following: College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry.
- 6. Modern Language—12 hours of a modern language, other than the language offered for entrance.
- 7. Philosophy and Psychology—12 hours of Philosophy, including Psychology and Logic.
 - 8. Sacred Literature—6 hours of Bible.
- 9. Science—8 hours of laboratory science and one year of mathematics. If only one laboratory science is offered for entrance, that taken in college must be in another department.
- 10. Electives—36 hours of work in any department in which the courses count as college credit.

Total—A total of 128 hours is required for graduation.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE—B. S. DEGREE

Before a student is recommended as a candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree, he is required to have credit in the following departments for the number of hours indicated after the name of each department.

- 1. Chemistry—8 hours of Chemistry.
- 2. Education—6 hours of Education.
- 3. English—12 hours of English, including English 11-12.
- 4. History and Social Science—12 hours to be selected from the Department of History, Political Science, Sociology and Economics.
- 5. Mathematics—12 hours of Mathematics including College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry.
- 6. Modern Languages—12 hours of a modern language, other than the language offered for entrance.

- 7. Philosophy and Psychology—6 hours of Psycology and Logic.
- 8. Physics—8 hours of Physics 51-52.
- 9. Sacred Literature-6 hours of Bible.
- 10. Science or Mathematics, (in addition to requirements in specific departments)—18 hours.
- 11. Electives—28 hours of work in any department in which the courses count as college credit.

Total—A total of 128 hours is required for graduation.

MAJORS AND MINORS

In addition to the above requirements students must have completed for graduation at least one major subject of not fewer tan 24 semester hours, and two minor subjects of not fewer than 12 semester hours each. The major must consist of courses pursued in one department of the college. The minors must be chosen in related fields subject to the approval of the professor in whose department the major is taken. The major course must be chosen and approved with the minors not later than the end of the sophomore year.

MINISTERIAL COURSE—A. B. DEGREE

To obtain the Bachelor of Arts Degree, Ministerial students must satisfy the regular requirements for graduation. From the twenty-two hours of electives, they should choose courses in the Bible and related subjects.

SENIOR RESIDENCE RULE

All candidates for degrees must have spent at least their Senior year, represented by not fewer than thirty credit hours in resident study at Milligan College.

THESIS

A Thesis is required of each candidate for a degree. The subject and general outline of the Thesis must be submitted and approved at least one semester before the student's graduation. The Thesis must also be accepted by a professor in whose department it is written, and a typewritten copy of the same must be furnished the library.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

All young women are required to take two hours of Physical Training each semester for four years.

STANDARDS OF CLASSIFICATION

To become a member of each class a student must have the following credits, and resident work:

Freshman—15 H. S. Units. (If a student has a total of 15 units, but lacks two units in any department, he may make up those units during his Freshman and Sophomore years.)

Sophomore—16 H. S. Units, and 26 Semester hours of college work, and 2 Semesters of resident work.

Junior—16 H. S. Units, and 58 Semester hours of college work, and 4 Semesters of resident work.

Senior—16 H. S. Units, and 92 Semester hours of college work, and 6 Semesters of resident work.

To graduate—16 H. S. Units, and 128 Semester hours of college credit, and 8 Semesters of resident work.

If a student does not make the required number of hours to become a member of a higher class, he remains a member of the lower class and is not put into the unclassified group.

The Registrar's book is the official record of classification.

EXPLANATION

The courses in the following description are arranged in four groups according to the rank which they hold as being open to Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors or Seniors. Thus, courses numbered 1-50 are open to Freshman; courses 51-100 to Sophomores; courses 101-150 to Juniors; and courses 151-200 to Seniors. Courses carrying odd numbers are offered the first semester; those carrying even numbers, the second semester. Courses whose numbers are joined by hyphen (Eg. 11-12) represent a year's work and must be carried for both semesters. All courses not so numbered are complete in themselves and may be taken either semester independently of the other. All courses are open to students whose rank is indicated by the number of the course and also to students of higher rank. Students, however, are urged to choose courses in the year in which they are listed.

Latin 112. A continuation of Latin 111. Wed., Fri. Second period. Two hours. Professor Wright.

Note: For the present, students who have had no Latin, and desire to get a working knowledge of it, may be accommodated under a special teacher. For these, classes will be organized in Beginner's Latin and in Caesar.

Department of Biology

Biology 11-12.

Biology 11. Zoology. Lectures and readings on anatomy, physiology and ecology of types from each phylum. Laboratory work on representative types from each phylum. $5.00 laboratory fee. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Rec., Tues., Thur. First period. Laboratory, Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology 12. Botany. A systematic study is made of the algae, fungi, mosses, liverworts, ferns and flowering plants. Much laboratory work on the common plants coupled with frequent field trips is done. $5.00 laboratory fee. Two hours lecture. Four hours laboratory. Rec., Tues., Thur. First period. Lab., Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology 51. Comparative Anatomy: Prerequisite Biology 11. A systematic and comparative study is made of the leading types of the vertebrates. Each system is dissected and studied in its relation to the development of the animal world. Primarily a premedical course. One hour lecture. Four hours laboratory. Rec., Tues., Thur. Fourth period. Laboratory Wed., Fri. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology 52. Heredity: Prerequisite Biology 11 or 12. The principles of heredity and their application to the social questions of the day. Three hours lectures. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology 101. Embryology. Recitation, Tues., Thur. Second period. Laboratory, Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Biology 102. Human Physiology. Recitation, Tues., Thur. Second period. Laboratory, Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Cochrane.

Department of Business Administration

Business Administration 11-12.

Vocational Guidance:

The purpose of this course is to help students to choose, prepare for, enter into and make progress in occupations. Information will be given about the professions, commerce and industry in order to help in the choice of an occupation; giving opportunity to discover talents; advising in regard to promotion; changing jobs and advanced study after leaving school.

Consideration will be given to the conditions of employment, wages and future prospects of various occupations as well as a knowledge of the educational opportunities and requirements for efficiency in the occupations. Tues., Wed., Fri. Sixth period. Three hours.

Business Administration 21-22.

Economic History:

The purpose of this course is to serve as a background for the more technical business administration subjects. The course outlines the economic history of the United States and Europe. Special attention will be given to the period since the Industrial Revolution. The following topics will be considered. The Industrial and Agrarian Revolution of England and the spread of this movement throughout the different parts of the civilized world; the development of banking, transportation and commerce.

This course is especially recommended for those who are expecting to take the more technical business subjects. Wed., Fri., Sat. Fourth period. Three hours.

Business Administration 51-52.

Business Administration 51. Marketing:

The purpose of the marketing course is to familiarize the student with the methods of marketing merchandise. There are certain fundamental principles which apply to the distribution of goods from the producer to the consumer. These principles include: Consumers' buying habits and motives, types and methods of retail distribution, and methods of wholesale distribution. The method of marketing industrial goods will be given critical study. Tues., Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Three hours.

Business Administration 52.

The second division of the course will consider sales management, brand, trade mark, advertising, sales correspondence and price policies.

The course will be conducted both by the use of text book and problem method. The marketing principles as outlined by Professor Copeland of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration will be followed in considerable detail. References to other Marketing Specialists will be given when advisable. Tues., Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Three hours.

Business Administration 61-62.

Labor Problems:

This course is offered with the view of familiarizing the student with the economic and social problems of the employer and employee. Topics included are history of unionism; policies of unions in regard to wages, machinery and production; labor legislation; problems of unemployment and plans for its prevention, such as unemployment insurance. The part which land, labor and capital play in production will be examined. Tues., Thur., Sat. Second period. Three hours.

Business Administration 101-102.

Business Administration 101—Banking and Finance:

The first half of this course is a general survey of the field of money and banking.

The course includes a study of the functions of money; coinage and legal tender; bimetallism; the single standard of money; credit and credit instruments; the silver movement; government paper money; price levels; the development of banking; the commercial bank; the savings bank; the trust company; the National Banking System; the Federal Reserve System; the relation of our banking and financial system to our industrial and business organization. Wed., Fri., Sat. Third period. Three hours.

Business Administration 102.

Organization and Financial Problems:

The second part of the course is concerned with the organization and financial problems of business enterprises. The financial problems of large and small businesses are studied. The distinction between temporary and permanent borrowing and the limits to which temporary borrowing may be carried are each carefully examined. (This course is open to sophomores with the consent of the instructor). Wed., Fri., Sat. Third period. Three hours.

Business Administration 111-112.

General Course in Business Administration:

This course considers all the different phases of business administration. Attention will be given to problems of Labor, Marketing, Finance, etc.

This course is intended primarily for the purpose of meeting the needs of two distinct classes of students: First, those who are not contemplating taking the more advanced and specialized subjects of business administration but who desire a general knowledge of such subjects for their personal needs, and second, that class of students who are looking forward to a more intensive study of the specialized fields. For the second class of students this course will serve as a background. The course is highly recommended for both classes of students. Wed. Second period. One hour.

Department of Chemistry

A laboratory fee of $5.00 per semester is required in all courses. A breakage deposit of $5.00 must be made before a desk in the laboratory can be obtained.

Chemistry 11-12.

Chemistry 11. General Chemistry. A study of the fundamental principles and phenamena of inorganic and theoretical chemistry. Emphasis is laid upon the development of the principles and their applications to the organization of the science. Attention is also given to the practical side of the subject. Section 1. Rec. and Lec., Tues., Thur. Second period. Lab., Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Section 2. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Lab., Thurs., Sat. Fifth and Sixth periods. Four hours credit. Professors Means and Cochrane.

Chemistry 12. General Chemistry. A continuation of Chemistry 11. Prerequisite Chemistry 11 or its equivalent. Section 1. Rec. and Lec., Tues., Thur. Second period. Lab., Wed., Fri. First and Second periods. Section 2. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Lab., Thurs., Sat. Fifth and Sixth periods. Four hours credit. Professors Means and Cochrane.

Chemistry 51-52.

Chemistry 51. Qualitative Analysis. Prerequisite Chemistry 11-12. The course consists of the identification of all the common cathions and anions. The class-room work consists of the discussion of the technique and underlying principles. Rec. and Lec. Wed., Fri. Fourth period. Lab., Tues., Thurs., Sat. Third and Fourth periods. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 52. Quantitative Analysis. Prerequisite Chemistry 51. The work of this semester consists of representative types of gravimetric and volumetric analysis. The technique and fundamental principles of analytical chemistry are studied and stoichiometric problems are solved. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fourth period. Lab., Tues., Thurs., Sat. Third and Fourth periods. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 101-102.

Chemistry 101. Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite Chemistry 51. The properties, preparation and structure of the leading types of organic compounds are studied. The principles of inorganic and theoretical chemistry are applied in the explanation of the reactions of organic substances. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Third period. Lab., Tues., Thurs. Third and Fourth periods. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Special Departments

Milligan College maintains five Special Departments, open to all students because of their practical value in fitting young men and women for their daily activities. For work in these departments no collegiate credit is given.

Commercial Department

GERTRUDE ODOM

1. Bookkeeping

Draughon's Progressive Bookkeeping is taught. By this method Bookkeeping is made easy. The student who has mastered this course has laid a substantial foundation for a career as an expert bookkeeper. Text: Draughon's Progressive Bookkeeping and Business Manual. Hours to be arranged.

II. Shorthand

Gregg Shorthand, the standard Shorthand system of America is used. Gregg Shorthand is easy to learn, easy to read, easy to write, and is superior in speed possibilities. Texts: Gregg Shorthand Manual, Graded Readings in Gregg Shorthand, Gregg Speed Studies and Dictation. Hours to be arranged.

III. Typewriting

The New Rational Typewriting System, a thoroughly graded and progressive course of lessons is taught. A certificate of proficiency is granted in Typewriting. Medals are also awarded. Tests for Certificate and Medals are given according to the "Underwood Expert Typing Tests and Awards." Text: The New Rational Typewriting, Rupert P. SoRelle. Hours to be arranged.

IV. Office Training

This course is open to all students who are enrolled in the Busness Department. "Office Training" gives the knowledge and training that employers designate as "experience." Subjects discussed: The Business Letter; Applying for a Position; Office Routine; Mail; Forms of Remittances; Filing Systems; Office Appliances; Shipping; Business and Legal Papers; Telegrams; Business Ethics; etc. Text: Office Training for Stenographers by Rupert P. SoRelle. Hours to be arranged.

Department of Dramatic Art

DIMPLE HART

The aim of Expression is to stimulate the imagination and power of creative thinking, to cultivate self confidence and ability for leadership; and through harmonious training of the mind, voice and body, to develop forceful personalities. To train the student to become a true interpreter of the finest in literature as adapted to the platform and class room is to enable him to express himself with simplicity, security and force.

All students in Expression have access to the Dramatic Club, plays, debates and recitals. Those successfully completing the full course together with giving a recital will be granted a certificate stating their proficiency.

I. Preliminary

Dr. S. S. Curry's Textbooks, Foundations of Expression and Classics. These books furnish a pratical means of studying and training the mind, of stimulating and awakening the faculties, and the study of the mind in creating and assimilating ideas by true interpretation through the living voice. Hours to be arranged.

II. Voice Training

Physiology of Voice. The study and practice of right conditions for the right production of pure tone. (Resonance and Flexibility of Voice and Tone Color.) Hours to be arranged.

III. Body Training and Harmonic Work.

Two methods are used for the development of the physical organism; the organic method which aims to secure proportion and normal adjustment of all parts of the body; the harmonic method which develops the body for expression. Relaxing and reorganizing movements—Ease and Freedom. Hours to be arranged.

IV. Public Speaking

Delivery is the expression of the human body through the human organism. Textbook work, extemporaneous speaking and group discussion. Repertoire; study and interpretation of Drama; Coaching of Plays. Special attention will be given to interpretive Bible and Hymn reading as technical training for young ministers. Hours to be arranged.

Department of Home Economics

ERNESTINE RICHARDSON

The Home Economics Cottage, devoted to the use of the Home Economics Department, furnishes adequate equipment for the work. Students successfully completing the full courses will be granted a certificate stating their proficiency.

1. Food and Dietetics: A study of the production, nutritive value, cost, care and preparation of food, food requirement of the individual; food testing.

Laboratory, two hours per week; lecture one hour. Both Sem.

2. Food and Dietetics: Preservation of food; food requirements of various groups, relation of cost to nutritive value; planning, preparing and serving meals of various costs.

Laboratory, three hours per week; lecture one hour. Both Sem.

- 3. Household Management: Organization of a home, routine of house work, cleaning, laundry, marketing, budgets and accounts, actual responsibility and work of managing the cottage. One Sem.
- 12. Textiles and Clothing: History of textile industry, study of culture and manufacture of fibers; tests for various fibers, and judging of cloth; study of the sewing machine including the use of all its attachments; the hygiene of clothing; clothing budget; dress forms; cotton garment making. Text book, Woolman and McGowans Textiles. Laboratory two hours; lecture one hour. Hours to be arranged. Both Sem.
- 13. Dress Making: History of costume; study of appropriate dress in regard to line and design for individual type; and to occupation and income; drafting of patterns; commercial patterns, draping, making dresses of silk and wool. Hours to arranged. Both Sem.
- 14. Principles of design: In costume design, line, rhythm, balance and color harmonies suitable to the individual. In interior decoration, color, form and arrangement of house furnishings are studied. Hours to be arranged. One Sem.

Department of Music

SARAH HUGHES WHITE

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in accordance with true tradition of the art. Music which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique, and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The Music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of the Art.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses both in Piano and Voice offer a certificate or diploma upon the completion of the prescribed amount of work. The work for the diploma includes, in addition to that offered for the certificate, a public Senior Recital together with Music Analysis and advanced Musical History. Both certificate and diploma state expressly the amount of work done together with the proficiency attained.

To enroll for a certificate or diploma in the Music Department, the student must offer High School graduation with not fewer than sixteen units. To secure the certificate or diploma, collegiate studies must be carried in addition to the prescribed music courses including the classes in Theory. The collegiate courses include two full years or twelve credit hours in each of the following: English, Foreign Language, Psychology, Education and History. Students in Voice must also study Piano sufficiently to render moderately difficult accompaniment with facility.

PIANOFORTE

First Year. This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bohm, Lange, and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bach. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschron, Bach, Preludes and Fuges, Cramer, Octave Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelsshon and others. Hours to be arranged.

Courses in Voice

Additional to the courses in Voice, the student has opportunity for development in the art of stage deportment, with training also in Cantata and Operetta, with chorus singing.

First Year. Diagnosis of Vocal faults, their correction with exercises in tone production; prose in singing; use of Sieber and Vaccai with a few simple songs. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Continuation of tone building and tone coloring; linking tone up with imagination. Use of Vaccai continued, with Concone and songs by Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, Mozart, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. From Lyric to Dramatic style. Use of Lutgen with simple operatic arias and oratorios. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Further development of singing style. French and Italian diction with modern songs and airs from operas and oratorios. Seniors will give a graduating recital either individually or jointly at the discretion of the Director. Hours to be arranged.

Courses in Theory

Music History

Among the advantages offered are the courses in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned. Hours to be arranged.

Harmony

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given a special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the textbooks employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke. Hours to be arranged.

Theory

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory. Hours to be arranged.

RECOGNITION OF CREDIT

The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music gives full credit for work completed in Milligan College.

Special Music Fees

1.	For Sheet Music and Music Books—per Semester$2.5	50
2.	Glee Club Music—for Semester	50
3.	Certificate or Diploma	00

Department of Physical Education

JAMES T. EDWARDS ADA BESS HART

Physical Education

Beginning with the fiscal year of 1924-25, Milligan College has effered a complete program of physical education. This program is required of all young women for the full four years on the basis of a minimum of two periods a week. The physical education program will be divided into gymnasium work, swimming, and varsity athletics. Those physically unfit will be determined by medical examination.

Any branch of varsity athletics constitutes an elective for the regular physical education work during such time as the student is actually a member of the varsity squad. In the event a student is for any reason, discontinued from the varsity squad, or the particular sport in which he is interested ends its season, he will thereupon return to regular physical education work. Students engaged in actual physical work around the institution may be exempt from the physical courses by arrangement with the Deans of the college and the physical Director.

COURSES FOR YOUNG WOMEN

The gymnasium courses for the girls will consist of elementary and advanced marching, calisthenics, correctives, apparatus work, folk and aesthetic dancing, group games, and outdoor sports. Each girl will be subject to a physical examination upon entering school and a general health program will be followed throughout the year. Classes are as follows, conducted by Miss Hart.

Thur. and Sat.. Sixth period.

Thur. and Sat. Seventh period.

COURSES FOR MEN

The gymnasium courses will consist of such activities as marching, calisthenics, apparatus work, group games, wrestling and boxing, and setting up exercises. Mass athletics are encouraged on the outside during suitable weather. Classes in wrestling and boxing, Wed. and Fri. each week. Classes in calesthenics on Thur. and Sat. of each week. Conducted by Coach Edwards.

Organization

Foreword

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, does not receive the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in the liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

Historical Sketch

EARLY HISTORY

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting.

At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers," "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains," together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity.

HISTORY OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history, not only of Tennessee, but also of the Nation. After the war between the states this school was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character gave its impress to the history of the college. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian culture, a clean heart and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robert Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood that he had met, and therefore named the college, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world, is written, not in books nor upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured during these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Over three hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the college has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

Grounds And Buildings

THE CAMPUS

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the graceful driveways, with clumps of shrubbery on either side, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—altogether constitute an imposing scene of unusual beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre over-looking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. No more beautiful scene can be found and no better field for outdoor sports could be desired. A standard one-quarter mile running track has been constructed and the natural amphitheatre has been equipped with modern stadium facilities. As an athletic field this part of the campus is unsurpassed.

WATER SUPPLY

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been erected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring.

The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. The first building erected here was very modest, but judged by the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet and presents four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the com-Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive entrance. The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. These porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at an approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The class rooms, offices, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

LIBRARY

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added to the library. Two thousand dollars have been set aside as an annual appropriation to be used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The collection includes practically all of the leading publications of the day. The new library quarters on the second floor of the administration building comprising two spacious rooms, with a large stack room adjoining, afford a delightful and convenient place for study and research. The library constitutes a real work-shop of the institution during the day and in the evenings.

LABORATORIES

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

PARDEE HALL

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, and overlooking the entire college campus, stands Pardee Hall for men. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valley on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. To the left of Buffalo Mountain lies a quiet, beautiful valley presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from view in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

Pardee Hall is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Ample equipment is provided in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences. The building is equipped with the best type of modern electric lighting. Each room has a built-in clothes press, modern enameled single beds and comfortable mattresses throughout.

HARDIN HALL

This commodious Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated so as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a beautiful panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with rooms for the Dean of Women and other lady teachers on the first floor, and rooms for young ladies on the upper floors. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and remodeled. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed, and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

A modern eight-room brick bungalow, standing near the mainentrance to the grounds, is the President's Home.

J. O. CHEEK ACTIVITY BUILDING

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has recently erected a large and attractive gymnasium. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and held at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further possesses a pair of Brunswick Bowling Alleys. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of modern living quarters for members of the faculty and a limited dormitory space for men.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, together with other outdoor sports such as track and tennis are to be added, also swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

Special Advantages

HEALTHFULNESS OF LOCATION

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the south, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchell, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the seashore. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact, Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

PROXIMITY TO JOHNSON CITY

Milligan College is only ten minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter County.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus lines running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the college enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a ten minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of being the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Students are not expected to bring guests to the college without permission.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

All applications for rooms must be accompanied by a deposit fee of $5.00 to insure the room being held for the applicant. This fee applies toward the first semester's expense. If the applicant decides after August 15th, not to enter Milligan College, this fee is not returnable. Application blanks will be furnished by the college on request.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, pillows, etc., otherwise mentioned in the bulletin, page 38, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed-room slippers, laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, walking shoes with military heels, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young woman who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except by permission of parents mailed direct to the Dean of Women.
- 4. Such permission as mentioned in number three will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 5. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain written permission from parents.
- 6. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 7. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letter writing, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.
- 8. Young women are under college regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Parents may not grant social or other permissions immediately before the students enter. Young women will not be allowed to remain at the college after the close of school.
- 9. Neatness and order are expected of all young women in the care of their rooms.
- 10. Only conservative evening dresses will be worn. Dresses worn on all occasion will be approved by the Dean of Women.
- 11. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays, with dinner on Sundays 75 cents.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkins.
- 2. Week-end visits tend to distract attention from regular work. Parents are urged not to ask for more than one visit a semester, except under special circumstances in which cases definite arrangements must be made.
- 3. Absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church, meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 4. No young man may be absent from the village without permission from the Dean of Men.
- 5. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 6. Young men are not required to report at breakfast and dinner on Mondays. If their general deportment is satisfactory, they may leave the village at their wish on this day; provided this privilege is not suspended as a penalty, and provided also that they return by supper time.
- 7. Young men must exercise care to keep their rooms neat and orderly. Rooms are subject to inspection at any time.
- 8. Each occupant of a room in the boys' dormitories will deposit with the Treasurer at the opening of the school year a fee of five dollars as a deposit for keys and room damage.
- 9. Young men must maintain a courtly and gracious bearing toward every officer of the institution.
- 10. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus. The use of liquor is prohibited on all occasions.
- 11. The interpretation of the above rules of absence will depend upon the student's class standing and will be applied accordingly. The upper classmen will have more freedom of choice with less regulation in this respect, than the lower classmen. Rules will apply rigidly to all persons entering college for the first time and to all persons of any class who in any way may abuse the privileges of their class rank.
- 12. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays, with dinner on Sundays, 75 cents.

Policies and Regulations

General Information

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AND GOVERNMENT

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environment of the College is exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the college and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Bible School, and Sunday morning church service. Students who are unwilling thus to place themselves in a Christian atmosphere should not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the college to enforce religious activities, but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

Social relationships may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the college to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation, or study. At all times a perfectly straight-forward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

The Administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. To take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible not alone for all conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishings are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings. A violation of this policy will mean prompt dismissal for the first offense.

USE OF TOBACCO

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. No student under the age of eighteen will be admitted to the college or continued therein who uses tobacco. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the ministerial course of study. It is also the policy of the college to prohibit the use of tobacco about the college buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether.

Note:—Card-playing, profanity and liquor using are also forbidden at Milligan College.

QUESTIONS OF ECONOMY

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in college, as it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF HELP

The college will use students for all the different forms of work, in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive compensation according to their efficiency, and general value to the college.

No teaching positions are open. Those receiving employment will not be permitted to use tobacco and will be expected to maintain an average grade of C. All students applying for aid should furnish recommendations from their teachers, or resident pastor. All financial arrangements must be made with the President. All students employed by the college are especially obligated to conform to the policies of the college cheerfully and encourage others to do so.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Milligan College offers exceptional advantages to students preparing for the Christian ministry. Extensive courses are offered in Biblical and related subjects. The Ministerial Association furnishes opportunity for practical development as well as helpful fellowship among the ministerial group. Numerous churches within easy reach of the college, many of which depend upon students for supply, enable students not only to secure needed preaching experience, but also to defray a part of the college expenses. All student preaching is fostered by the Dean and Faculty of the Bible Department.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR TEACHERS

Milligan College offers to students and graduates work which will lead to the securing of Professional Certificates as follows:

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATES

High School. A permanent professional certificate will be issued to the appplicant for the position of high school teacher who is a graduate of Milligan College and who has completed at least eighteen semester hours in education as prescribed by the State Commissioner and State Board of Education. Such certificates shall certify the subjects the holder is entitled to teach; and no applicant shall be licensed to teach any subject in which he or she has a credit of less than twelve semester hours.

Elementary. A permanent professional certificate will be issued to the applicant for the position of teacher in elementary schools who has completed a two-year curriculum for elementary teachers in Milligan College, and who has had at least twelve semester hours in education.

Two-year High School. A professional certificate valid for a period of four years will be issued to the applicant for the position of teacher in a two-year high school who has completed at least four semesters' work in Milligan College and who has had at least twelve semester hours in education.

Note:—Milligan College will recommend to the Tennessee State Department of Education for consideration as education credits the following courses only, viz: Introductory Psychology 21-22, three hours, together with all courses in Education taught by the Education Department of Milligan College.

HONOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College maintains an honor "Scholarship" equal in value to one-half actual college expenses less all fees, for the honor graduate of every Standard Class A High School. This "Scholarship" is offered with two objects in view:

First—To stimulate and encourage better work in the High School.

Second—To secure a select type of students for the college.

Since the student body of Milligan College is limited in number, it is desirable by this means to maintain the highest possible personnel. Students who hold this "Scholarship" must manifest a high character and loyal college spirit, as well as maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than B. This scholarship ends with the Junior year.

GENERAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships, of varying value, are provided by generous individuals for the purpose of aiding young men and women, who are in need of help to secure an education. All of these scholarships represent opportunities for self-help; and students, who are beneficiaries of such scholarships, will be called upon to perform in return such service for the college as will not seriously interfere with their studies. To retain the benefits of these scholarships, the beneficiaries must maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than C, and also perform their assigned scholarship work to the satisfaction of the college. Scholarship students are urged not to enroll for more than sixteen academic hours. (These scholarships may be used up to and including the Junior Year, but are not open to Seniors.)

MINISTERIAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College offers to all worthy ministerial students, who need it, a Ministerial Service Scholarship. This scholarship is worth approximately one half of the student's actual expenses. The service, rendered in return for this kind of scholarship, will be with the churches located near Milligan College, and will be performed under the direction of the Dean of the Bible Department. So far as appears advisable freshmen and special ministerial students, who do not hold scholarships, will be helped in securing preaching appointments. Blanks to be used in applying for the Ministerial Service Scholarship may be secured upon request by addressing the President or Dean of the Bible Department, Milligan College, Tennessee.

CLASS ROOM SLOGAN

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

Loafers are not wanted at Milligan College.

No provisions are made for absences from classes except as stated on page 33; penalties and deprivation of privileges follow non-attendance at each appointed service.

No parent should think of sending to Milligan College a son or daughter who is not ready to support whole-heartedly every policy of the institution in its efforts to get worth-while results.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Attendance is required at examinations in all courses. The faculty has ruled that an examination may be taken at another than the regular time, after the student secures permission from his or her Dean and pays the fee of one dollar to the College Registrar. The receipt for the one dollar presented to the professor constitutes permission to hold the examination.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by the grades A, B, C, D, the last being the lowest passing grade. E indicates condition, F indicates failure. The passing grades signify the character of the student's work as follows: A is excellent; B is good; C is average;

D is poor; E is incomplete in some respect, necessitating further work to secure a credit grade. F is definitely unsatisfactory so that the course must be repeated in class to receive credit.

In the interest of definiteness and uniformity of grading the following numerical value is assigned for the grade letters:

A, 92 to 100; B, 83-91; C, 74-82; D, 65-73; F, below 65.

A condition on work done the first semester of any year may be removed the second semester by the student making arrangements with the professor in charge, within two weeks after the beginning of the second semester according to one of the following plans:

1. By completing all necessary incomplete work within six weeks after the beginning of the semester.

2. By passing a satisfactory re-examination within six weeks after the beginning of the semester.

3. By doing superior work during the second semester sufficient to merit passing the work for both semesters.

CREDITS AND RE-ENROLLMENT

To safeguard Milligan College against non-studious matriculates and to stimulate students to a high grade of academic attainment, so that the student's membership in the college will be determined largely by his own efforts, the following statement governs in matters of re-enrollment.

- 1. All students securing at least twelve hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be unconditionally enrolled for the succeeding semester.
- 2. All students securing from nine to eleven hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be provisionally enrolled for the succeeding semester. During this latter semester, however, they must secure at least twelve hours of collegiate credit or lose the privilege of further enrollment.
- 3. All students securing fewer than nine hours of collegiate credit during any one semester are thereby automatically dropped from the college.

NUMBER OF RECITATIONS PER WEEK

All regular students are required to carry a minimum of fifteen hours of academic work, (sixteen hours being the standard course).

Resident students specializing in the special departments will be required to carry a minimum of twelve hours of academic work.

Eighteen hours of academic credit is the maximum for any one semester.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ABSENCES FROM CLASSES

Milligan College makes provision for absences from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled upon the following bases:

- 1. Absences from classes may be excused by the Deans and Registrar on the grounds indicated below:
 - (1). The illness of a student.
 - (2). The severe illness or death of a near relative of a student.
 - (3). The student's being selected as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity, such as inter-collegiate debate, oratorical or literary contest or athletic contest.
- 2. For every fifteen absences, excused or unexcused, accumulated during the college course, one-half a semester hour will be deducted from the student's total number of credit hours to date. If a student leaves college before graduation the deduction will be made from those courses in which grades are low. If fifteen absences occur in any course deductions may be made in that course.
- 3. If a student accumulates in any course four unexcused absences he will be dropped from the course with the grade of failure, and be subject to review regarding all his other work.
- 4. If a student fails in a given course by reason of absences or for any other reason, the absences in that course will not be counted in the total of accumulated absences.
- 5. Students who represent the college abroad in athletics, oratorical or literary contests, debates, etc, may have such absences canceled upon a written request from his or her Dean. This written request will be filed at the Registrar's Office within forty-eight hours after the student returns to classes.
- 6. Unexcused absences from any class during its last recitation before, or its first recitation after a regular holiday or vacation will count double in the total of accumulated absences.
- 7. Absences due to late matriculation or enrollment will be regarded as excused and counted in the total.
- 8. No student is excused from collegiate attendance until the Commencement exercises close.
- 9. All absences, excused or unexcused, count ultimately against the student, on the principle that classwork missed for any reason whatever is work lost by the student, and can be made good, if at all, only by additional class work. In practice, experience shows that such work can better be made up by regular class instruction than by private assignment in the class where the work is lost.

- Note—1. Teachers will report daily to the Registrar the absentees from their classes by leaving reports at the Registrar's Office.
- 2. Teachers will also report the number of absentees from their classes with each report of grades, both for the nine weeks periods and for the semesters.

FACULTY REGULATIONS

The statements in this catalogue are for the direction of the college, and no departure from these statements will be made except by action of the faculty.

TEXTBOOKS

Textbooks may be purchased from the college bookstore. Terms are strictly cash. Books may often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

DAILY PROGRAM

Rising bell rings at 6:30 (Sunday, 7:00). Breakfast, 7:00 (Sunday, 7:30). First class bell, 7:35. Chapel, 9:35 to 10:00. Noon, 1:00 to 2:00. Class hours follow chapel until 1:00. Supper 5:30 o'clock.

Student Organizations

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The literary organizations contribute much to student development. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in teamwork, and for the study and discussion of vital problems.

There are four well organized and efficient literary societies maintained by the student body of the college. These are the American Literary Society and the Athenian Literary Society for young men; the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society for young women. These societies have halls which have been equipped by their own initiative, and in which great pride is maintained. The above organizations do a character of work very helpful to those participating. Young men and women chosen for inter-collegiate oratorical contests, debates, etc., are first tried out and recommended to the faculty by the literary organizations. All students entering Milligan College are encouraged to become active members in one or the other of the organizations. These societies meet once each year in inter-society debate. The inter-society debates are preliminary to the annual inter-collegiate debates and are held not later than December looking toward the inter-collegiate debates which come in the Spring Semester.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found a band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who possess musical instruments should be certain to bring them.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the active Religious Organizations are: The Ministerial Association; The Student Volunteer Band; The Girls Missionary Circle; Senior Christian Endeavor; Prayer Groups, and the Community Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for religious training. The College Prayer Room, devoted to the spiritual uplift of the student body, furnishes a quiet place not only for meditation and prayer, but also for the meetings of the Ministerial Association and Missionary Volunteer Band.

DRAMATIC CLUB

For the cultivation of Dramatic Art and dramatic taste, as well as, for the discovery and development of whatever talent the student body may possess, a dramatic club is maintained throughout the year under the direction of the teacher of Expression. The value and popularity of this club have made it necessary to have a Senior and Junior organization. The Senior organization, "The Masque" is composed of students who have had one year's resident work in the Junior group of the Dramatic Club, and have appeared in one major or three minor roles. The Junior organization is the workshop from which new material is chosen. At intervals during the year the club renders programs which exhibit fine, artistic work. The club members write, study and produce plays. The club holds monthly meetings and is a valuable asset in the development of the student body.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS

Milligan College has always maintained a fine record in athletics. The Athletic Organizations, which, in a way, are student organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All inter-collegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Smoky Mountain Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

Milligan College makes it a definite policy to live up to the spirit and purpose of strictly amateur sportsmanship and has no patience with violation of a principle by dodging behind some technicality. Milligan College also holds that no athletic program in a college can be justified as an end in itself. Only in so far as athletic sports contribute to the values of loyalty, honesty, fair-dealing and true manhood, is the college administration interested. It is believed that this cardinal point constitutes the crux of the much discussed athetic problem.

Mass athletics are fostered and encouraged. Class tournaments are held in both major and minor sports.

Consequently, all persons who enjoy athletic honors and represent Milligan College in games must be first of all, clean, honorable gentlemen; secondly they must be earnest students; and last comes athletic ability.

The College Administration and the student body support the athletic organizations liberally, both in finances and sentiment. An efficient coach for all the college games is in charge.

THE "M" CLUB

One of the recent organizations in Milligan College is known as the "M" Club. This club includes all who win the privilege of wearing the official "M" by virtue of athletic ability in any of the forms of athletics conducted in Milligan College. The Club fosters clean and wholesome athletic principles and stands unflinchingly for real and meritorious sportsmanship.

FORENSIC CLUB

The students of Milligan College maintain an organization known as the Forensic Club. This club constitutes one of the most active and valuable factors in the life of the men of the college. This club trains during the year more than twenty-five debaters and orators. The club also sponsors some fifteen inter-collegiate debates and oratorical contests. Through the efforts of this club, Milligan College now holds membership in the Tennessee Oratorical League. The club maintains a virile interest in public speaking and general Forensic accomplishments.

Student Activities

DEBATES

Every year Milligan College has some four or five inter-collegiate debates. In these debates training in argumentation is given to about twenty men and women.

LUCAS READING CONTEST

Miss Annie Lee Lucas, of East Radford, Va., offers prizes of ten dollars and five dollars for the best two readings given by young women of the college. This occurs early in March in the College Chapel.

CROUCH ORATORICAL CONTEST

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, of Johnson City, Tennessee, offers prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to best orations prepared and delivered by young men of the college. The date for this contest is February 22. Competitors for the Crouch Oratorical Contest are chosen by the Men's Literary Societies. The winner of the Crouch Contest becomes the representative of Milligan College to the State Oratorical Contest conducted by the East Tennessee Oratorical Association of which Milligan College is a member. The State Contest usually occurs in April.

PUBLICATIONS

The students of Milligan College print two publications, one a monthly and the other an annual. The former is known as The Stampede, and like all newspapers, it gives the news of the college for the information of both the student body and the friends of the college.

The Buffalo is the annual publication, serving the usual purpose of such publications, and makes an excellent souvenir of college days.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and is strongly discouraged.

Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at the college.

No student will be excused to leave his or her duty either before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy at or visit any store or eating place unless such is registered and approved by the State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Students and Faculty are strongly urged not to patronize business places open on Sunday.

The student whose connection with the college is severed either by Faculty or by his own violition must leave immediately or be subject to all the regulations of the college.

Students irregular upon college or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the college altogether.

Students from a distance will reside only in such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid the first of the semester in advance. An additional charge of 20 per cent will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students are expected to register during the opening day of the semester and a charge of one dollar per day will be made for registration after opening day.

Students entering later than September 25 or February 7 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests, or debates.

Students entering later than September 25 or February 7 will be given reduced credit for work done.

Young men and young women visiting students will be considered as subject to all college regulations

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

EXPENSES

The topic, "Expenses," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provided by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before a student can enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pilow cases, towels, napkins, and extra blankets.

Girls rooming alone will be charged from $2.00 to $3.00 extra per month.

No final examinations will be given to students whose expenses are not paid in full.

The College

ACCREDITED LIST

At the 1924 meeting in the city of Memphis of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, Milligan College was made an approved Non-Member of this Association, thus granting full teaching privileges, etc., to her graduates in all the territory over which the Association has jurisdiction. The Non-Membership feature will be cleared as soon as endowment is secured.

Admission of Students

TYPE OF STUDENT DESIRED

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them a letter of recommendation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR COLLEGE ENTRANCE

The unit employed in measuring work for College entrance is the equivalent of five recitations per week, throughout the school year. A course in English, for example, which recites five times per week during the year, will count as one unit. At least fifteen units are required for admission without condition. The fifteen units must include the following:

ENTRANCE BY CERTIFICATE

- 1. From Secondary Schools. Graduates from secondary schools applying for admission to Milligan College, who offer not less than the fifteen units prescribed above for college entrance, including the specific entrance requirements by departments will be admitted without condition upon presentation of a certified transcript of credits issued by the secondary school where the applicant graduated. This transcript must be sent direct from the office of the secondary school to the Registrar of Milligan College not later than two weeks after the opening day of the college semester.
- 2. From Higher Institutions. Applicants for admission to Milligan College, claiming credits earned in other institutions and desiring advanced standing, must furnish a transcript of the credits claimed, properly endorsed by the school last attended, together with a statement of honorable dismissal. This transcript with statement of honorable dismissal must be sent direct from the office of the school issuing the transcript to the Registrar of Milligan College.

ENTRANCE BY EXAMINATION

Applicants for admission to Milligan College not able to satisfy the entrance requirements by certificate will be given entrance examinations upon request.

CONDITIONED ENTRANCE

Applicants for admission to Milligan College, presenting not less than fourteen units for college entrance, will be admitted to the Freshman Class on condition. This condition must be removed by the close of the Freshman year so that the student will then have the full fifteen units required for college entrance in order that his enrollment thereafter may be without condition.

Applicants who present not less than the fourteen or fifteen units necessary to college entrance, but who may lack any of the subjects prescribed by Milligan College for entrance will be required to satisfy the deficiency by the end of the Sophomore year. The deficiency will not be regarded as satisfied until the ten and one-half units listed on page 43 are completed including the specific entrance requirements by departments. (To assist in satisfying entrance deficiencies conditioned students will be assigned tutors approved by the faculty.)

MATRICULATION

The first day of each semester is matriculation day when all students will make arrangements for entering classes. New students must first present to the Registrar their entrance credentials and when advanced standing is desired also certified credentials from the college last attended. Further steps to matriculation are:

- 1. Students will secure and fill out in full with the help of one of the Advisory Professors a registration card.
- 2. This card when complete must be submitted to his Dean (or her Dean) and to the President of the college for their approval.
- 3. The students will then pay to the Treasurer of the college all tuition and other fees.
- 4. Students must leave a copy of the registration card and also of the course card with the Registrar for filing.
- 5. No student may attend classes until these conditions have been met.

Former students matriculating after the regular matriculation days will be charged an additional fee of one dollar per day for the number of days that they are late.

Students matriculating later than two weeks after the first day of matriculation will not receive full credit in any course for that semester.

All changes in courses must be made during the first week of the semester.

All students are required to have at least two classes (exclusive of laboratory work) every recitation day.

Other details will be announced during the process of registration.

PRE-REGISTRATION

The first school week in April students will secure from the Registrar a pre-registration blank, fill it out indicating courses to be pursued the following year, together with other information necessary to aid students in the arrangement of courses so as to meet without conflict the requirements for graduation.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSE

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical college.

These requirements include the regular fifteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this course will be accepted by all affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry 11-12 Biology 11-12 Mathematics 11-12 French 11-12 or German 11-12 English 11-12 Organic Chemistry 101-102 Physics 51-52 Qualitative Analysis 51

If a student does not make the required number of hours to become a member of a higher class, he remains a member of the lower class and is not put into the unclassified group.

The Registrar's book is the official record of classification.

EXPLANATION

The courses in the following description are arranged in four groups according to the rank which they hold as being open to Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors or Seniors. Thus, courses numbered 1-50 are open to Freshmen; courses 51-100 to Sophomores; courses 101-150 to Juniors; and courses 151-200 to Seniors. Courses carrying odd numbers are offered the first semester; those carrying even numbers, the second semester. Courses whose numbers are joined by hyphen (Eg. 11-12) represent a year's work and must be carried for both semesters. All courses not so numbered are complete in themselves and may be taken either semester independently of the other. All courses are open to students whose rank is indicated by the number of the course and also to students of higher rank. Students, however, are urged to choose courses in the year in which they are listed.

Department of Economics and Business Administration

The course of study here outlined is not assumed to prepare students fully for specific business positions, but it does give a general grounding in business principles and practices. It is such a course as will enable the student quickly to understand and make progress in the specific fields of business enterprise and to hasten his promotion from lower to higher positions in the business world.

Conditions for admission to this department are the same as apply to the college as a whole.

Students who offer French or German for entrance may take advanced work in the language or languages already studied or may take two full years in some other foreign language in this college. No credit is given for a language taken less than two years. It is recommended that the student arrange to have his foreign language requirement include two modern foreign languages. After taking six hours of foreign language, students who are taking only advanced foreign language in this college may substitute science or mathematics for the additional six hours.

CURRICULUM OF THE DEPARTMENT

European Economic History 21.

The purpose of this course and the one immediately following is to serve as a background for the more technical business administration subjects. This part of the general course outlines the economic history of Europe, especially England, with particular attention to the Industrial Revolution and the period since. The spread of this great industrial change throughout the world will be considered as will also such subjects as the Agrarian Revolution, the development of banking, transportation, commerce, and kindred subjects. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fourth Period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

United States Economic History 22.

A natural continuation of course 21. Some attention is given to the effect of the physiographic factors and natural resources as they have affected our economic life. The course begins with the Colonial period and extends to the present. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

Eementary Economics 51-52.

This course is required of all who are to take the more specific courses in business administration. The course combines historical and theoretical economics with problems. Such subjects as economic organization, laws of price, money, banking, and exchange are dealt with during the first half of the course. During the second semester the work will cover such subjects as problems of the business organization, the distribution of wealth and income, the economics of government, problems of labor, and reform of the economic system. The course is based on the text of Fairchild, Furness, and Buck. Mon., Wed., Fri. Second Period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

Business Ethics 53-54.

The relation between academic ethics and professional ethics, a survey of what business and professional men and organizations have done to define and promote ethical standards in their respective fields, ethics of competition, the duties of business and professional men to society, personal idealism. (Students enrolling in this course should enroll also in course 81-82 to complete their schedule.) Sat. First Period. One hour. Professor Burns.

Marketing 61-62.

The work in this course covers fundamental principles which apply to the distribution of goods from the producer to the consumer and seeks to acquaint the student with methods of marketing merchandise. The first half of the course is concerned chiefly with a consideration of consumers' buying habits and motives, types and methods of retail distribution, methods of wholesale distribution, and methods of marketing industrial goods. The second half of the course considers sales management, brand, trade mark, advertising policies, sales correspondence, and price policies. The course will be conducted both by the use of text book and problem method, with emphasis on the latter. (Not offered in 1928-29.)

Labor Problems 71-72.

A study is made of the effects of modern production methods upon labor, wages, hours, women and children in industry, industrial diseases and accidents, unemployement, unions, employers' associations, industrial disputes, labor legislation, social insurance, etc. (Not offered in 1928-29.)

Economic Geography 81-82.

A general survey of the geography, natural resources, commerce, and industry of the United States, Europe, and other principal nations of the world. (Students enrolling in this course should enroll also in course 53-54 to complete their schedule.) Tues., Thur. First Period. Two hours. Professor Burns.

Elementary Accounting 91-92.

This is an introductory course which does not require a previous knowledge of bookkeeping. Study is made of double and single entry bookkeeping, basic types of records and reports, general accounting procedure, the statement of profit and loss, the balance sheet, and related problems of valuation, reserves, depreciation, etc. (Includes laboratory work.) Tues., Thur., Sat. Third Period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

Advanced Accounting 101-102.

Principles of higher accounting, conducted by means of text, lectures, and problems. Attention is given to columnar books, revenue accounts, bad and doubtful debts, depreciation, etc. Corporation accounting. Consideration will be given to mechanical devices which aid in accounting. (Not offered in 1928-29.)

Money and Banking 111.

The course includes a study of the functions of money, coinage and legal tender, bimetallism, the single standard of money, credit and credit instruments, the silver movement, government paper money, price levels, the development of banking, the commercial bank, the savings bank, the trust company, the National Banking System, the Federal Reserve System, and the relation of our banking and financial system to the industrial and business organization. Mon., Wed., Fri. Fifth Period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

Business Finance 112.

This course logically follows course 111. The course deals with problems connected with the starting of a business, forms of business organization, kinds of stocks, the financial problems of large and small businesses, legal implications, receiverships, reorganizations, etc. Assigned problems are given considerable place in this course. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fifth Period. Three hours. Professor Burns.

Advertising 121.

Special attention will be given to the economic and psychological principles of successful advertising. Other specific matters considered are discovery of a proposition, sales points, market analysis, and sales plans in the retail and the wholesale fields, attention and interest incentives, desire incentives, mediums, the technique of copywriting, class practice in copy-writing, kinds of copy, agencies and campaigns, cuts, prices, follow-up systems, etc. Each student will be required to work out an advertising campaign involving given market and merchandising conditions. (Not offered in 1928-29.)

Salesmanship 122.

In this course consideration will be given to such subjects as the following: importance of salesmanship in merchandising, qualities needed for successful salesmanship, analysis of one's concern, analysis of one's merchandise or service, analysis of one's prospective customers, a critical analysis of the demonstration factors in successful selling, etc. Students will be given practice in preparing and presenting sales demonstrations. Note: Other courses in business administration are to be added as rapidly as the needs of the department may demand.

Department of Chemistry

A laboratory fee of $5.00 per semester is required in all courses. A breakage deposit of $5.00 must be made before a desk in the laboratory can be obtained.

Chemistry 11-12.

Chemistry 11. General Chemistry. A study of the fundamental principles and phoenomena of inorganic and theoretical chemistry. Emphasis is laid upon the development of the principles and their applications to the organization of the science. Attention is also given to the practical side of the subject. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fourth Period. Lab., Tues., Thur. Fourth and Fifth Periods. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 12. General Chemistry. A continuation of Chemistry 11. Prerequisite Chemistry 11 or its equivalent. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fourth period. Lab., Tues., Thur. Fourth and Fifth periods. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 51-52.

Chemistry 51. Qualitative Analysis. Prerequisite Chemistry 11-12. The course consists of the identification of all the common cathions and anions. The class-room work consists of the discussion of the technique and underlying principles. Rec. and Lec., Thur., Sat.

Second period. Lab. to be arranged. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 52. Quantitative Analysis. Prerequisite Chemistry 51. The work of this semester consists of representative types of gravimetric and volumetric analysis. The technique and fundamental principles of analytical chemistry are studied and stoichiometric problems are solved. Rec. and Lec., Thur., Sat. Second period. Lab. to be arranged. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 101-102.

Chemistry 101. Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite Chemistry 52. (This prerequisite may be waived by permission of the professor in charge.) The properties, preparation and structure of the leading types of organic compounds are studied. The principles of inorganic and theoretical chemistry are applied in the explanation of the reactions of organic substances. Rec. and Lec., Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Lab. to be arranged. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 102. Organic Chemistry. A continuation of Chemistry 101. Aromatic compounds. Rec. and Lec. Wed., Fri. Fifth period. Lab. to be arranged. Four hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 151-152.

Chemistry 151. Physical Chemistry. Prerequisite Chemistry 102. The more important phases of physical chemistry are studied. Rec. and Lec. Mon., Wed. Third period. Lab. to be arranged. Three hours credit. Professor Means.

Chemistry 152. Physical Chemistry. Continuation of Chemistry 151. Rec. and Lec. Mon., Wed. Third period. Lab. to arranged. Three hours credit. Professor Means.

Department of Education

Education 11.

Introduction to the Scientific Study of Education. A study of current educational problems and the scientific methods of solving them. Department of Mathematics Mathematics 11. A thorough and comprehensive course in Trigonometry, including the definition of functions, the development of general formulae, the theory and use of logarithms, the solution of right and oblique triangles. The text book work is extensively supplemented with practical problems. Section 1. Tues., Thur., Sat. Second period. Section 2. Mon., Wed., Fri. Second period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics 12. College Algebra. General review of quadratic equations, the progressions, variation. Special emphasis will be given the treatment of functions and their graphs, mathematical induction.

the theory of equations, permutations and combinations, probability and determinants. Section 1, Tues., Thur., Sat. Second period. Section 2. Mon., Wed., Fri. Second period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics 51. Analytic Geometry. Loci and their equations, the straight line, construction of graphs, solution of formulae, the circle, different systems of co-ordinates, transformation of co-ordinates, the parabola and the ellipse. Mon., Wed., Fri. Third period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics 52. Differential Calculus. The principles and formulae, with application to such problems as development of series, maxima and minima, tangents, and many practical problems. Mon., Wed., Fri. Third period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Business Mathematics 61.

Mathematical theory and its usual applications in business. This course covers all calculations required in ordinary business practice, such as, those connected with sales and profit statistics, payrolls, depreciation, interest, insurance, exchange, and taxes. Practical application rather than mathematical theory is stressed. Tues., Thur., Sat. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Mathematics 101. Integral Calculus. The integral is studied from the two-fold standpoint of anti-differential and the process of summation. After developing standard formulae of integration a large number and variety of practical problems are solved. Mon., Wed., Fri. Fourth period. Three hours. Professor Hyder.

Department of Physics

Physics 51-52.

Physics 51. General Physics. The fundamental principles of mechanics, sound, and heat, are treated. Class room instruction is given by textbook, recitation, problems, and experimental demonstration. In the laboratory each student performs experiments upon which written reports are required at the end of each week. Prerequisite, a knowledge of solid geometry and of the trigonometry of the right triangle. Fee $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Rec. Tues., Thur. Third period. Lab., Mon., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Means.

Physics 52. General Physics. A continuation of Physics 51, covering the elements of electricity and magnetism, and light. Fee $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Rec. Tues., Thur. Third period. Lab., Mon., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Means.

Department of Psychology and Philosophy

Psychology 21-22.

Special Departments

Milligan College maintains five Special Departments, open to all students because of their practical value in fitting young men and women for their daily activities. For work in these departments no collegiate credit is given.

Commercial Department

I. Bookkeeping

Draughon's Progressive Bookkeeping is taught. By this method Bookkeeping is made easy. The student who has mastered this course has laid a substantial foundation for a career as an expert bookkeeper. Text: Draughon's Progressive Bookkeeping and Business Manual. Hours to be arranged.

II. Shorthand

Gregg Shorthand, the standard Shorthand system of America is used. Gregg Shorthand is easy to learn, easy to read, easy to write, and is superior in speed possibilities. Texts: Gregg Shorthand Manual, Graded Readings in Gregg Shorthand, Gregg Speed Studies and Dictation. Hours to be arranged.

III. Typewriting

The New Rational Typewriting System, a thoroughly graded and progressive course of lessons is taught. A certificate of proficiency is granted in Typewriting. Medals are also awarded. Tests for Certificate and Medals are given according to the "Underwood Expert Typing Tests and Awards." Text: The New Rational Typewriting, Rupert P. SoRelle. Hours to be arranged.

IV. Office Training

This course is open to all students who are enrolled in the Business Department. "Office Training" gives the knowledge and training that employers designate as "experience." Subjects discussed: The Business Letter; Applying for a Position; Office Routine; Mail; Forms of Remittances; Filing Systems; Office Appliances; Shipping; Business and Legal Papers; Telegrams; Business Ethics; etc. Text: Office Training for Stenographers by Rupert P. SoRelle. Hours to be arranged.

Department of Dramatic Art

DIMPLE HART

The aim of Expression is to stimulate the imagination and power of creative thinking, to cultivate self-confidence and ability for leadership; and through harmonious training of the mind, voice and body, to develop forceful personalities. To train the student to become a true interpreter of the finest in literature as adapted to the platform and class room is to enable him to express himself with simplicity, security and force.

All students in Expression have access to the Dramatic Club, plays, debates and recitals. Those successfully completing the full course together with giving a recital will be granted a certificate stating their proficiency.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

(Dr Curry's textbooks are used as a basis for all courses)

Department of Music

SARAH HUGHES WHITE

The aim of the Music Department is to develop in the student the sense of the beautiful in music in accordance with true tradition of the art. Music which carries thought on wings of melody, has its law of formation, its technique, and expression, which must be mastered by the student. The music Department seeks to give the student a thorough, intelligent and artistic comprehension of the Art.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses both in Piano and Voice offer a certificate or diploma upon the completion of the prescribed amount of work. The work for the diploma includes, in addition to that offered for the certificate, a public Senior Recital together with Music Analysis and advanced Musical History. Both certificate and diploma state expressly the amount of work done together with the proficiency attained.

To enroll for a certificate or diploma in the Music Department, the student must offer High School graduation with not fewer than fifteen units. To secure the certificate or diploma, collegiate studies must be carried in addition to the prescribed music courses including the classes in Theory. The collegiate courses include two full years or twelve credit hours in each of the following: English, Foreign Language, Psychology, Education and History. Students in Voice must also study Piano sufficiently to render moderately difficult accompaniment with facility.

PIANOFORTE

First Year. This work includes ear training, studies in rhythm, dictation in melody and harmonic thinking. Studies from Kohler, easy selections by Spaulding, Streabog, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Studies from Kohler, Burgmuller, Duvorney; major and minor scales. Selections from Bohm, Lange, and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. Studies from Sonatas selected from Czerny, Heller, Duvorney, Clementi, Loeschron, Bach. All major and minor scales. Pieces by classic and modern composers. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Studies from Heller, Czerny, Loeschron, Bach, Preludes and Fuges, Cramer, Octave Studies, Hanon, Mozart. All scales are required in this year's work. Triads, etc. Selections from Chopin, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelsshon and others. Hours to be arranged.

Courses In Voice

Additional to the courses in Voice, the student has opportunity for development in the art of stage deportment, with training also in Cantata and Operetta, with chorus singing.

First Year. Diagnosis of Vocal faults, their correction with exercises in tone production; prose in singing; use of Sieber and Vaccai with a few simple songs. Hours to be arranged.

Second Year. Continuation of tone building and tone coloring; linking tone up with imagination. Use of Vaccai continued, with Concone and songs by Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, Mozart, etc. Hours to be arranged.

Third Year. From Lyric to Dramatic style. Use of Lutgen with simple operatic arias and oratorios. Hours to be arranged.

Fourth Year. Further development of singing style. French and Italian diction with modern songs and airs from operas and oratorios. Seniors will give a graduating recital either individually or jointly at the discretion of the Director. Hours to be arranged.

Courses In Theory

Music History

Among the advantages offered are the courses in History of Music. These will be conducted by the head of the department. Cook's History of Music is used as a basis and other readings and essays assigned. Hours to be arranged.

Harmony

Harmonic thinking should really be begun with the first piano lessons. Therefore those students who are preparing to teach piano will be given a special course in applied Harmony. In Harmony and Counterpoint the textbooks employed are Emery, Richter, and Clarke. Hours to be arranged.

Theory

Class lessons will be given in Theory at least once a week throughout the year. It is our purpose to have every music student pursue the study of Theory. Hours to be arranged.

RECOGNITION OF CREDIT

The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music gives full credit for work completed in Milligan College.

	Special Music Fees

Department of Physical Education

JAMES T. EDWARDS ADA BESS HART

Physical Education

Beginning with the fiscal year of 1924-25, Milligan College has offered a complete program of physical education. This program is required of all young women for the full four years on the basis of a minimum of two periods a week. The physical education program will be divided into gymnasium work, swimming, and varsity athletics. Those physically unfit will be determined by medical examination.

Any branch of varsity athletics constitutes an elective for the regular physical education work during such time as the student is actually a member of the varsity squad. In the event a student is for any reason, discontinued from the varsity squad, or the particular sport in which he is interested ends its season, he will thereupon return to regular physical education work. Students engaged in actual physical work around the institution may be exempt from the physical courses by arrangement with the Deans of the college and the physical Director.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR GIRLS

The aim of the Physical Education program for girls is: First, to provide exercises for all in attendance, to develop skill in physical activities, to give experience in team membership, and to foster recreational habits. Secondly: to provide courses for those who desire to teach Physical Education in elementary and high schools.

Each girl will be subject to a physical examination upon entering school and a general health program will be followed throughout the year.

A gymnasium suit consisting of black bloomers, black hose, black middy tie, white blouse and white tennis shoes is necessary for all gymnasium and field work, together with a regulation bathing suit consisting of grey cotton material for those using the pool.

SWIMMING

Elementary Swimming for Women. Mon., Wed., Fri. 3 o'clock. Advanced Swimming and Methods of Teaching Swimming. Mon., Wed., Fri. 4 o'clock.

Students satisfying the requirements of this course may qualify for the American Red Cross Senior Life-Saving Corps. (A Red Cross Examiner will be in charge of the pool.)

FORMAL GYMNASTICS FOR WOMEN

Tues., Thur., Sat. 2 o'clock.

First semester—Students will be given instruction in marching and running tactics, drills with hand apparatus, such as dumbbells, Indian Clubs and wands; tumbling and pyramid-building, with various forms of floor exercises.

Second semester—Review of first semester, advanced marching, parallel bars, balance beam, advanced exercise on floor and suspended apparatus, clogs, games and relays.

BASKETBALL AND COACHING OF BASKETBALL

This course will include individual and team coaching, systems of offense and defense; value of short and long passing, interpretation of the rules. Students will have regular practice on college squad. The main object of this course is to prepare students to coach.

INDIVIDUAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL GYMNASTICS

A course designed for those who are excused by a physician from the regular gymnastic classes.

Individual exercise for the prevention or arrest, the cure or correction of some definite functional or organic disability. Exercises will be under supervision of the Physical Education Instructor. Hours to be arranged.

TEACHING OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

(Will be given if enough students register for this course)
A course designed for women preparing themselves for the Physical Education profession. Consists of First Aid treatment of the injured, special problems in Physical Education, organization of intermural, inter-school and county meets, etc. Students taking this course will be required to do directed teaching in Physical Education.

TENNIS, BASEBALL, TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS

These events are a part of the regular Physical Education program and will be under the direction of the Physical Education Instructor.

Note—The following science courses are suggested as a foundation for those desiring to become Directors of Physical Education: Biology, Psychology, Sociology, Anatomy, and Bacteriology.

COURSES FOR MEN

The gymnasium courses will consist of such activities as marchin, calisthenics, apparatus work, group games, wrestling and boxing, and setting up exercises. Mass athletics are encouraged on the outside during suitable weather. Classes in wrestling and boxing, Wed. and Fri. each week. Classes in calisthenics on Thur. and Sat. of each week. Conducted by Coach.

FOREWORD

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is definitely and positively a Christian Institution, but it is not sectarian in its interpretation of Christianity. It stands uncompromisingly upon the Bible as the inspired Word of God, affirming that Jesus Christ is the Son of the Living God, that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He died, was buried, and rose from the grave, bringing life and immortality to light, as declared in the Scriptures.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is unswervingly loyal to the aims of the great movement which pleads for the restoration of the Christianity of the New Testament, for the union of all Christians in one body, and for the exaltation of the Lord's Word above all opinions, traditions and creeds of men.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE places Christian character first in the ideals of education, maintaining that without this great essential all other acquirements are of little value. Faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Bible has ever been paramount in the thought of trustees, faculty and students.

Rationalistic philosophy which has brought the whole world to the brink of ruin and which has become the fad in various institutions of learning in America and elsewhere, does not receive the slightest approval or support.

MILLIGAN COLLEGE offers courses for the instruction of students in the liberal arts and also maintains departments for professional education, but in order that it may most effectively inculcate Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, only those are selected to fill the places on the Faculty who are in cordial and open harmony with the principles and objects for which the College was founded and for which it exists.

General Information

Historical Sketch

EARLY HISTORY

Milligan College enjoys a unique and distinctive historical setting. At Sycamore Shoals, near Milligan College, was formulated and executed the first constitution in the world guaranteeing real self-government. This constitution was executed by the famous Watauga Association, so important in Tennessee history. The first Indian fort, according to reliable tradition, was within a short distance; the monument marking the assembly grounds for the King's Mountain expedition is only two short miles away. A sense of patriotic appreciation arises from the mere mention of Carter county, "Happy Valley," "Watauga and Nollychuckey Rivers", "Unaka and Grandfather Mountains", together with scores of other points rich in historic interest in the Milligan vicinity.

HISTORY OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE

The site of Milligan College, with its superb view of the majestic Buffalo Mountain and the silvery waters of Buffalo Creek, was early chosen as an ideal spot for an institution of learning. Before the Civil War a school was established, which was attended by many men who afterward became illustrious in the history, not only of Tennessee, but also of the nation. After the war between the states this school was given the name of Buffalo Institute, and numbered among its students both "Bob" and "Alf" Taylor, as well as other men who achieved prominence in national and civic life. During this time the institution was largely under the direction of Colonel Barker, a man whose talented and lovable character gave its impress to the history of the college. Thus Milligan College has wrought through the vicissitudes of almost three-quarters of a century. In 1875 a young man from Kentucky, by the name of Josephus Hopwood, came to Carter County in search of a place to found an institution of learning built upon the broad foundation of Christian culture, a clean heart and a clean life. Buffalo Institute was turned over to him, and in 1881 the old name was changed to Milligan College, after the sainted-character whose life history is familiar to all Disciples of Christ. Professor Hopwood always regarded Robert Milligan as the highest embodiment of ideal manhood that he had met, and therefore named the college, which he designed as an instrument for the development of Christian character among men and women, after his beloved teacher. President Hopwood's twenty-three years of disinterested, unselfish service for God and the world, is written, not in books nor upon marble, but in the lives and hearts of hundreds of men and women who are scattered all over America, and who are blessing humanity because they were given high ideals of life at Milligan College. Many privations were endured during these years—privations known only to those who bore them and to the Recording Angel who wrote them down.

Almost four hundred students have been graduated from Milligan College since the class left its halls in 1882. A host of young men and women who were not able to complete their education were also instructed during this period. The aim of the college has been toward higher ideals, not only of character, but also of scholarship, and the work has been constantly graded up with this end in view. Where honesty of purpose is inculcated, there will be thoroughness of work; and this has always been true of Milligan men and women, as the records of the alumni clearly disclose.

Grounds and Buildings

THE CAMPUS

The historic campus of Milligan College is richly endowed by nature and universally admired. The beautiful groves of trees, the graceful driveways, with clumps of shrubbery on either side, the winding creek with the giant oaks on the hillside and the mountains round about—altogether constitute an imposing scene of unusual beauty.

The College Hill serves as a natural amphitheatre over-looking the level valley extending along the banks of the Buffalo. No more beautiful scene can be found and no better field for outdoor sports could be desired. A standard one-quarter mile running track has been constructed and the natural amphitheatre has been equipped with modern stadium facilities. As an athletic field this part of the campus is unsurpassed.

WATER SUPPLY

The foothills and valleys of East Tennessee are far-famed for pure, fresh water springs. One of the purest and finest of these springs furnishes the water for Milligan College. Upon a neighboring hill has been crected a two hundred thousand gallon reservoir. This reservoir is concrete, completely closed in, and in every way perfectly sanitary. Into it is pumped each day fresh water from the spring. The spring used by Milligan College is enclosed in a modern, sanitary concrete house built under government supervision. Thus the water is protected at every point from exposure to the danger of disease germs. This arrangement constitutes one of the finest assets of the entire institution.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

A handsome and commodious brick edifice now occupies the exact spot upon which, in the year 1867, was erected a modest brick structure, the first real building of Milligan College. This spot of earth has, in the meantime, become classic, historic, and to many people almost sacred. The first building crected here was very modest, but judged by the work it has accomplished, the standards it has set, the ideals it has upheld, the stalwart men and women it has sent out into service, it is now befitting to regard this small structure as a sort of living prophecy running through the years. And now the greatest satisfaction arises from the fact that the prophecy is fulfilled in the present modern, massive, brick structure, so imposing in all of its appointments. The building is 80 feet by 125 feet and presents four fronts, facing respectively the four cardinal points of the compass. Each front is provided with a comfortable and attractive entrance. The east and west entrances are gained through magnificent colonial porches. porches have massive gray brick columns which lend character and distinctiveness to the entire building. This building has been erected at an approximate cost of one hundred thousand dollars. The class rooms, offices, and auditorium are equipped with new and up-to-date furnishings throughout.

The building has its own heating unit, also the very best of electric lighting. For comfort, convenience, and utility a better building would be difficult to find among the colleges of the South.

LIBRARY

Students have access to a library of good books. New and up-to-date books are being constantly added to the library. Two thousand dollars have been set aside as an annual appropriation to be used in the supply of new reference books bearing upon the subjects taught. The tables in the reading rooms are regularly supplied with standard magazines and periodicals. The collection includes practically all of the leading publications of the day. The new library quarters on the second floor of the administration building comprising two spacious rooms, with a large stack room adjoining, afford a delightful and convenient place for study and research. The library constitutes a real work-shop of the institution during the day and in the evenings.

LABORATORIES

The laboratories of the departments of Physics, Chemistry and Biology are fully equipped, enabling them to meet all requirements, and placing Milligan College among the best equipped institutions in these subjects.

PARDEE HALL

Located upon a commanding elevation to the east of Hardin Hall, and overlooking the entire college campus, stands Pardee Hall for men. It faces the majestic Buffalo Mountain and affords the finest possible view of the beautiful valley on either side. This building measures 50 feet by 132 feet. It is made of the same kind of brick as the Administration building, exhibits the same general architectural plan, and fits admirably into the building scheme. The trimmings are also of subdued gray, matching the heavy colonial brick columns on the porch. To the left of Buffalo Mountain lies a quiet, beautiful valley presenting a most charming bit of scenery. At the farther end of this valley the fluted mountains rise one above another until they are lost from view in the beautiful blue horizon of the "Old North State."

Pardee Hall is provided with an individual heating plant sufficient to maintain a perfectly comfortable temperature in the severest weather. Each floor is supplied with an abundance of fresh water. Ample equipment is provided in the way of lavatories, shower baths, and other conveniences. The building is equipped with the best type of modern electric lighting. Each room has a built-in clothes press, modern enameled single beds and comfortable mattresses throughout.

HARDIN HALL

This commodious Girls' Dormitory was built in 1913. It is also situated so as to command a superb view. From the front veranda Buffalo Mountain and Sunset Peak, with creek and valleys in foreground, present a beautiful panorama. Hardin Hall is a three-story brick structure with office for the Dean of Women and parlors on the first floor. The building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Each bedroom contains a clothes press and has hot and cold water. This already attractive home has been renovated and remodeled. The walls are redecorated; a fire-place has been installed, and reception room and parlors have been enlarged. These changes add greatly to the beauty and convenience of the building.

PRESIDENT'S HOME

A modern eight-room brick bungalow, standing near the main entrance to the grounds, is the President's Home.

J. O. CHEEK ACTIVITY BUILDING

Looking to the physical development of the entire student body, Milligan College has recently erected a large and attractive gymnasium. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest developers, rope ladders, parallel bars, and other fixtures.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium. Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and held at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and women of the college.

The building further possesses a pair of Brunswick Bowling Alleys. On the same floor are large and airy locker rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as lecture room, storage room, drying rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of modern living quarters for members of the faculty and a limited dormitory space for men.

To the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, together with other outdoor sports such as track and tennis are to be added, also swimming, bowling, and various other forms of exercise and recreation made possible by a complete physical equipment.

Special Advantages

HEALTHFULNESS OF LOCATION

Eastern Tennessee, Western North Carolina, and Southwestern Virginia abound in health resorts. The Western slopes, the valleys and foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, are far-famed, not alone for their grandeur and beauty, but for their bracing atmosphere, salubrious climate, and superb healthfulness.

Milligan College has an elevation of one thousand seven hundred and forty feet—quite above the malaria zone.

Buffalo Mountain, four miles to the southwest, is four thousand feet high. Roan Mountain, twelve miles to the east, is six thousand feet—reaching just above the timber belt. Mount Mitchell, the highest peak in America east of the Rockies, is only forty miles away.

The climate is temperate, perhaps the most perfect illustration of that of the temperate zone. The mountain peaks here and there with deep gorges and valleys between them, serve as breakers against storms, tornadoes, and the cold blasts of winter. In summer the same topography affords a breeze as unfailing as the seashore. The extreme heat from which other sections suffer is unknown here. In fact Milligan College has often been pronounced a delightful summer resort.

This favored section of Tennessee, with modern railroad facilities, would seem to possess every possible physical advantage for school life.

PROXIMITY TO JOHNSON CITY

Milligan College is only ten minutes from Johnson City, a most enterprising and thrifty city, and thirty minutes from Elizabethton, the county seat of Carter County.

The Memphis-to-Bristol Highway connecting Johnson City and Bristol passes the Milligan College campus. Comfortable and inexpensive transportation is afforded by regular bus lines running on schedule time. Regular busses are available at almost any hour of the day, and special runs can be arranged at any time.

Milligan College is just sufficiently removed from Johnson City to enjoy absolute freedom from any form of diversion or detraction of city life; at the same time the college enjoys all the advantages of the city, since it is only a ten minute car ride from the business section.

Johnson City is the type of town most favorable to student life. It is noted for its unusually high-class citizenship; bears the reputation of being the best church-going city in the South; is exceptionally clean and wholesome in morals; and has up-to-date shopping advantages.

The great Southern trunk railway lines cross the C., C. and O. railway at Johnson City, affording ready traveling facilities in any direction. The E. T. & W. N. C. railroad has its terminal and general headquarters in Johnson City.

Johnson City is within 14 hours of Washington, D. C.; within 19 hours of New York City. Toward the south and west one reaches Spartanburg, Memphis, St. Petersburg and intervening points of interest within a day's travel.

Milligan College combines the advantages of quiet seclusion and yet remains in quick and easy touch with the world of affairs.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT

One among the first questions raised by prospective patrons and students of a college is the question of board. And well may it be so. No student body can obtain the same health, contentment, and intellectual progress with inferior boarding facilities. Milligan College realizes this fact and strives to make the boarding department a distinctive feature. The meals are uniformly well prepared and well served. The best quality of every article used is purchased. No substitutes or second-grade products are allowed. Patrons and visitors have always expressed satisfaction. The management of the boarding department spares no pains or labor to give the best food that can be procured and at the same time keep the price within the reach of all.

The meal hour at Milligan is not without its educational and cultural value. A polite and courtly bearing is maintained in the dining room at all times. A teacher presides at each table, and strives to make the dining hour a pleasing social feature in the life of the student.

A special opportunity is here afforded to cultivate good manners and the finer graces. Non-resident students are all expected to take their meals at the college dining hall unless by special permission.

Habits of regularity and promptness are formed by requiring attendance at every meal.

Students are not expected to bring guests to the college without permission.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

All applications for rooms must be accompanied by a deposit fee of $5.00 to insure the room being held for the applicant. This fee applies toward the first semester's expense. If the applicant decides after August 15th, not to enter Milligan College, this fee is not returnable. Application blanks will be furnished by the college on request.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG WOMEN

- 1. In addition to blankets, sheets, towels, pillows, etc., otherwise mentioned in the bulletin, page 35, all young women must provide themselves with bathrobe, bed-room slippers, laundry bag, hot water bottle, umbrella, walking shoes with military heels, dresser scarf, table cover, glass, plate, knife, fork, spoon.
- 2. A young women who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, although she may not have broken any formal rule of the school.
- 3. Young women will not be allowed to spend the night away from the dormitory except by permission of the parents mailed direct to the Dean of Women.
- 4. Such permission as mentioned in number three will not be granted more than once during the semester.
- 5. Parents may not give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school. Young women wishing to visit at the close of the semester must obtain written permission from parents.
 - 6. The sending of candy and boxes of food is strongly discouraged.
- 7. Believing in the value of a period of rest, reflection, and letterwriting, the hour from two to three on Sunday afternoon, known as the "quiet hour," is set apart for the purpose. Each young woman is required to spend this hour in her own room.

- 8. Young women are under college regulations from the moment of their arrival until their departure. Young women will not be allowed to remain at the college after the close of school.
- 9. Each girl will be subject to a physical examination upon entering school and a general health program will be followed throughout the year.
- 10. A gymnasium suit consisting of black bloomers, black hose, black middy tie, white blouse and white tennis shoes is necessary for all gymnasium and field work, together with a regulation bathing suit consisting of grey cotton material for those using the pool. These are to be purchased at the College Book Store.
- 11. Only conservative evening dresses will be worn. Dresses worn on all occasions will be approved by the Dean of Women.
- 12. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays, with dinner on Sundays, 75 cents.

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG MEN

- 1. All young men must provide themselves with sheets, pillow cases, extra pair of blankets, towels, napkins.
- 2. Excuse for absence from any required school exercise, such as chapel, study period, church meals, etc., must invariably be procured in advance.
- 3. A young man who is found to be out of sympathy with the spirit and ideals of the school may be asked to withdraw, even though he has violated no express rule of the school.
- 4. Students will not be allowed to keep automobiles while in attendance at the college, except for business purposes.
- 5. Each occupant of a room in the boys' dormitories will deposit with the treasurer at the opening of the school year a fee of five dollars as a deposit for keys and room damage.
- 6. The use of tobacco in any form is strongly discouraged and is forbidden in the buildings and on the campus.
- 7. Students bringing guests to the dining room, with the exception of parents, and without previous arrangements, will be expected to pay for the meals at the rate of 35 cents per meal on week days and 50 cents per meal on Sundays, with dinner on Sundays, 75 cents.
 - 8. All hazing is forbidden at Milligan College.
 - 9. The use of liquor is absolutely forbidden at Milligan College.

Policies and Regulations

General Information

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT AND GOVERNMENT

Great care is given to the cultivation of high ideals and good habits. The environment of the College is exceptionally free from anything morally or socially unwholesome. Subject to the general supervision of the faculty, men are under the personal oversight of the Dean of Men; and women are under the oversight of the Dean of Women.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Students are subject to college regulations from the beginning of the College year to the close of commencement week. A few fundamental principles of justice, kindness, self-control, and honor, underlie the regulations of Milligan College. The Milligan College group of students are a selected company with high ideals of the dignity of true manhood and womanhood. Discourtesy, profanity, rudeness, unkindness, and annoying conduct is a stamp of the uncultured and does not belong to the Milligan circle. In all public gatherings, in churches, chapel, parlors or class rooms, it is the policy of Milligan College to maintain strictest adherence to the rights of all.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The religious life of Milligan College is as nearly as possible like that in the refined Christian home. On each recitation day, devotional exercises are held in the College Chapel. The Sunday evening service is under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. There is also a young women's circle which meets once a month; a number of prayer groups among the men are organized and maintained by the students themselves. On Wednesday night, prayer meeting is conducted for the college and community. These keep up the spiritual interest and train young men and young women in a helpful Christian service. All students are required to attend morning chapel, Bible School, and Sunday morning church service. Students who are unwilling thus to place themselves in a Christian atmosphere should not apply for admission to Milligan College. It is not the desire of the college to enforce religious activities, but to select those students who enjoy a wholesome spiritual atmosphere in college life.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

Social relationships may constitute an invaluable part of a real education, or it may become a serious handicap to intellectual progress. Whether the one or the other obtains is a matter of regulation. As in the home, so in the college, no one doubts the mutual and reciprocal advantages, to both boys and girls, arising from well regulated association with each other. There is a certain fineness, grace, and ease of bearing which can come from no other source. It is the policy of the college to provide and direct in detail under proper regulation, and chaperonage, every feature of social life. The young men under no circumstances are to loiter about the girls' dormitory or molest the young women in their play, recreation or study. At all times a perfectly straight-forward and business-like attitude must be maintained. No social function will be arranged until after consultation with the Dean of Women.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

The administration feels that a sacred trust has been imposed upon it by friends and donors in their generous gifts which have made possible these new buildings and equipment. The gravest possible responsibility devolves upon all alike to conserve for others the full benefit of these large benefactions thus represented by the new college plant. This obligation is met only when every part of the institution is maintained in its present neat and attractive condition. To take, to destroy, or to abuse property, is as grave a moral offense in a college community as elsewhere. Property rights are always to be respected whether the values involved are great or small. A deposit is required from each applicant for admission to the college at the time of matriculation to cover damages to property. This deposit is forfeited in the event of damage whether such damage be accidental or otherwise. Each occupant of a room is at all times responsible, not alone for his conduct in his room, but for the condition in which the room and its furnishings are kept. As a matter of protection to property, the use of tobacco in any form is strictly prohibited in the buildings.

USE OF TOBACCO

Tobacco users are less efficient both on the athletic grounds and in the class rooms. A student who uses tobacco will not be entered in the ministerial course of study. It is also the policy of the college to prohibit the use of tobacco about the college buildings or grounds or around any public gatherings and to urge students to discontinue its use altogether.

OUESTIONS OF ECONOMY

Simplicity in dress is particularly becoming a student while in college, as it saves time, energy, and thought,—valuable for other and higher uses.

Conspicuous dressing has never contributed to a liberal education. Parents are urged to co-operate with the college in keeping down all needless expense.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF HELP

The college will use students for all different forms of work, in the buildings and on the campus. Students thus employed will receive compensation according to their efficiency, and general value to the college.

No teaching positions are open. Those receiving employment will be expected to maintain an average grade of C. All students applying for aid should furnish recommendations from their teachers, or resident pastor. All financial arrangements must be made with the President. All students employed by the college are especially obligated to conform to the policies of the college cheerfully and encourage others to do so.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Milligan College offers exceptional advantages to students preparing for the Christian ministry. Extensive courses are offered in Biblical and related subjects. The Ministerial Association furnishes opportunity for practical development as well as helpful fellowship among the ministerial group. Numerous churches within easy reach of the college, many of which depend upon students for supply, enable students not only to secure needed preaching experience, but also to defray a part of the college expenses. All student preaching is fostered by the Dean of the Bible Department.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR TEACHERS

Milligan College offers to students and graduates work which will lead to the securing of a Professional Certificate as follows:

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATE

High School. A permanent professional certificate will be issued to the applicant for the position of high school teacher who is a graduate of Milligan College and who has completed at least eighteen semester hours in education as prescribed by the State Commissioner and State Board of Education. Such certificates shall certify the subjects the holder is entitled to teach; and no applicant shall be licensed to teach any subject in which he or she has a credit of less than twelve semester hours.

Note:—Milligan College will recommend to the Tennessee State Department of Education for consideration as education credits the following courses only, viz: Introductory Psychology 21-22, three hours, together with all courses in Education taught by the Education Department of Milligan College.

HONOR SCHOLARSHIIPS

Milligan College maintains an honor "Scholarship" equal in value to one-half actual college expenses less all fees, for the honor graduate of every Standard Class A High School. This "Scholarship" is offered with two objects in view:

First—To stimulate and encourage better work in the High Schools. Second—To secure a select type of students for the college.

Since the student body of Milligan College is limited in number, it is desirable by this means to maintain the highest possible personnel. Students who hold this "Scholarship" must manifest a high character and loyal college spirit, as well as maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than B.

GENERAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships, of varying value, are provided by generous individuals for the purpose of aiding young men and women, who are in need of help to secure an education. All of these scholarships represent opportunities for self-help; and students, who are beneficiaries of such scholarships, will be called upon to perform in return such service for the college as will not seriously interfere with their studies. To retain the benefits of these scholarships, the beneficiaries must maintain an average grade in their studies of not lower than C, and also perform their assigned scholarship work to the satisfaction of the college. Scholarship students are urged not to enroll for more than sixteen academic hours.

MINISTERIAL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS

Milligan College offers to all worthy ministerial students, who need it, a Ministerial Service Scholarship. This scholarship is worth approximately one half of the student's actual expenses. The service, rendered in return for this kind of scholarship, will be with the churches located near Milligan College, and will be performed under the direction of the Dean of the Bible Department. So far as appears advisable freshmen and special ministerial students, who do not hold scholarships, will be helped in securing preaching appointments. Blanks to be used in applying for the Ministerial Service Scholarship may be secured upon request by addressing the President or Dean of the Bible Department, Milligan College, Tennessee.

CLASS ROOM SLOGAN

A distinctive class room policy of Milligan College is expressed in the following slogan, viz: "Every student at every recitation with a prepared lesson."

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ABSENCE FROM CLASSES

Milligan College makes provision for absences from classes in which a student is regularly enrolled upon the following bases:

- 1. Absences from classes may be excused by the Deans and Registrar on the grounds indicated below:
 - (1). The illness of a student.
 - (2). The severe illness or death of a near relative of a student.
 - (3). The student's being selected as a representative of the college in some extra-mural activity, such as inter-collegiate debate, oratorical, literary, or athletic contest.
 - (4). Circumstances over which the student has no control.
- 2. For every fifteen absences, accumulated during the college course, one-half a semester hour will be deducted from the student's total number of credit hours to date. If a student leaves college before graduation the deduction will be made from those courses in which grades are low.
- 3. One unexecused absence counts the same as three excused absences.
- 4. If a student fails in a given course by reason of absences or for any other reason, the absences in that course will not be counted in the total of accumulated absences.
- 5. Students who represent the college abroad in athletics, oratorical or literary contests, debates, etc., may have such absences canceled upon a written request from his or her Dean. This written request will be filed at the Registrar's Office within forty-eight hours after the student returns to classes.
- 6. Unexcused absences from any class during its last recitation before, or its first recitation after, a regular holiday or vacation will count double.
- 7. Absences due to late matriculation or enrollment will be regarded as excused and counted in the total.
- 8. No student is excused from collegiate attendance until the Commencement exercises close.
- Note—1. Teachers will report daily to the Registrar the absentees from their classes by leaving reports at the Registrar's Office.
- 2. Teachers will also report the number of absences of all students with each report of grades, both for the nine weeks periods and for the semesters.

FACULTY REGULATIONS

The statements in this catalogue are for the direction of the college, and no departure from these statements will be made except by action of the faculty.

TEXTROOKS

Textbooks may be purchased from the college bookstore. Terms are strictly cash. Books may often be secured second-hand, thus reducing expense.

DAILY PROGRAM

Rising bell rings at 6:30 (Sunday, 7:00). Breakfast, 7:00 (Sunday, 7:30). First class bell, 7:35. Chapel, 9:35 to 10:00. Class hours follow chapel until 1:00. Dinner, 1:00 p. m. Supper, 5:45 o'clock.

Student Organizations

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The literary organizations contribute much to student development. Opportunity is afforded for the exercise of initiative, for the development of co-operation in teamwork, and for the study and discussion of vital problems.

There are four well organized and efficient literary societies maintained by the student body of the college. These are the American Literary Society and the Athenian Literary Society for young men; the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ossolian Literary Society for young women. These societies have halls which have been equipped by their own initiative, and in which great pride is maintained. The above organizations do a character of work very helpful to those participating. Young men and women chosen for inter-collegiate oratorical contests, debates, etc., are recommended to the faculty by the literary organizations. All students entering Milligan College are encouraged to become active members in one or the other of the organizations. These societies meet once each year in inter-society debate. The inter-society debates are preliminary to the annual inter-collegiate debates and are held not later than December looking toward the inter-collegiate debates which come in the Spring Semester.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The life of Milligan College is greatly benefited by the Musical Organizations among teachers and students. Among these organizations will be found a band, an orchestra, and a glee club. Students with musical talent find in these organizations delightful opportunity for development. Students who possess musical instruments should be certain to bring them.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

Among the active religious organizations are: The Ministerial Association; The Student Volunteer Band; Senior Christian Endeavor; and the Prayer Meetings. These together with church activities and Sunday School, afford exceptional opportunities for religious training. The College Prayer Room, devoted to the spiritual uplift of the student body, furnishes a quiet place not only for meditation and prayer, but also for the meetings of the Ministerial Association and Missionary Volunteer Band.

DRAMATIC CLUB

For the cultivation of Dramatic Art and dramatic taste, as well as, for the discovery and development of whatever talent the student body may possess, a dramatic club is maintained throughout the year under the direction of the teacher of Expression. The value and popularity of this club have made it necessary to have a Senior and Junior organization. The Senior organization, "The Masque" is composed of students who have had one year's resident work in the Junior group of the Dramatic Club, and have appeared in one major or three minor roles. The Junior organization is the workshop from which new material is chosen. At intervals during the year the club renders programs which exhibit fine, artistic work. The club members write, study and produce plays. The club holds monthly meetings and is a valuable asset in the development of the student body.

ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS

The Athletic Organizations, are under the direction and supervision of the Faculty through the Faculty Athletic Committee. It is the purpose of the committee to co-operate with the student managers and to encourage and safeguard all athletic activities. All inter-collegiate athletic activities conform strictly to the requirements of the "Smoky Mountain Athletic Conference," of which Milligan College is a charter member. This conference proposes to eliminate from college athletics all favoritism and professionalism; to foster the spirit of true sportsmanship in athletic contests; to place the membership of competing teams on a basis of merit and scholarship.

THE "M" CLUB

One of the recent organizations in Milligan College is known as the "M" Club. This club includes all who win the privilege of wearing the official "M" by virtue of athletic ability in any of the forms of athletics conducted in Milligan College. The Club fosters clean and wholesome athletic principles and stands unflinchingly for real and meritorious sportsmanship.

FORENSIC CLUB

The students of Milligan College maintain an organization known as the Forensic Club. This club constitutes one of the most active and valuable factors in the life of the men and women of the college. The club sponsors a number of inter-collegiate debates and oratorical contests. Through the efforts of this club, Milligan College now holds membership in the Tennessee Oratorical League.

Student Activities

DEBATES

Every year Milligan College has a number of inter-collegiate debates. In these debates training in argumentation is given to both men and women. An appropriate pin is given in recognition of participation in debate. These pins are awarded through the courtesy of Mr. Henry M. Johnson, a trustee of the college.

CROUCH ORATORICAL CONTEST

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, of Johnson City, Tennessee, offers prizes of fifteen dollars and ten dollars for the best and second to best orations prepared and delivered by young men of the college. The date for this contest is February 22. Competitors for the Crouch Oratorical Contest are chosen by the Men's Literary Societies. The winner of the Crouch Contest becomes the representative of Milligan College to the State Oratorical Contest conducted by the East Tennessee Oratorical Association of which Milligan College is a member. The State Contest usually occurs in April.

LUCAS READING CONTEST

Mrs. Annie Lee Kennedy (Lucas) of Clifton Forge, Va., offers prizes of ten dollars and five dollars for the best two readings given by young women of the college. This occurs early in March in the College Chapel.

PUBLICATIONS

The students of Milligan College print two publications, one a monthly and the other an annual. The former is known as The Stampede, and like all newspapers, it gives the news of the college for the information of both the student body and the friends of the college.

The Buffalo is the annual publication, serving the usual purpose of such publications, and makes an excellent souvenir of college days.

Parents and Students

Borrowing and lending money is considered bad practice and is strongly discouraged.

No student will be excused either to leave early before a holiday or to return late thereafter.

Students will not be permitted to buy at or visit any store or eating place unless such is registered and approved by the State Board of Health and the Faculty.

Students and Faculty are strongly urged not to patronize business places open on Sunday.

The student whose connection with the college is severed either by Faculty or by his own volition must leave immediately.

Students irregular upon college or other duties cannot succeed and will be asked to withdraw from the college altogether.

Students from a distance will reside only in such buildings as are approved by the Faculty.

All tuition and fees are to be paid the first of the semester in advance. An additional charge of 20 per cent will be made if all bills are not settled within three days after due.

Students entering later than September 24 or February 6 will not be allowed to participate in the Inter-Collegiate games, contests or debates.

Students entering later than September 24 or February 6 will be given reduced credit for work done.

Young men and young women visiting students will be subject to all college regulations.

Students boarding in the Dormitory will be required to obtain permission from the Dean of Women before inviting visitors.

Milligan College is in no sense a reform school, nor is it a retreat for mental sluggards. Only such students as are in earnest about the matter of an education are invited; and only such can expect to be retained.

EXPENSES

The topic, "Expenses," is always of special interest. It has never been possible for a Christian College to provide for its annual budget out of income from money received from students. The rates are so low at Milligan College that more than half must be provide by gifts from churches and individuals. Milligan College has not kept pace with the general rapid advance in prices.

All tuition fees, room rent and board must be paid in advance before a student may enroll in any classes. There will be strictly one rate for all.

All rooms will be furnished with bed and mattress, two chairs, wash stand, and study table. Other furnishings must be brought from home. Students should bring sheets, pillows, pillow cases, towels, napkins; and extra blankets.

No examinations will be given to students whose expenses are not paid in full.

The College

Admission of Students

TYPE OF STUDENT DESIRED

Milligan College does not pose as a reform school. There will be no welcome for the young man or woman who requires special discipline. It will be necessary for all students who are not acquainted with some member of the Faculty to bring with them a letter of recommendation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR COLLEGE ENTRANCE

The unit employed in measuring work for College entrance is the equivalent of five recitations per week, throughout the school year. A course in English, for example, which recites five times per week during the year, will count as one unit. At least fifteen units are required for admission without condition. The fifteen units must include the following:

1.	ENGLISH3 units
	 3 units minimum; 4 maximum: 1 unit Grammar and Composition. 2 units of literature to comprise ten classics, carefully read in class, and four classics studied in class.
2.	FOREIGN LANGUAGE2 units
	2 units minimum: Latin, French, Greek, Spanish, or German. Two years are required in the same language before credit is given in that language.
3.	HISTORY1 unit
	1 unit minimum; 4 maximum: Ancient History, Medieval History, Advanced American History, Civics.
4.	MATHEMATICS 2½ units
	2½ units minimum; 3½ maximum: Following required: Algebra, 1½ units; Plane Geometry, 1 unit. Following elective: Solid Geometry, ½ unit; Trigonometry, ½ unit; Algebra, ½ unit.
5.	SCIENCE1 unit
	1 unit minimum; 4 maximum: 1 unit of a laboratory science, required from the following: Chemistry, 1 unit; Physics, 1 unit; Biology, 1 unit.

TOTAL _____15 units

ENTRANCE BY CERTIFICATE

1. From Secondary Schools. Graduates from secondary schools applying for admission to Milligan College, who offer not less than the fifteen units prescribed above for college entrance, including the specific entrance requirements by departments will be admitted without condition upon presentation of a certified transcript of credits issued by the secondary school where the applicant graduated. This transcript must be sent direct from the office of the secondary school to the Registrar of Milligan College not later than two weeks after the opening day of the college semester.

Applicants who present not less than the fifteen units necessary to college entrance, but who may lack any of the subjects prescribed by Milligan College for entrance will be required to satisfy the deficiency by the end of the Sophomore year. The deficiency will not be regarded as satisfied until the nine and one-half units listed on page 39 are completed including the specific entrance requirements by departments. To assist in satisfying entrance deficiencies conditioned students will be assigned tutors approved by the faculty.

To remove an entrance condition in any subject that is regularly taught in the college, the student will enroll in the college course and will be given credit on the following basis: Four semester hours of a college subject is equal to one unit of high school credit. Such work will be taken in addition to the regular requirements for graduation from college.

2. From Higher Institutions. Applicants for admission to Milligan College, claiming credit earned in other institutions and desiring advanced standing, must furnish a transcript of the credits claimed, properly endorsed by the school last attended, together with a statement of honorable dismissal. This transcript with statement of honorable dismissal must be sent direct from the office of the school issuing the transcript to the Registrar of Milligan College.

ENTRANCE BY EXAMINATION

Applicants for admission to Milligan College not able to satisfy the entrance requirements by certificate will be given entrance examinations upon request.

MATRICULATION

The first day of each semester is matriculation day when all students will make arrangements for entering classes. New students must first present to the Registrar their entrance credentials and when advanced standing is desired also certified credentials from the college last attended. Further steps to matriculation are:

- 1. Students will secure and fill out in full with the help of one of the Advisory Professors a registration card.
- 2. This card when complete must be submitted to his Dean (or her Dean) and to the President of the college for their approval.
- 3. The students will then pay to the Treasurer of the college all tuition and other fees.
- 4. Students must leave a copy of the registration card and also of the course card with the Registrar for filing.
- 5. No student may attend classes until these conditions have been met.

Former students matriculating after the regular matriculation days will be charged an additional fee of one dollar per day for the number of days that they are late.

Students matriculating later than two weeks after the first day of matriculation will not receive full credit in any course for that semester.

All changes in courses must be made during the first week of the semester.

All students are required to have at least two classes (Exclusive of laboratory work) every recitation day.

Other details will be announced during the process of registration.

CREDITS AND RE-ENROLLMENT

To safeguard Milligan College against non-studious matriculates and to stimulate students to a high grade of academic attainment, so that the student's membership in the college will be determined largely by his own efforts, the following statement governs in matters of re-enrollment.

- 1. All students securing at least twelve hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be unconditionally enrolled for the succeeding semester.
- 2. All students securing from nine to eleven hours of collegiate credit during any one semester may be provisionally enrolled for the succeeding semester. During this latter semester, however, they must secure at least twelve hours of collegiate credit or lose the privilege of further enrollment.

3. All students securing fewer than nine hours of collegiate credit during the second semester are thereby automatically dropped from the college.

NUMBER OF RECITATIONS PER WEEK

All regular students are required to carry a minimum of fifteen hours of academic work, (sixteen hours being the standard course).

Resident students specializing in the special departments will be required to carry a minimum of twelve hours of academic work.

Twenty hours of academic credit is the maximum for any one semester.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSE

The American Medical Association has established definite requirements for admission to all standard medical schools. These requirements must be met by all students expecting to enter medical college.

These requirements include the regular fifteen entrance units and a minimum of two full years of college work including certain specified subjects. The two years must carry a credit value of at least sixty semester hours.

Milligan College meets in full the above requirements. The students of this course will be accepted by affiliated medical colleges.

The required subjects are as follows:

Chemistry 11-12

Biology 11-12

Mathematics 11-12 French 11-12 or German 11-12

English 11-12 Organic Chemistry 101-102

MAJORS AND MINORS

In addition to the above requirements students must have completed for graduation at least one major subject of not fewer than 24 semester hours, and two minor subjects of not fewer than 12 semester hours each. The major must consist of courses pursued in one department of the college. The minors must be chosen in related fields subject to the approval of the professor in whose department the major is taken. The major course must be chosen and approved with the minors not later than the end of the sophomore year.

Candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree will elect one of the following groups to meet the Major and Minor requirement for graduation:

- (1). Major_____Chemistry.
 Minors_____Biology and Mathematics.
- (2). Major_____Biology.
 Minors____Chemistry and Mathematics.

OUALITY POINTS

Besides the number of hours, together with the Major and Minors required for graduation, candidates for a Baccalaureate degree must earn at least 124 quality points on academic work if Physical Education credit is granted, but 128 quality points if no Physical Education credit is earned, which are awarded as follows:

A grade of A is given three quality points for each hour of academic credit.

A grade of B is given two quality points for each hour of academic credit.

A grade of C is given one quality point for each hour of academic credit.

A grade of D is given no quality points.

MINISTERIAL COURSE—A. B. DEGREE

To obtain the Bachelor of Arts Degree, Ministerial students must satisfy the regular requirements for graduation. From the fifty-one hours of electives, they should choose courses in the Bible and related subjects.

SENIOR RESIDENCE RULE

All candidates for degrees applying from other institutions must spend at least their Senior year, represented by not fewer than thirty semester hours in resident study at Milligan College.

SENIOR PAPER

A Senior Paper is required of each candidate for a degree. The subject and general outline of the paper must be submitted and approved at least one semester before the student's graduation. The paper must also be accepted by a professor in whose department it is written, and a typewritten copy of the same must be furnished the library.

ENGLISH DEFICIENCY

Students are expected to maintain a satisfactory standard of oral and written English throughout the college course. Any student who is reported, by a member of the faculty, as being deficient in English will be required to take without credit such further work in English as may be directed.

STANDARDS OF CLASSIFICATION

To become a member of each class a student must have the following credits, and resident work:

Freshman-15 H. S. Units.

Sophomore—15 H. S. Units, and 26 Semester hours of college work, and 2 Semesters of resident work.

Junior—15 H. S. Units, and 58 Semester hours of college work, and 4 Semesters of resident work.

Senior—15 H. S. Units, and 92 Semester hours of college work, and 6 Semesters of resident work.

To graduate—15 H. S. Units, and 128 Semester hours of college credit, and 8 Semesters of resident work.

If a student does not make the required number of hours to become a member of a higher class, he remains a member of the lower class and is not put into the unclassified group.

The Registrar's book is the official record of classification.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Attendance is required at examinations in all courses. The faculty has ruled that an examination may be taken at another than the regular time, after the student secures permission from his or her Dean and pays the fee of one dollar to the College Registrar. The receipt for the one dollar presented to the professor constitutes permission to hold the examination.

Work for which credit is given is indicated by the grades A, B, C, D, the last being the lowest passing grade. E indicates condition, F indicates failure. The passing grades signify the character of the student's work as follows: A is excellent; B is good; C is average; D is poor; E is incomplete in some respect, necessitating further work to secure a credit grade. F is definitely unsatisfactory so that the course must be repeated in class to receive credit.

In the interest of definiteness and uniformity of grading the following numerical value is assigned for the grade letters:

A, 92 to 100; B, 83-91; C, 74-82; D, 65-73; F, below 65.

A condition on work done the first semester of any year may be removed the second semester by the student making arrangements with the professor in charge, within two weeks after the beginning of the second semester according to one of the following plans: 1. By completing all necessary incomplete work within six weeks after the beginning of the semester. 2. By passing a satisfactory re-examination within six weeks after the beginning of the semester. 3. By doing superior work during the second semester sufficient to merit passing the work for both semesters.

Description of Courses of Study

EXPLANATION

The courses in the following description are arranged in four groups according to the rank which they hold as being open to Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors or Seniors. Thus, courses numbered 1-50 are open to Freshmen; courses 51-100 to Sophomores; courses 101-150 to Juniors; and courses 151-200 to Seniors. Courses carrying odd numbers are offered the first semester; those carrying even numbers, the second semester. Courses whose numbers are joined by hyphen (Eg. 11-12) represent a year's work and must be carried for both semesters. All courses not so numbered are complete in themselves and may be taken either semester independently of the other. All courses are open to students whose rank is indicated by the number of the course and also to students of higher rank. Students, however, are urged to choose courses in the year in which they are listed.

Department of Economics and Business Administration

The course of study here outlined is not assumed to prepare students fully for specific business positions, but it does give a general grounding in business principles and practices. It is such a course as will enable the student quickly to understand and make progress in the specific fields of business enterprise and to hasten his promotion from lower to higher positions in the business world.

Conditions for admission to this department are the same as apply to the college as a whole.

Students who offer French or German for entrance may take advanced work in the language or languages already studied or may take two full years in some other foreign language in this college. No credit is given for a language taken less than two years. It is recommended that the student arrange to have his foreign language requirement include two modern foreign languages. After taking six hours of foreign language, students who are taking only advanced foreign language in this college may substitute science or mathematics for the additional six hours.

Department of Physics

Physics 51-52.

Physics 51. General Physics. The fundamental principles of mechanics, sound, and heat, are treated. Class room instruction is given by textbook, recitation, problems, and experimental demonstration. In the laboratory each student performs experiments upon which written reports are required at the end of each week. Prerequisite, a knowledge of solid geometry and of the triginometry of the right triangle. Fee $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Rec. Tues., Thur. Third period. Lab., Mon., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Thompson.

Physics 52. General Physics. A continuation of Physics 51, covering the elements of electricity and magnetism, and light. Fee $5.00. Cash deposit, $5.00. Rec. Tues., Thur. Third period. Lab., Mon., Fri. First and Second periods. Four hours. Professor Thompson.

Department of Physical Education

Physical Education is required for the full four years of the college course. Each student must carry during each semester at least one course for the purpose of physical exercise. It will be necessary to meet this requirement before academic credit is released for work taken during the semester. The Physical Education requirement may be met by:

- (1) Enrolling for Physical Education courses 11-12 or 51-52. A maximum of four hours credit will be allowed for work done in these courses. These four hours of credit may be counted in the Elective group to meet the requirements for graduation with the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Science in Commerce.
- (2) Re-enrolling in the Physical Education courses 11-12 or 51-52, in order to meet the requirement of physical exercise. If the four hours maximum credit have already been earned in these courses, no credit will be given for the work other than an approval which will release the academic credit for the semester.
- (3) Enrolling for Special Exercise under the supervision of the Director of Physical Education. At the end of the semester an approval will be given for Physical Education by the Director in charge. This approval will release the academic credit for the semester. No credit hours will be given for this work.

Note: See courses listed under Special Exercise page 72.

(4) Engaging in actual physical work around the institution. Such students will be exempt by special arrangement with the Deans of the college and the Physical Director. Students engaging in this work will be given an approval for Physical Education by the Physical Director. This approval will release the academic credit for the semester. No college credit will be given for this work.

Physical Education 11-12 (For Women)

Physical Education 11-12. This is the beginner's class for girls, satisfying the requirements for the first year of physical training.
